SCHOOL TO HOLD THANKSGIVING PROGRAM HERE

"Thanksgiving Through the Ages" is the theme of the Gettysburg High School Thanksgiving assembly to be presented Wednesday at 1 p.m. in the high school auditorium. Miss Ruth McIlhenny is the director. The public is invited.

An original tableau will be presented by Robert Bondurant as Massasoit the Indian, Eugene Meade as William Brewster, leader of the Pilgrims, and Roland Schriver as Gov. William Bradford, second governor at Plymouth.

A skit-cutting from a pageant will portray Mrs. Sara Hale (Dorothy Himes) visiting President Abraham Lincoln (Jon Wagnild) in the White House, asking for the declaration of a national Thanksgiving holiday. Samuel Hartley will appear as Tad Lincoln.

Choir To Sing

The choir, under the direction of Paul Grove, will sing "Prayer of Thanksgiving," "Come Ye Thankful People Come," and "America The Beautiful."

The speech chorus will recite Psalms 100 and 150.

"What America Enjoys Today," a symbolic tableau, will have the following cast: Uncle Sam, Don Moser; Liberty, Shirley Larmer; Harvest, Erika Kaseberg; Justice, Pete Pennington; Free Speech, Forrest Stouck; Wealth, Carolyn Kertman; Opportunity, Nancy Wolff; Labor, Roland Keller; Education, Donald Smith.

Ann Holoka, president of the senior high school student body, will offer a prayer of thanks. Judy Crowl will be the narrator throughout the assembly.

Swisher Is Wounded In Hunting Accident

Raymond Swisher, 23, Fairfield R. 2, was treated this morning at the Warner Hospital for gunshot wounds suffered in a hunting accident early today. Swisher was in satisfactory condition after being peppered with buckshot all over his body. Most extensive wounds were in his hands and arms.

Circumstances surrounding the accident are obscure, but Swisher suspects that he may have been hit with pellets from his brother's gun which was discharged when the latter slipped and fell as the two were hunting rabbits.

VISITING PRESS WELL RECEIVED IN GETTYSBURG

Gettysburg has extended a warm handclasp to the White House press corps, radio and TV crews and others traveling, officially, with the President.

ISAAC MUMMERT DIES FOLLOWING AUTO ACCIDENT

Isaac Mummert, 73, retired farmer and bank director of East Berlin, died in the York hospital Friday evening at 6 o'clock after being struck by a pickup truck driven by Stewart Mehning, 61, Hanover R. 5, as he crossed the Lincoln Highway near the York-New Salem road intersection.

According to State Policeman Erich Bornemann, Mummert had visited his wife, who was a patient at York hospital since Tuesday, and was on his way home when he stopped his car to visit his son, Winfield T. Mummert, York R. 5, who lives along the south side of Lincoln Highway.

Mummert halted his vehicle on the north side of the highway and crossed the westbound lane to the center lane, where he stopped to allow heavy traffic to pass, the policeman said.

Crossing Lane

Mummert started across the east-bound lane and was struck by the truck, Bornemann reported.

Passengers in the truck were John E. Laughman, 43, and his son, Jack, both of Hanover R. 5.

Mummert was taken by Reliance ambulance to the hospital.

Death was caused by head injuries and shock according to York County Coroner Sell, who said he will continue his investigations.

Surviving besides his wife, Mrs. Mabel Mummert, are three children, Winfield Mummert, whom he was visiting; Harry Mummert, East Berlin R. 2, and Mrs. Kermit Ziegler, East Berlin R. 1.

Funeral services Tuesday at 10 a.m. from the Emig Funeral Home, East Berlin. Interment in Holtzschwamm Cemetery, Paradise Twp., with Rev. George A. Clarke, Holtzschwamm Lutheran Church, officiating.

Friends may call at Emig Funeral Home Monday evening.

Dear Mr. Roy:

I'm enclosing One Dollar ($1.00) in cash for the payment of a partial subscription to THE GETTYSBURG TIMES.

Not knowing your monthly rate may I request it be sent to me. Upon receipt, thereafter I'll remit accordingly.

I'm keeping a scrapbook of clippings, pictures, etc., concerning our wonderful Christian President, Dwight D. Eisenhower, and his charming, gracious First Lady Mamie Doud Eisenhower.

I'd appreciate it very much if I might have a copy of THE GETTYSBURG TIMES THAT PUBLISHED THE ARRIVAL OF President and Mrs. Eisenhower at their farm.

Please accept the Best of Wishes for a splendid and increased circulation of THE TIMES.

Sincerely,
(Miss) Cora P. Woodward

TWO LOCAL MEN ARE FINED $300 EACH BY COURT

Wilmer Dracha, 256 E. Middle St., house manager for the American Legion Club here, and Jesse N. Kline, Guernsey, house manager for the local VFW Home Association, were each fined $300 and ordered to pay the costs on charges of establishing gambling places by the Adams County Court this morning.

Sgt. A. J. Swalenski, head of the local substation of the state police, prosecutor in the cases, said he was called September 29 by Liquor Control Board agents to the American Legion who told him they had found evidences of gambling while there. He said he was engaged in the investigation at the legion when the liquor agents called there from the VFW Home to tell him they had evidences of gambling there. He said punch boards, a "fish bowl" and slot machines were found at the legion. The slot machines, he said, apparently were stored and were "covered with dust." He said punch boards and a fish bowl were found at the VFW.

Before imposing sentence, Judge W. C. Sheely said that "the court realizes the defendants are here as representatives of organizations but the organizations must realize the laws must be obeyed."

Deardorff Fined $200

Clarence Ignatius "Pete" Deardorff, Fairfield R. 1, was ordered to pay $200 for the use of the county and the costs on a liquor law violation. He was also ordered to pay $150 for the use of the county and costs on a charge of possessing gambling machines.

Liquor Control Board Agent L. V. Bomgardner told the court that on complaints he had secured a search warrant and had gone to the Deardorff home and that in a washhouse discovered a dismantled 25-gallon still and approximately six ounces of "moonshine." In the house about three ounces of moonshine was discovered he said. He added that there was a barrel which could have been used for mash. State Policeman David K. James, who accompanied Bomgardner on the raid, said he found four slot machines in Deardorff's washhouse which appeared to have been in storage.

Deardorff said that he had been walking in the woods and had discovered some cartons, slot machines and a still and had brought them to his home to dispose of them as junk. The court said it did not believe Deardorff's story.

Two Are Jailed

Ronald R. Orndorff, 19, R. 5, was given a suspended sentence, placed on probation for a year on condition he pay $150 for the use of the county and the costs. He was charged with contributing to the delinquency of four minors by purchasing beer.

YOUTH KILLED WHEN CAR HITS AUTO AND POLE

Albert Bender, 18, of 44 N. Market St., Mt. Carmel, Pa., was fatally injured Friday night at 9:50 o'clock when his car went off the Harrisburg Rd. five miles north of here, struck a parked vehicle, broke off a utility pole and came to rest in a small woods.

Dr. C. G. Crist, Adams County coroner, said Bender died in the ambulance enroute to the Warner Hospital at 10:15 o'clock. Death was caused by a fractured skull.

State Police said Bender and two companions were driving north from Washington, D. C., where all are employed, enroute to Mt. Carmel for the weekend.

George W. Lewis, 33, Gettysburg R. 4, was waiting to drive out a lane at his home onto the Harrisburg Rd. He saw the Bender convertible approaching and stopped his car about four feet from the Harrisburg Rd.

May Have Been Confused

Police believe that Bender may have become confused when he saw the lights of the Lewis car and for some reason braked and drove to the right. The convertible left the road, crossed the lane, striking the right front headlight of Lewis' car.

Bender's vehicle continued on and "just passed through a Metropolitan Edison Co. pole, breaking it off," police said. The car continued on into a field, jumped a two-foot ditch and traveled for 150 feet through a wooded field. Police said that the car did not hit any of the trees.

Bender, according to Dr. Crist, was thrown from the car and was found about 15 feet from it by Lewis and others who went to the scene immediately after the crash.

Bender's two companions, Mary Ann Brezick, 17, 137 Maple St., Mt. Carmel, and Jerry Harold Cahoon, 19, 140 N. Walnut St., Mt. Carmel, suffered only from shock "and the shaking up." Damage totalled $300.

GIRL SCOUTS PLAN SKATING, PROJECT

Girl Scout Troop No. 9 will sponsor a skating party to be held next Friday evening at 7 o'clock at Banker's in Littlestown. It was decided at a meeting Friday afternoon at St. James Lutheran Church. Mrs. William Sentz will be in charge. Girls attending the party will submit permission slips.

Christmas favors for the hospitalized were made by the Scouts at Friday's meeting. Sue Newman and Lucille Miller, members of the troop, will distribute the favors at the hospital.

Gertrude Rowe led the Friendship Circle which concluded the meeting.

Mrs. Gordon Webster, leader, was assisted by Mrs. George Ackerson and Mrs. William Sentz at the meeting.

Two Salesmen Win Trip To Kentucky

John J. Reindollar, of Fairfield, and Donald Myers, of Gettysburg, have been awarded trips to General Electric Appliance Park, Louisville, Ky., where they will be the guests of Raub Supply Co., Lancaster. Reindollar and Myers are among 60 men chosen for "outstanding sales effort." They will leave Sunday. At Appliance Park they will view the new G.E. line.

J. G. Sneeringer, local representative for the Raub Company, made the announcement.

HARVEST HOME FETE SUNDAY

The annual Harvest Home Festival of the Presbyterian Church will be held Sunday night at 7:30 o'clock. The public is invited.

Gifts of food and money will be brought to the church by members of the congregation and Church School in the interest of the Gilliland Presbyterian Home, Gettysburg.

The Senior and Junior Choirs, combined and separately, will sing the following anthems under the direction of Philip E. McGuire and Mrs. Luther I. Sachs Jr.: "Prayer of Thanksgiving," Krenmer; "A Thanksgiving Carol," Wolfe-Curry; "How Lovely Is Thy Dwelling Place," Brahms; "Praise the Lord, O Jerusalem," Mander; "Festival Te Deum," Tiltcomb; "Thanks Be To Thee," Handel-Garden, and "For the Beauty of the Earth," Shaw.

The congregational reception for new members received in the past year will follow the Harvest Home Festival.

GIVEN JAIL SENTENCE

Edgar L. Annan Jr., 60, Emmitsburg, who pleaded guilty to drunken driving, was sentenced to four months in the Franklin County Jail and fined $200 and costs Friday at Chambersburg.

CORRECTION

The Rev. W. F. Bare is survived by his wife, Emma Zeigler Bare, not the late Emma Zeigler Bare as printed in Friday's paper.

SEVEN STUDENTS SELECTED FOR VOICE CONTEST

Seven Gettysburg High School students have been selected to tape record their speeches at WGET Monday in the Junior Chamber of Commerce third annual "Voice of Democracy" contest. The six students were selected from the 25 students in grades 10 to 12 who prepared essays on the subject "I Speak For Democracy."

Six English teachers chose the following students: Seniors Barbara Darrah, Hugh McIlhenny, Jane Reuning and Ralph Wood; Juniors Ann Eckert and Joan Lank; and Sophomore Silvia Wiedler. The judges were Miss Ruth McIlhenny, Edwin Longacker, Jacob Sheads, Robert Fidler, James Feather and Mrs. Luther Wistler.

On Tuesday three judges will select one speech to be heard over WGET in a 15-minute broadcast sometime after Thanksgiving.

They are: Atty. Eugene Hartman, winner of the Junior Chamber of Commerce Distinguished Service Award; the Rev. Dr. Ralph R. Gresh, pastor of St. James Lutheran Church, and Miss Helen Spangler, president of Xi Alpha Chi Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi.

On the broadcast the first, second and third place winners will be awarded the following prizes: First, $25 U. S. Savings Bond, from the Junior Chamber of Commerce, and a flash camera, from Daves Photo Supply; second, portrait sitting, from Lane's Studio, and a $5 gift certificate, from Lippy's Men's Wear; third, pen and pencil set, from Peoples Drug Store, and a $5 gift certificate, from the Rea and Derick Drug Store.

The winning recording will be sent to the state contest to be judged on content, enunciation, and delivery. The state winner will receive a four-year scholarship, TV set, and an expense paid trip to the national elimination in Washington.

18 VOTES FROM MILITARY BRING ELECTION'S END

Eighteen ballots, 14 from soldiers, sailors and aviators, and four from veterans in hospitals were counted this morning to bring the official count of the ballots cast in last Tuesday's election to an end.

The military and veterans' ballots are by law not counted until sometime after the election to permit return of the ballots from all over the world.

Generally Republican candidates gained from five to 13 votes. E. Donald Scott, Republican commissioner candidate, received ten military and three veterans' ballots in his favor; J. Blaine Bushey, Republican commissioner, had nine military and two veterans' votes. Edward J. Sneeringer, Democratic candidate for commissioner received three military and one veteran's vote. George E. Kane, the other Democratic candidate for commissioner, had six military and one veteran's vote. Thus the vote for commissioner now stands at Scott, 3,738; Kane, 7,326; Bushey, 7,024, and Sneeringer, 6,975.

Final Count Established

GAME WILL BE PLAYED

The Gettysburg-F. and M. football game, scheduled for this afternoon at 2 o'clock, will be played regardless of the weather. It was announced this morning by Henry T. Bream, athletic director.

MISS M. HOLTZ ENTERS CONVENT

Miss Margaret Mary Holtz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Holtz 17 Fifth St., left Friday morning for Devon, Pa., where she will join the American branch of the Congregation of Jesus Crucified, a semi-cloistered religious order for physically-handicapped nuns. She is one of 12 nuns who will assist in establishing the order in this country.

Mother Marie des Douleurs, who founded the order in Paris in 1930, directed the founding of the American house in Devon, to be known as the Regina Mundi Priory. It is located on a 21-acre estate. The convent is the first in America to accept postulants regardless of their physical condition. The semi-cloistered nuns may not leave the convent but they may receive visitors. The public business is carried on by Sisters, called regular oblates. Sisters, who are bed-ridden in clothes for the community, bind books, paint holy cards and finish various kinds of religious art work.

The Sisters in Devon will depend

Gettysburg Times Reporter "Covers" His First Official White House Press Conference

A reporter for The Gettysburg Times, attended his first White House press conference at 4 o'clock Friday afternoon in the Hotel Gettysburg auditorium.

The conference was not any different from those that have been held in the new press room this week. It is not expected there will be a great deal of difference, except as to subject matter, in the weeks to come.

Press conferences are held at approximately 10:20 a.m. and 4 p.m., except Saturday and Sunday.

Wait For Hazy

A few minutes before 4 o'clock Friday afternoon the press room was fairly well filled. A few reporters were at their desks. Others were walking about, talking in groups. A Cub Scout unit and other visitors were gathered along the north wall, watching the proceedings.

The east side of the press room resembles an auditorium. Approximately 400 chairs have been placed in a semi-circle for reporters. At the south side of the room, facing the chairs, is a green covered conference table. There are micro-

ISAAC MUMMERT DIES FOLLOWING AUTO ACCIDENT

Isaac Mummert, 73, retired farmer and bank director of East Berlin, died in the York hospital Friday evening at 6 o'clock after being struck by a pickup truck driven by Stewart Mehning, 61, Hanover R. 5, as he crossed the Lincoln Highway near the York-New Salem road intersection.

According to State Policeman Erich Bornemann, Mummert had visited his wife, who was a patient at York hospital since Tuesday, and was on his way home when he stopped his car to visit his son, Winfield T. Mummert, York R. 5, who lives along the south side of Lincoln Highway.

Mummert halted his vehicle on the north side of the highway and crossed the westbound lane to the center lane, where he stopped to allow heavy traffic to pass, the policeman said.

Crossing Lane

Mummert started across the east-bound lane and was struck by the truck, Bornemann reported.

Passengers in the truck were John E. Laughman, 43, and his son, Jack, both of Hanover R. 5.

Mummert was taken by Reliance ambulance to the hospital.

Death was caused by head injuries and shock according to York County Coroner Sell, who said he will continue his investigations.

Surviving besides his wife, Mrs. Mabel Mummert, are three children, Winfield Mummert, whom he was visiting; Harry Mummert, East Berlin R. 2, and Mrs. Kermit Ziegler, East Berlin R. 1.

Funeral services Tuesday at 10 a.m. from the Emig Funeral Home, East Berlin, Interment in Holtzschwamm Cemetery, Paradise Twp., with Rev. George A. Clarke, Holtzschwamm Lutheran Church, officiating.

Friends may call at Emig Funeral Home Monday evening.

GIRL SCOUTS PLAN SKATING, PROJECT

Girl Scout Troop No. 9 will sponsor a skating party to be held next Friday evening at 7 o'clock at Banker's in Littlestown. It was decided at a meeting Friday afternoon at St. James Lutheran Church. Mrs. William Sentz will be in charge. Girls attending the party will submit permission slips.

Christmas favors for the hospitalized were made by the Scouts at Friday's meeting. Sue Newman and Lucille Miller, members of the troop, will distribute the favors at the hospital.

Gertrude Rowe led the Friendship Circle which concluded the meeting. Mrs. Gordon Webster, leader, was assisted by Mrs. George Ackerson and Mrs. William Sentz at the meeting.

Two Salesmen Win Trip To Kentucky

John J. Reinhold, of Fairfield, and Donald Myers, of Gettysburg, have been awarded trips to General Electric Appliance Park, Louisville, Ky., where they will be the guests of Raub Supply Co., Lancaster. Reinhold and Myers are among 60 men chosen for "outstanding sales effort." They will leave Sunday. At Appliance Park they will view the new G.E. line.

J. G. Sneidering, local representative for the Raub Company, made the announcement.

HARVEST HOME FETE SUNDAY

The annual Harvest Home Festival of the Presbyterian Church will be held Sunday night at 7:30 o'clock. The public is invited.

Gifts of food and money will be brought to the church by members of the congregation and Church School in the interest of the Gilliland Presbyterian Home, Gettysburg.

The Senior and Junior Choirs, combined and separately, will sing the following anthems under the direction of Phillip E. McGuire and Mrs. Luther I. Sachs Jr.: "Prayer of Thanksgiving," Kremer; "Thanksgiving Carol," Wolle-Curry; "How Lovely Is Thy Dwelling Place," Brahms; "Praise the Lord, O Jerusalem," Mander; "Festival Te Deum," Titcomb; "Thanks Be To Thee," Handel-Garden, and "For the Beauty of the Earth," Shaw.

The congregational reception for new members received in the past year will follow the Harvest Home Festival.

GIVEN JAIL SENTENCE

Edgar L. Annan Jr., 60, Emmitsburg, who pleaded guilty to drunken driving, was sentenced to four months in the Franklin County jail and fined $200 and costs Friday at Chambersburg.

CORRECTION

Mr. L. Roy,
Editor,
GETTYSBURG TIMES,
Gettysburg, Pa.

Dear Mr. Roy:

I'm enclosing One Dollar ($1.00) in cash for the payment of a partial subscription to THE GETTYSBURG TIMES.

Not knowing your monthly rate may I request it be sent to me. Upon receipt, thereafter I'll remit accordingly.

I'm keeping a scrapbook of clippings, pictures, etc., concerning our wonderful Christian President, Dwight D. Eisenhower, and his charming, gracious First Lady Mamie Doud Eisenhower.

I'd appreciate it very much if I might have a copy of THE GETTYSBURG TIMES THAT PUBLISHED THE ARRIVAL OF President and Mrs. Eisenhower at their farm.

Please accept the Best of Wishes for a splendid and increased circulation of THE TIMES.

Sincerely,

YOUTH KILLED WHEN CAR HITS AUTO AND POLE

Albert Bender, 18, of 44 N. Market St., Mt. Carmel, Pa., was fatally injured Friday night at 9:50 o'clock when his car went off the Harrisburg Rd. five miles north of here, struck a parked vehicle, broke off a utility pole and came to rest in a small woods.

Dr. C. G. Crist, Adams County coroner, said Bender died in the ambulance enroute to the Warner Hospital at 10:15 o'clock. Death was caused by a fractured skull.

State Police said Bender and two companions were driving north from Washington, D. C., where all are employed, enroute to Mt. Carmel for the weekend.

George W. Lewis, 33, Gettysburg R. 4, was waiting to drive out the lane at his home onto the Harrisburg Rd. he saw the Bender convertible approaching and stopped his car about four feet from the Harrisburg Rd.

May Have Been Confused

Police believe that Bender may have become confused when he saw the lights of the Lewis car and for some reason braked and drove to the right. The convertible left the road, crossed the lane, striking the right front headlight of Lewis' car.

Bender's vehicle continued on and "just passed through a Metropolitan Edison Co. pole, breaking it off," police said. The car continued on into a field, jumped a two-foot ditch and traveled for 150 feet through a wooded field. Police said that the car did not hit any of the trees.

Bender, according to Dr. Crist, was thrown from the car and was found about 15 feet from it by Lewis and others who went to the scene immediately after the crash.

Bender's two companions, Mary Ann Brezick, 17, 137 Maple St., Mt. Carmel, and Jerry Harold Cahoon, 19, 140 N. Walnut St., Mt. Carmel, suffered only from shock "and the shaking up." Damage totaled $300.

18 VOTES FROM MILITARY BRING ELECTION'S END

Eighteen ballots, 14 from soldiers, sailors and aviators, and four from veterans in hospitals were counted this morning to bring the official count of the ballots cast in last Tuesday's election to an end.

The military and veterans' ballots are by law not counted until sometime after the election to permit return of the ballots from all over the world.

Generally Republican candidates gained from five to 13 votes. E. Donald Scott, Republican commissioner candidate, received ten military and three veterans' ballots in his favor; J. Blaine Bushey, Republican commissioner, had nine military and two veterans' votes. Edward J. Sneidering, Democratic candidate for commissioner received three military and one veteran's vote. George E. Kane, the other Democratic candidate for commissioner, had six military and one veteran's vote. This vote for commissioner now stands at Scott, 7,378; Kane, 7,326; Bushey, 7,024, and Sneidering, 6,975.

Final Count Established

Register and recorder candidate, Carl S. Menchey, Republican, gained 12 military and three veterans' ballots, bringing his total to 7,376. R. L. Pittenturf, Democratic

GAME WILL BE PLAYED

The Gettysburg-F and M. football game, scheduled for this afternoon at 2 o'clock, will be played regardless of the weather, it was announced this morning by Henry T. Bream, athletic director.

TWO LOCAL MEN ARE FINED $300 EACH BY COURT

Wilmer Dracha, 256 E. Middle St., house manager for the American Legion Club here, and Jesse N. Kline, Guernsey, house manager for the local VFW Home Association, were each fined $300 and ordered to pay the costs on charges of establishing gambling places by the Adams County Court this morning.

Set. A. J. Swaleski, head of the local substation of the state police, prosecutor in the cases, said he was called September 29 by Liquor Control Board agents to the American Legion who told him they had found evidences of gambling while there. He said he was engaged in the investigation at the lesion when the liquor agents called there from the VFW Home to tell him they had evidences of gambling there. He said punch boards, a "fish bowl" and slot machines were found at the lesion. The slot machines, he said, apparently were stored and were "covered with dust." He said punch boards and a fish bowl were found at the VFW.

Before imposing sentence, Judge W. C. Sheely said that "the court realizes the defendants are here as representatives of organizations but the organizations must realize the laws must be obeyed."

Deardorff Fined $200

Clarence Ignatius "Pete" Deardorff, Fairfield R. 1, was ordered to pay $200 for the use of the county and the costs on a liquor law violation. He was also ordered to pay $150 for the use of the county and costs on a charge of possessing gambling machines.

Liquor Control Board Agent L. V. Bomgardner told the court that on complaints he had secured a search warrant and had gone to the Deardorff home and that in a washhouse discovered a dismantled 25-gallon still and approximately six ounces of "moonshine." In the house about three ounces of moonshine was discovered he said. He added that there was a barrel which could have been used for mash. State Policeman David K. James, who accompanied Bomgardner on the raid, said he found four slot machines in Deardorff's washhouse which appeared to have been in storage.

Deardorff said that he had been walking in the woods and had discovered some cartons, slot machines and a still and had brought them to his home to dispose of them as junk. The court said it did not believe Deardorff's story.

Two Are Jailed

Ronald R. Orndorff, 19, R. 5, was given a suspended sentence, placed on probation for a year on condition he pay $150 for the use of the county and the costs. He was charged with contributing to the delinquency of four minors by purchasing beer.

SEVEN STUDENTS SELECTED FOR VOICE CONTEST

Seven Gettysburg High School students have been selected to tape record their speeches at WGET Monday in the Junior Chamber of Commerce third annual "Voice of Democracy" contest. The six students were selected from the 25 students in grades 10 to 12 who prepared essays on the subject "I Speak For Democracy."

Six English teachers chose the following students: Seniors Barbara Darrach, Hugh McIlhenny, Jane Reuning and Ralph Wood; Juniors Ann Eckert and Joan Lank; and Sophomore Silvia Wiedler. The judges were Miss Ruth McIlhenny, Edwin Longacker, Jacob Sheads, Robert Fidler, James Feather and Mrs. Luther Wisler.

On Tuesday three judges will select one speech to be heard over WGET in a 15-minute broadcast sometime after Thanksgiving.

On the broadcast the first, second and third place winners will be awarded the following prizes: First, $25 U. S. Savings Bond, from the Junior Chamber of Commerce; a flash camera, from Daves Photo Supply; second, portrait sitting, from Lane's Studio, and a $5 gift certificate, from Lip-py's Men's Wear; third, pen and pencil set, from Peoples Drug Store, and a $5 gift certificate, from the Rea and Derick Drug Store.

The winning recording will be sent to the state contest to be judged on content, enunciation, and delivery. The state winner will receive a four-year scholarship, TV set, and an expense paid trip to the national elimination in Washington.

MISS M. HOLTZ ENTERS CONVENT

Miss Margaret Mary Holtz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Holtz, 17 Fifth St., left Friday morning for Devon, Pa., where she will join the American branch of the Congregation of Jesus Crucified, a physically-handicapped order for semicloistered religious order for physically-handicapped nuns. She is one of 12 nuns who will assist in establishing the order in this country.

Mother Marie des Doulers, who founded the order in Paris in 1930, directed the founding of the American house in Devon, to be known as the Regina Mundi Priory. It is located on a 21-acre estate. The convent is the first in America to accept postulants regardless of their physical condition. The semi-cloistered nuns may not leave the convent but they may receive visitors. The public business is carried on by Sisters, called regular oblates. Sisters who are bed-ridden iron clothes for the community, bind books, paint holy cards and finish various kinds of religious art work.

The Sisters in Devon will depend

Pa. Hunter Case Alive In Canada

OTTAWA (AP) — The Province of Quebec Thursday filed objections with the Supreme Court of Canada to a request by the federal cabinet for a review of Wilbert Coffin's murder conviction.

Attorneys acting for the Quebec attorney general said the federal government has no authority to refer other than constitutional questions to the supreme court.

The convicted 44-year-old Gaspé prospector is scheduled to be hanged Feb. 10 for the murder of Richard Lindsey of Hollidaysburg, Pa. Lindsey was one of three American bear hunters found dead in the Gaspé peninsula bush in June, 1953. Coffin was convicted in July, 1954.

CIVIL AIRWAY ROUTES AROUND GETTYSBURG

The CAA has established a new civil airway between Herndon, Virginia, and Harrisburg, via Gettysburg, and a control area extension around the Gettysburg Airport, effective next Friday, according to an announcement today by F. B. Lee, administrator of Civil Aeronautics, U. S. Department of Commerce.

The 10-mile wide airway will serve official aircraft operating between Washington and the temporary White House in Gettysburg, in addition to any other traffic, military or civil, operating in the area. The establishment of the airway will provide traffic control for all aircraft operating under instrument flight rules (IFR). Control will be exercised from the CAA Air Route Traffic Control Center at Washington.

Controllers there will provide such aircraft with standard 1,000-foot vertical and 10-minute longitudinal separation.

Not Allowed To Enter

Aircraft are not permitted to enter the control area during instrument flight rule (IFR) weather conditions without an air traffic control clearance.

The route will be served by already established very high frequency omnidirectional radio ranges (VORs) equipped with distance measuring equipment (DME), located at the terminal points of the new airway at Herndon and Harrisburg. The new airway will be known as Victor Airway 223.

The control area extension will provide control from 700 feet above the terrain to infinity. Aircraft below 700 feet in the control area will be considered as operating outside the control area. Aircraft operating into Gettysburg Airport will "home" on a recently established military terminal very high frequency omnidirectional radio range (TVOR), located on the airport.

HEIRESS PULLS OUT OF PART; WANTS BIG ROLE

HOLLYWOOD — Heiress Gloria Vanderbilt pulled out of a costarring role in Frank Sinatra's first Western because her part wasn't big enough.

Neither Sinatra nor Director Don McGuire would give the reasons for the hasty departure last night of the poor little rich girl, who often has been linked romantically with the singer.

But today a source close to the production gave the real reason why Miss Vanderbilt and her two sons left hastily for New York City. She had come here last weekend, declaring to reporters that she had dreamed since 14 of becoming a movie star. She now is 31.

In a tersely worded statement, Sinatra's company said only that "Miss Vanderbilt had withdrawn from 'Johnny Concho' by mutual agreement."

While Sinatra and McGuire declined comment, the unidentified source said no acting tests were made, only tests for costume and makeup.

In "Johnny Concho," Sinatra plays a swaggering young man who terrorizes a town with the help of a brother who is a gunslinger. Gloria would have played the town storekeeper's daughter.

LOST PLANE MAY BE MYTH

CARLISLE, Pa. — A searching party trudged through snow today in rugged mountain terrain, checking a report that an airplane may have crashed during a wintry storm.

"It seems to have been a ghost plane," said Dale Murphy, Cumberland County Civil Defense coordinator. "It came out of thin air and vanished into thin air. No one knows where it came from and no one knows where it was going."

Murphy said they received a number of reports last night of the plane having been seen flying low in the mountain area and that it appeared to be in trouble.

A search of the mountain area about 20 miles from Carlisle in South-Central Pennsylvania was started on foot after plans to put planes into the air were abandoned because of low visibility.

Murphy placed the possible scene of the crash nine miles southwest of Mt. Holly Springs, in Cumberland County. The search parties based their line of search from Route 34 into the mountainous, heavily wooded region.

Sees More Women In U. S. Government

PHILADELPHIA — There will be a lady vice president and three women members of the Supreme Court by the year 2000, says Mrs. Ivy Baker Priest, treasurer of the United States.

She also predicted in a speech yesterday that half of Congress will be female by the turn of the century. Mrs. Priest addressed the ladies auxiliary of the American Institute of Laundering, holding its 68th annual convention here.

Fall River Children Set For Rainy Days

FALL RIVER, Mass. — Greater Fall River school children are discounting the belief that you can't save any money these days.

They have $726,477.76 on deposit under the School Saving plan inaugurated eight years ago. Average savings per student is $48.95. Most deposits have been in nickels and dimes.

"We have students graduating from high school who have accounts in four figures," says James Robinson, supervisor of accounts.

MAXIMS MIRROR FEELINGS, IDEAS OF ALL PEOPLE

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON — Turkish propaganda experts believe that through its proverbs its people can best be understood. Proverbs, they say, are the "wisdom of centuries distilled into every day use," and "reflect the mental make-up of a people and their attitude toward life."

Trying to get us to know the Turkish people better, the Turkish Press, Broadcasting and Tourist Department has mailed out to Washington an amusingly-illustrated little booklet, "A Brief Selection of Turkish Proverbs." The idea, according to the preface is to give an "attentive reader an insight into the wisdom, humor, practical experience, and mentality of the Turkish people."

Here are some selected from among the very best, after carefully sifting about 10,000 proverbs.

Kindness Wins

"A kind word keeps a man warm throughout three winters."

"A knife wound heals, but a tongue wound festers."

"At table keep a short hand, in company keep a short tongue."

"Listen a hundred times, ponder a thousand times, speak once."

"Who speaks evil to you of others will speak evil of you to others."

"A carefree head is to be found only on a scarecrow."

"A wise man remembers his friends at all times, a fool only when he has need of them."

"Never precede a wise man or follow a fool."

"A fool crosses the stream while the sage ponders."

"Who spits into the wind spits into his own face."

"Who gives to the poor gives to God."

Fear Ignorance

"Trust in God but first tie your camel."

"If God closes one door, He opens a thousand new ones."

"God finds a low branch for the bird that cannot fly."

Other proverbs include:

"Fear an ignorant man more than a lion."

"Even the highest tree has an axe waiting at its foot."

"Be more judicious in the choice of neighbors than of a house."

"You cannot make a stallion out of a donkey by cropping its ears."

"Work as if you were to live for ever, act as if you were to die tomorrow."

YORK SPRINGS PTA WILL HOLD AUCTION MONDAY

The York Springs PTA will sponsor its second annual Thanksgiving auction Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the York Springs fire hall. The proceeds will be used to purchase raincoats and hats for the safety patrol, uniforms for the drum majorettes of the high school band and an attachment for a projector to show slides.

Clair Slaybaugh, Idaville, will serve as auctioneer. A turkey will be given away as a door prize but the winner must be present at the time of drawing. The auction is open to the public.

The auction will feature a rummage and a white elephant table. There will be a fish pond for the children. An award of $5 will be given to the school room having the largest number of family and friends registered at the auction. Refreshments will be on sale.

The fire hall will be open at 1 p.m. to receive donations. Those wanting to make a contribution, who have no means of transportation, are asked to notify Mrs. Paul Middour, York Springs. Donations may also be left at the Coulson's Garage.

Articles suggested for donation include the following: Live or dressed poultry, pies, cakes, cupcakes, potatoes, apples, pears, handwork, dishes, plants, clothing (new or used), bread, cookies, candy, popcorn, nuts, pumpkins, jellies, jams, canned goods and Christmas gifts.

TWO LOCAL MEN

Leslie R. and Minnie C. Bricker, Richmond Furnace, were each sentenced to 30 days in the county jail and ordered to pay the costs and make restitution for bad checks totaling $45 which they had passed at the Arendtsville and Fairfield Banks and Swope's Service Station.

Stanley A. Starnier, Gardners R. 2, was sentenced to 15 days in jail and ordered to pay a fine of $50 and costs on a charge of permitting an intoxicated person to operate his truck.

Glenn H. Hoover, Hanover R. 5, was given a suspended sentence and ordered to pay $150 for the use of the county and costs on a charge of operating after suspension.

Lloyd Mann, Bausman R. D., was ordered to pay $200 for the use of the county and the costs on a charge of aggravated assault and battery. He was charged with striking Joseph Borowick, Manchester, Md., with a hammer during an altercation at a motorcycle race track near McSherrystown.

David B. Wantz, R. 1, was sentenced to 15 days in jail and fined $50 and costs on a hit-and-run charge.

Albert H. Mitchell, Philadelphia, was given a suspended sentence and ordered to pay $150 for the use of the county and costs on a charge of operating after his license had been suspended.

Other Sentences

Kenneth R. Miller, R. 5, was given a suspended sentence and ordered to pay $150 for the use of the county and costs on a charge of operating after suspension. The court, in imposing sentence on Miller, said: "There are too many of these cases. We may have to begin imposing jail sentences."

Rev. Willie M. Harts, Shippensburg R. 3, was sentenced to 30 days in jail starting November 12 and ordered to pay a fine of $50 and costs on a charge of driving while intoxicated.

A similar sentence on the same type of charge was given Washington Bell Kootz, Littlestown R. 1.

John Bell, New Oxford, father of seven children, was sentenced to 30 days in jail and ordered to pay $108.99 lying-in expenses and $5 per week for the support of one of the children on a morals charge.

Healthy Vermonters Upset Pension Plan

MONTPELIER, Vt. — Vermont state employees are so healthy they're mulling up the state retirement system.

George R. Buck, New York actuarial expert, hired by Vermont to check on retirement programs, didn't exactly criticize state employees for bringing on a situation which may eventually require a whole new set of rates and graphs. But he did say:

"The actual number of deaths and the actual salaries canceled by death were less than expected. This condition is not favorable to the retirement system from a financial viewpoint and tends to offset favorable withdrawal experience."

ATOM-POWER SERVICE

LAS CRUCES, N. M. — Popularity of a Las Cruces service station grew spectacularly when it offered free service with proper equipment to check samples of uranium, and started posting a bulletin board full of information on the uranium search.

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. — Lewis Farmer, a V.M.I. football player, suffered a nasty gash on his head during the game with the University of Virginia — and he wasn't even in the lineup. Farmer, on the bench, was hit by a liquor bottle tossed from the stands.

The Ambassador Sunday School class of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Biglerville, held a hayride Thursday evening following the regular business meeting. The class will donate $10 to the Adams County Welfare Society. A nominating committee of Mr. and Mrs. C. William Settle, chairmen; Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Thomas and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Horst was appointed. Sunday morning was established as the deadline for the receipt of Christmas gifts for the Wentz family, missionaries in Japan. The gifts may be taken to the church Sunday morning or given to Mrs. Clyde Heller. After the hayride, a social with singing and refreshments was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Sandoe Jr. Eighteen members attended. The hostesses were Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Lawver, chairman, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Sandoe Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Dale Showers.

Mrs. John Minnich, Bedford, spent several days this week with Mr. and Mrs. Benton Fidler, Aspers R. 1. Mrs. Minnich is a daughter of Mr. Fidler.

The executive and program committee meeting of the Upper Adams Young Farmers' Association will not be held Monday evening because of a conflict with another farm meeting. The new date will be announced later.

Accident Victim Reported As "Fair"

The condition of Max Sherman, 29, of 232 Howard Ave., was described as "fair" today at the Warner Hospital where he was admitted Friday after suffering injuries in an auto accident late Thursday night. X-rays were to be taken this morning to determine the extent of his injuries.

Robert L. Schroyer, 29, St. Thomas R. 1, driver of the car in which Sherman was a passenger, was discharged from the hospital Friday afternoon.

The men were injured when the auto ran off the left side of the Gettysburg-Littlestown Road two miles south of here, broke a guard rail and went down a 10-foot embankment.

RECOMMENDS DIVORCE

A master's report in Franklin County Court, Chambersburg, Friday, recommended a divorce for Martha E. Stokes, 42, Franklin County, from Eldon Stokes, 45, Emmitsburg, who is a prisoner at the Maryland State penitentiary.

'COWGIRL' WEDS ENGLISH LORD

BIG HORN, Wyo. — The 20-year old daughter of a Wyoming cattle rancher is going to marry an English lord, and she admits she's "pretty excited" about it.

But Miss Jean Wallop of Big Horn expressed hope today "there wouldn't be a lot of publicity" about the announcement she will marry Lord Porchester, 31, a socialite who has been a frequent escort of Princess Margaret.

She said she met Lord Porchester, the only son and heir of the Earl of Carnarvon, while she was visiting relatives in England but declined to comment on their romance.

They will be married quietly in New York, an announcement said. It was made in London. No date for the wedding was given.

Miss Wallop said her father was born and reared in Wyoming. She has a younger sister, 16, and two brothers, one of whom is in the Army. She attended school at the University of Colorado and Garrison Forest in Maryland.

Wedding

Myers-Nickey

Miss Roswitha U. Nickey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard U. Nickey, 525 S. Queen St., Littlestown, became the bride of Stanley R. Myers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Myers, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Myers, 433 Baltimore St., Hanover, Saturday at 4:30 p.m. in Grace Lutheran Church, Westminster. The pastor, the Rev. Dr. Elwood S. Falkenstein, performed the double-ring ceremony. Matron of honor was Mrs. Wilda Swaby. Ernest Swaby served as best man. A reception was held at Schott's Restaurant, Littlestown, with guests attending from Littlestown, York, Harrisburg and Hanover. Mrs. Myers is employed at Swaby's Beauty Shop, 106 York St., Hanover. Her husband is employed by the Ammon R. Smith Auto Co., York, and is also a part-time beauty culture teacher at the Pen Mar Beauty School, 14 Eichelberger St., Hanover.

DEATH

Mrs. O. N. Myers

Mrs. Martha Marie Myers, 64, wife of Oliver N. Myers, 507 High St., Hanover, died Friday at 8:30 a.m. at her home. A daughter of the late Joseph and Mary (Welsh) Cookson, she is survived by her husband and four children, Raphael K. Myers, Richmond, Va.; Mrs. Charles Gouker, Littlestown R. D.; Allen J. Myers, Hanover R. D.; and Francis M. Myers, Harrisburg; one brother and four sisters, Mrs. Clayton Shanbrook, Littlestown; Mrs. Caroline Kelly, Philadelphia; Mrs. C. E. Ball, New York City; Mrs. Clarence E. Shelly and Thomas L. Cookson Sr., Littlestown.

Funeral services will be held Monday at 8:30 a.m. from Little's Funeral Home, Littlestown, followed by requiem high mass at 9 o'clock in St. Aloysius Catholic Church, Littlestown. Rev. Fr. Edward J. Shanahan will be the celebrant. Interment will be in St. Aloysius Cemetery. Friends may call Sunday evening at Little's Funeral Home.

Farley Granger To Wed Janice Rule

HOLLYWOOD — Some time before Christmas, the Hollywood bachelor actor Farley Granger will marry the Broadway actress Janice Rule.

Granger's agent announced the 30-year-old film player's engagement last night. Granger and Miss Rule are in New York now, and that's where they plan to be wed in a simple church ceremony. They met last summer in the cast of the Broadway production "Canpee Tree."

SEEK TO INCORPORATE

Officers and directors are Robert A. Thompson, Aspers, president; Emerson L. Orner, Bendersville, vice president; Clyde P. Orner Sr., Bendersville, secretary; Alfred J. H. Fidler, Bendersville, treasurer, and Luther Club, Biglerville R. 1; J. Russell Kane, Arendtsville, and Ward C. Houck, Biglerville.

General Mark Clark Is Military Diplomat

RICHMOND, Va. — Gen. Mark W. Clark made a perfect score in diplomacy on a visit here. The retired military hero, now president of The Citadel in South Carolina, was asked by a reporter which school really ranked as the West Point of the South — The Citadel or Virginia Military Institute.

"The Citadel is the West Point of the farther South," Clark replied. "I've served all over the world with VMI men and they are a fine group."

FOE Auxiliary Dinner

The fourth anniversary of the organization of the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Fraternal Order of Eagles, Littlestown Aerie No. 2228 was observed with a banquet held for members on Thursday evening in Harney Fire Hall. The meal was served by the Harney Firemen's Auxiliary. Present were Mrs. Learna Ewman, president, Ruth Crouse, Mary Kraft, Ruth Ehrman, Estelle Potoff, Ruth Hofe, Mae Sentz, Mary King, Golda Bittle, Ruth Weaver, Mabel Rittase, Margaret Reiman, Clara Jacoby, Kathryn Stauffer, Annabelle Ohler, Madeline Kindig, Betty Hankey, Edna Olinger, Josephine Hull, Florence Shelly, Helen Weaver, and Genevieve Hood.

The Ladies' Auxiliary to the Ocker-Snyder Post No. 321, American Legion will visit the veteran patients at Mont Alto State Hospital on Sunday afternoon, November 27. Each veteran will be presented with a gift and homemade cookies. Mrs. Vernon J. Study, unit rehabilitation chairman, has requested that members baking cookies have them at her home on Lumber St. by noon next Saturday, November 26, as the cookies will be packed that afternoon.

The Starr Bible Class of St. Paul's

Lutheran Church met on Thursday evening at the parsonage on W. King St., with fourteen members and two visitors in attendance. Mrs. Paul H. Scheivert, president, presided.

Program Offered

The meeting opened with hymn singing and the class song. Mrs. John Feeser read the Scripture and offered prayer. Miss Basehoar read an article entitled "The First Thanksgiving" and Mrs. David S. Kammerer Sr. an article, "Faith."

Other readings were given by Mrs. George Basehoar, Mrs. Irvin Kindig, Mrs. Edgar Pfeiffer, Mrs. Minnie Miller and Mrs. Scheivert.

During the business session, Mrs. Ernest R. Sentz and Mrs. Edgar Pfeiffer were appointed to purchase clothing for a welfare girl. Mrs. William H. Dixon and Mrs. Minnie Miller were appointed to purchase gifts for the class teachers. A report was heard from Mrs. Miller, secretary. Guess packages were presented as follows: Given by Mrs. Edna Fortney and received by Mrs. William Dixon; given by Mrs. Irvin Kindig, won by Mrs. Kammerer, and given by Mrs. Edgar Pfeiffer and received by Mrs. Dixon. A group contest was won by Mrs. Irvin Kindig. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Kammerer, Mrs. Fortney and Mrs. George Basehoar.

A Christmas party will be held in connection with the next meeting of the Starr Bible Class on Thursday, December 29, at the home of Mrs. Paul Scheivert, near town. The hostesses will be Mrs. Scheivert, Mrs. William Dixon, Mrs. George Stover and Mrs. Minnie Miller.

SEEKS SECOND ROUND OF PRR CUT HEARINGS

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP)—Another three days of hearings was in prospect today on the application of the Pennsylvania Railroad to abandon three passenger trains on its Harrisburg-Williamsport run.

Examiner Maurice H. Claster of the Public Utility Commission, who presided at three days of hearings here in the case, said he would recommend a second round of hearings to permit protesting groups to complete their testimony.

Before the hearings recessed here yesterday afternoon Claster heard testimony from industrial and business leaders that the passenger trains are needed for the economic development of the north-central Pennsylvania area.

The railroad seeks to drop the three trains on grounds they are operated at a loss. Should the application be approved, four passenger trains would remain on the run.

Mayor Fred E. Huffman, of Sunbury, testified that removal of the trains would have "seriously harmful effects" on the Sunbury, Northumberland and Selingsgrove areas. He said one industry, Westinghouse Electric Corp., already has left the area, partly because of the inconvenience of passenger train travel facilities.

Huffman, like several other witnesses for the protesting groups, said on cross examination by the railroad's counsel, that the state of Pennsylvania has been helpful in various economic promotions in the area.

Handicaps Students
John F. Zellars, assistant to the president of Bucknell University, Lewisburg, testified that dropping the trains would be a handicap to 1,300 of the university's 2,000 students.

Fred Rombach, vice president of the Philco Corp., in charge of the division, testified that dropping of the trains "would work a great inconvenience" both to workers at the plant and to home-office officials traveling between Philadelphia and Watsontown.

Along similar lines, Marshall R. Laird, manager of the West Branch Manufacturers Assn., representing 121 firms in the area, said that discontinuance of the trains would have an adverse effect on manufacturing interests in the area.

Spurs Economical Progress
Z. H. Confair, president of the Greater Williamsport Chamber of Commerce Industrial Development Bureau, testified the existing passenger train service is needed to help stimulate economic development of the area.

Similar testimony was given by George E. Woernle, Watsontown borough councilman; Edward L. Gull, secretary of the Central Susquehanna Valley Chamber of Commerce; C. E. Noyes, manager of the Greater Williamsport Chamber of Commerce.

Ask Month's Delay In Schwartz Trial

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A ruling is expected next week on a request by Atty. William A. Gray for a month's delay in the trial of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Schwartz, charged with attempted abortion and conspiracy in the death of Mrs. Doris Jean Ostreicher.

A Dec. 5 trial date has been set. Gray asked Judge Vincent A. Carroll yesterday for the postponement to prepare medical testimony.

Mrs. Ostreicher, 22, died in the Schwartz apartment last Aug. 24.

Grand Jury Calls Two For Murder

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Frank W. Ellsworth, 36, and Raymond P. Wilson, 33, were indicted by a grand jury yesterday for the murder of Mrs. Lulubel H. Rossman. The wealthy widow was found dead last July 4th in her Philadelphia hotel apartment.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Theodore B. Smith Jr. said Ellsworth and Wilson would be brought to trial early in January.

Wilson was arrested in Las Vegas, Nev., and returned to Philadelphia. Ellsworth was returned from Memphis, Tenn., after an unsuccessful fight against extradition.

Police said the two men had in their possession as Las Vegas $100 bills with serial numbers from the same sequence as bills found in Mrs. Rossman's safe deposit box.

HOLDS LUNCHEON TO SOFTEN WEST

By TOM HOGE

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Russia scheduled a luncheon for the Western Big Three today in a bid to soften U.S. opposition to admitting Outer Mongolia into the U.N. along with 17 other nations.

Soviet Chief Delegate V. V. Kuznetsov invited the top representatives of the United States, Britain, and France to the Soviet delegation headquarters for a further discussion on membership. The long-standing stalemate comes to a head next week when the Security Council is scheduled to act on the 18 applications.

There have been reports that the Council will cast secret votes in advance to find out how the 18 applicants stand up.

Question On Veto

Informed sources said the Western powers want to find out whether Russia will use her veto power against their candidates before they commit themselves by ballot on the five Russian-backed entries.

U.S. Chief Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., has predicted Outer Mongolia will not muster enough support in the Council.

In addition to Outer Mongolia, the applicants are the four Soviet satellites of Albania, Bulgaria, Romania and Hungary plus Western-approved Jordan, Portugal, Ireland, Italy, Austria, Finland, Ceylon, Nepal, Libya, Japan, Cambodia, Laos and Spain.

Longstreth Ends Business Contact

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Defeated mayoralty candidate W. Tacher Longstreth has ended his business association with the advertising firm of Geare-Marrison, Inc.

The 35-year-old Republican failed in his attempt to unseat the Democrats and was beaten by Richardson Dilworth.

Longstreth said in a statement yesterday.

"Since I intend to remain active in politics, in all fairness I must effect another business association, where the value of my efforts will not be dependent upon long continuity of my services."

Longstreth said he would take several more weeks before making a decision on his future employment.

NAPHTHA BLAST ENDANGERS JET FUEL AND GAS

ROCHESTER, Pa. (AP)—A spectacular refinery fire yesterday endangered highly inflammable tanks of jet fuel and gasoline before firemen were able to control it. No one was injured.

The blaze followed an explosion in a 106,000-gallon naphtha tank at the Valvoline Oil Co. refining plant in nearby Freedom.

The blast tore away the roof of the 40-foot high tank and splashed flaming naphtha dangerously near other tanks close by, some only five or ten feet away.

Firemen sent streams of water over the adjacent tanks to keep them cool, while battling the blaze itself with foamite, a chemical firefighting compound. Naphtha is a highly inflammable liquid used in making varnish and fuel.

Only half a dozen workers were in the immediate vicinity at the time of the explosion. One man had climbed down from the top of the tank just a few minutes before it blew up, company officials said.

Fire Chief A. M. Crider of Freedom declined to estimate the damage. He said:

Little Smoke
"When we got there the flames were shooting about 20 feet into the air. There wasn't much smoke. Naphtha doesn't smoke much."

Crider said the cause of the blaze "was just one of those things that happen around an oil refinery." He declined to speculate further on the reason for the explosion, saying:

"Let's just be thankful no one was hurt."

The blaze was brought under control in about two hours. Twenty firemen remained on duty after that for clean-up work. In all, firemen from eight surrounding communities responded to the alarm.

The refinery is located about 30 miles northwest of Pittsburgh. Valvoline is a division of Ashland Oil and Refining Co.

SALK VACCINE IS READY FOR USE

WASHINGTON (AP)—A total of 1,773,485 cubic centimeters of Salk antipolio vaccine, most newly released and some reallocated, is now available.

The Public Health Service announced last night that 1,692,400 cc.—enough for that many inoculations—is ready for immediate use, together with 26,692 cc. from previously under-estimated allocations and 152,393 cc. not used in areas to which it was originally assigned.

The service's latest action brings to 12,442,437 cc. the total vaccine released for children under 15 and expectant mothers.

An additional 13,542,441 cc. have gone to the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis for its free inoculation program for children who were first and second grade pupils last spring.

Strips Rec Outlets Of All Racial Bars

BAITMORE (AP)—Parks and recreation facilities under the jurisdiction of the city's Board of Recreation and Parks were stripped of racial bars yesterday by board action.

James C. Anderson, president of the board, said the action was taken to comply with a U.S. Supreme Court ruling of Nov. 7 that racial segregation at public beaches, parks and other recreational facilities is unconstitutional.

The Supreme Court ruling upheld a Fourth Circuit Court of Appeals ruling handed down in Richmond, Va., last March. The Circuit Court ruling reversed a U.S. District Court finding against Negro groups seeking an end to segregation at a state park near Annapolis and at a beach operated by the city.

Special Service Sunday Morning

The annual Thank-offering In-gathering Service will be held Sunday morning in Christ Evangelical and Reformed Church at 10:30 o'clock. Mrs. Porter W. Selwell, Littlestown, president of the Women's Guild of the Mercersburg Synod, will speak. The service is sponsored by the Guild.

Mrs. Selwell will be introduced by Mrs. Ralph L. Unger, Guild president. The Thank-offering will be in charge of Mrs. Unger and the ushers will be Mrs. Clyde L. Sterner, Mrs. Gerald W. Sterner, Mrs. Edward L. Warner and Mrs. Myrtle Louise Yohe.

The Guild will present a skit entitled "Count Your Blessings," under the direction of Mrs. LeRoy W. Berwager. Mrs. G. Howard Koons is the narrator and the cast includes: Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Irvin C. Markle, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Orville C. Sentz, Mrs. Ruley, Mrs. Bernard W. Dutterer, Mrs. Jones' daughter, Linda Markle, Jlrnie, a neighborhood boy, Ray Dutterer, Mrs. Kim, Mrs. Alvin C. Gerriek, Rev. Brown, the pastor, the Rev. G. Howard Koons. Duets will be sung by Mrs. Harold E. Shoemaker and Mrs. Charles A. Grove.

An anthem "Holy Is The Lord," by Schubert, will be sung by the choir. Altar flowers were placed by the Women's Guild. The Sunday bulletins are presented in honor of the 44th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar W. Berwager.

Christ Church choir will rehearse Tuesday at 7:30 p.m.

PRESIDENT TO PURSUE "JUST, DURABLE PEACE"

By WARREN ROGERS JR.
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower says that, despite the East-West stalemate at the Geneva foreign ministers conference, the United States "will never admit defeat" in seeking a "just and durable peace."

The President's view was relayed by Secretary of State Dulles at the end of a sober, 30-minute TV-radio report last night on the Geneva meeting.

Dulles conceded the Western Big Three made no progress in the sessions with the Russians. But this assessment was balanced, in part at least, by the secretary's expressions of cautious optimism and by a statement from Eisenhower.

Can't Be Deterred

Reading from what he called "verbatim notes" made during a conversation with Eisenhower earlier in the day at Gettysburg, Pa., Dulles quoted the President as saying:

"I know that no setback, no obstacle to progress will ever deter this government and our people from the great effort to establish a just and durable peace."

"Success may be long in coming, but there is no temporal force so capable of helping achieve it as the strength, the might, the spirit of 165 million free Americans. In striving toward this shining goal, this country will never admit defeat."

Dulles said his three weeks at Geneva "didn't get us anywhere at all."

But he said the "Spirit of Geneva," flowing from the summit conference which Eisenhower attended in July, lives on even though the Soviet's summertime smiles turned into frowns this fall. Posing and answering five questions he said "are in the air," Dulles declared he and Eisenhower agree that:

1. The Geneva spirit is not entirely dead because the Russians now shun the "threats and invective" which characterized their pre-summit diplomacy.

Cold War Cooler

2. The risk of open war with Russia is no greater than in July when Eisenhower said the summit conference had made it "less likely."

3. The cold war is back, but it is "peaceful" and devoid of rankling "hostility and animosity."

4. The Eisenhower administration plans no drastic revision of its defense and aid programs because it never lowered its guard on the basis of Russian promises last July.

5. More talks with Russia would be "foolish" as things now stand. But if the West keeps hanging together the Soviets eventually will come around to making concessions.

Dulles wound up his report, which Eisenhower helped draft, by quoting the President as personally pledging "no setback, no obstacle" will deter the U. S. search for real peace.

John P. Zeller, assistant to the president of Bucknell University, Lewisburg, testified that dropping the trains would be a handicap to 1,300 of the university's 2,000 students.

Fred Rombach, vice president of the Philco Corp., in charge of the division, testified that dropping of the trains "would work a great inconvenience" both to workers at the plant and to home-office officials traveling between Philadelphia and Watsontown.

Along similar lines, Marshall R. Laird, manager of the West Branch Manufacturers Assn., representing 121 firms in the area, said that discontinuance of the trains would have an adverse effect on manufacturing interests in the area.

Spurs Economical Progress
Z. H. Confair, president of the Greater Williamsport Chamber of Commerce Industrial Development Bureau, testified the existing passenger train service is needed to help stimulate economic development of the area.

Similar testimony was given by George E. Woernle, Watsontown borough councilman; Edward L. Gill, secretary of the Central Susquehanna Valley Chamber of Commerce; C. E. Noyes, manager of the Greater Williamsport Chamber of Commerce.

Ask Month's Delay In Schwartz Trial

PHILADELPHIA — A ruling is expected next week on a request by Atty. William A. Gray for a month's delay in the trial of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Schwartz, charged with attempted abortion and conspiracy in the death of Mrs. Doris Jean Ostreicher.

A Dec. 5 trial date has been set. Gray asked Judge Vincent A. Carroll yesterday for the postponement to prepare medical testimony. Mrs. Ostreicher '22, died in the Schwartz apartment last Aug. 24.

Grand Jury Calls Two For Murder

PHILADELPHIA — Frank W. Ellsworth, 36, and Raymond P. Wilson, 33, were indicted by a grand jury yesterday for the murder of Mrs. Lulibel H. Rossman. The wealthy widow was found dead last July 4th in her Philadelphia hotel apartment.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Theodore B. Smith Jr. said Ellsworth and Wilson would be brought to trial early in January.

Wilson was arrested in Las Vegas, Nev., and returned to Philadelphia. Ellsworth was returned from Memphis, Tenn., after an unsuccessful fight against extradition.

Police said the two men had in their possession at Las Vegas $100 bills with serial numbers from the same sequence as bills found in Mrs. Rossman's safe deposit box.

HOLDS LUNCHEON TO SOFTEN WEST

By TOM HOGE

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. — Russia scheduled a luncheon for the Western Big Three today in a bid to soften U.S. opposition to admitting Outer Mongolia into the U.N. along with 17 other nations. Soviet Chief Delegate V. V. Kuznetsov invited the top representatives of the United States, Britain, and France to the Soviet delegation headquarters for a further discussion on membership. The long-standing stalemate comes to a head next week when the Security Council is scheduled to act on the 18 applications.

There have been reports that the Council will cast secret votes in advance to find out how the 18 applicants stand up.

Question On Veto
Informed sources said the Western powers want to find out whether Russia will use her veto power against their candidates before they commit themselves by ballot on the five Russian-backed entries.

U.S. Chief Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., has predicted Outer Mongolia will not muster enough support in the Council.

In addition to Outer Mongolia, the applicants are the four Soviet satellites of Albania, Bulgaria, Romania and Hungary plus Western-approved Jordan, Portugal, Ireland, Italy, Austria, Finland, Ceylon, Nepal, Libya, Japan, Cambodia, Laos and Spain.

Longstreth Ends Business Contact

PHILADELPHIA — Defeated mayoralty candidate W. Tacher Longstreth has ended his business association with the advertising firm of Geare-Marston, Inc.

The 35-year-old Republican failed in his attempt to unseat the Democrats and was beaten by Richardson Dilworth.

Longstreth said in a statement yesterday, "Since I intend to remain active in politics, in all fairness I must effect another business association, where the value of my efforts will not be dependent upon long continuity of my services."

Longstreth said he would take several more weeks before making a decision on his future employment.

WASHINGTON — The Army Engineer Board for rivers and harbors will consider 12 proposed projects at a 2-day meeting Nov. 28-29.

Approval of the board is needed before a river, harbor or flood control project can be submitted to Congress for authorization and appropriation. The projects include French Creek Basin, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. Goldens, of Mt. Holly Springs, who recently celebrated their golden wedding anniversary at their home with open house. They were married at the Idaville Lutheran parsonage by the Rev. Wm. Leshner. Mrs. Golden was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John William Slaybaugh and Mr. Golden was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hezekiah Golden, all of Huntingdon Twp. The Goldens resided in Huntingdon Township until 1933 when they moved to Mt. Holly Springs. They are the parents of two children, Ralph Golden and Mrs. Lynn Smith, of York Springs. Mr. and Mrs. Golden have five grandchildren. The table centerpiece was a five-tier wedding cake.

NAPHTHA BLAST ENDANGERS JET FUEL AND GAS

ROCHESTER, Pa. — A spectacular refinery fire yesterday endangered highly inflammable tanks of jet fuel and gasoline before firemen were able to control it. No one was injured.

The blaze followed an explosion in a 186,000-gallon naphtha tank at the Valvoline Oil Co. refining plant in nearby Freedom.

The blast tore away the roof of the 40-foot high tank and splashed flaming naphtha dangerously near other tanks close by, some only five or ten feet away.

Firemen sent streams of water over the adjacent tanks to keep them cool, while battling the blaze itself with foamite, a chemical firefighting compound. Naphtha is a highly inflammable liquid used in making varnish and fuel.

Only half a dozen workers were in the immediate vicinity at the time of the explosion. One man had climbed down from the top of the tank just a few minutes before it blew up, company officials said.

Fire Chief A. M. Crider of Freedom declined to estimate the damage. He said:

Little Smoke
"When we got there the flames were shooting about 20 feet into the air. There wasn't much smoke. Naphtha doesn't smoke much."

Crider said the cause of the blaze "was just one of those things that happen around an oil refinery." He declined to speculate further on the reason for the explosion, saying:

"Let's just be thankful no one was hurt."

The blaze was brought under control in about two hours. Twenty firemen remained on duty after that for clean-up work. In all, firemen from eight surrounding communities responded to the alarm. The refinery is located about 30 miles northwest of Pittsburgh. Valvoline is a division of Ashland Oil and Refining Co.

SALK VACCINE IS READY FOR USE

WASHINGTON — A total of 1,773,485 cubic centimeters of Salk antipolio vaccine, most newly released and some reallocated, is now available.

The Public Health Service announced last night that 1,592,400 cc.—enough for that many inoculations—is ready for immediate use, together with 28,692 cc. from previously underestimated allocations and 152,393 cc. not used in areas to which it was originally assigned.

The service's latest action brings to 12,442,437 cc. the total vaccine released for children under 15 and expectant mothers.

An additional 15,542,441 cc. have gone to the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis for its free inoculation program for children who were first and second grade pupils last spring.

Strips Rec Outlets Of All Racial Bars

BALTIMORE — Parks and recreation facilities under the jurisdiction of the city's Board of Recreation and Parks were stripped of racial bars yesterday by board action.

James C. Anderson, president of the board, said the action was taken to comply with a U.S. Supreme Court ruling of Nov. 7 that racial segregation at public beaches, parks and other recreational facilities is unconstitutional.

The Supreme Court ruling upheld a Fourth Circuit Court of Appeals ruling handed down in Richmond, Va., last March. The Circuit Court ruling reversed a U.S. District Court finding against Negro groups seeking an end to segregation at a state park near Annapolis and at a beach operated by the city.

DETROIT — A bandit gave the shirt off his back following a robbery.

The man, clad in a gaudy shirt, shoved a note demanding money in the cashier's cage of a downtown theater. The cashier gave him $44 and he fled down the street, discarding his shirt as he ran.

Special Service Sunday Morning

The annual Thank-offering In-gathering Service will be held Sunday morning in Christ Evangelical and Reformed Church at 10:30 o'clock. Mrs. Porter W. Selwell, Littlestown, president of the Women's Guild of the Mercersburg Synod, will speak. The service is sponsored by the Guild.

Mrs. Selwell will be introduced by Mrs. Ralph L. Unger, Guild president. The Thank-offering will be in charge of Mrs. Unger and the ushers will be Mrs. Clyde L. Sterner, Mrs. Gerald W. Sterner, Mrs. Edward L. Warner and Mrs. Myrtle Louise Yoho.

The Guild will present a skit entitled "Count Your Blessings," under the direction of Mrs. LeRoy W. Berwager. Mrs. G. Howard Koons is the narrator and the cast includes: Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Irvin C. Markle, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Orville C. Senti, Mrs. Riley, Mrs. Bernard W. Dutcher, Mrs. Jones' daughter, Linda Markle, Jimmie, a neighborhood boy, Ray Dutcher, Mrs. Kim, Mrs. Alvin C. Gerick, Rev. Brown, the pastor, the Rev. G. Howard Koons. Duets will be sung by Mrs. Harold E. Shoemaker and Mrs. Charles A. Grove.

An anthem "Holy Is The Lord," by Schubert, will be sung by the choir. Altar flowers were placed by the Women's Guild. The Sunday bulletins are presented in honor of the 44th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar W. Berwager.

Christ Church Choir will rehearse Tuesday at 7:30 p.m.

RESCUE TEAM STARTS CLIMB

LAS VEGAS, Nev. — An arctic rescue team may require two more days to climb the final three miles up steep, wind-lashed Charleston Peak to the wreckage of an Air Force transport carrying 14 men, all presumed dead.

Five paratrooper medical technicians camped during the night on the precipitous ice-clad mountain in temperatures under 20 below zero. Using snowshoes and skis on occasion, they clambered four miles the first long day after leaving a four-wheel drive arctic truck.

The rescue group, from the 42nd Air Rescue Squadron at March Air Force Base, Calif., radioed they might reach the crash scene late today, but probably not until tomorrow.

And it may be a week before rescue crews bring down from the 11,910-foot mountain the bodies of five Air Force men, five AF civilian employees, two aviation engineers and two Air Force consultants.

The four-engine C54, en route from Norton AFB, Calif., to the Nevada atomic bombing range, crashed Thursday near the peak at an elevation of 11,900 feet.

CIO Aircraft Union Seeks New Contract

LOS ANGELES — A guaranteed employment plan, substantial wage increases and a full union shop are objectives in collective bargaining early next year by the CIO-United Auto Workers' Aircraft department.

Leonard Woodcock, UAW vice president, told an executive session yesterday that for the first time all aircraft unions will be bargaining on the same basis and with the same demands. Negotiations will start early in January for new contracts covering some 750,000 workers in the aircraft industry.

Juke Box Plays In Indian Style

WINDOW ROCK, Ariz. — It sounded as if the Navajos were staging a ceremony inside their cafe here. But investigation showed the drums and chants were coming from a juke box. Plenty of other tribal tunes were on tap too, competing successfully with the usual assortment of platters.

PRESIDENT TO PURSUE "JUST, DURABLE PEACE"

By WARREN ROGERS JR., WASHINGTON

President Eisenhower says that, despite the East-West stalemate at the Geneva foreign ministers conference, the United States "will never admit defeat" in seeking a "just and durable peace."

The President's view was relayed by Secretary of State Dulles at the end of a sober, 30-minute TV-radio report last night on the Geneva meeting.

Dulles conceded the Western Big Three made no progress in the sessions with the Russians. But this assessment was balanced, in part at least, by the secretary's expressions of cautious optimism and by a statement from Eisenhower.

Can't Be Deterred
Reading from what he called "verbatim notes" made during a conversation with Eisenhower earlier in the day at Gettysburg, Pa., Dulles quoted the President as saying:

"I know that no setback, no obstacle to progress will ever deter this government and our people from the great effort to establish a just and durable peace."

"Success may be long in coming, but there is no temporal force so capable of helping achieve it as the strength, the might, the spirit of 165 million free Americans. In striving toward this shining goal, this country will never admit defeat."

Dulles said his three weeks at Geneva "didn't get us anywhere at all."

But he said the "Spirit of Geneva," flowing from the summit conference which Eisenhower attended in July, lives on even though the Soviet's summertime smiles turned into frowns this fall.

Posing and answering five questions he said "are in the air," Dulles declared he and Eisenhower agree that:

1. The Geneva spirit is not entirely dead because the Russians now shun the "threats and invective" which characterized their pre-summit diplomacy.

2. The risk of open war with Russia is no greater than in July when Eisenhower said the summit conference had made it "less likely."

3. The cold war is back, but it is "peaceful" and devoid of ranking "hostility and animosity."

4. The Eisenhower administration plans no drastic revision of its defense and aid programs because it never lowered its guard on the basis of Russian promises last July.

5. More talks with Russia would be "foolish" as things now stand. But if the West keeps hanging together the Soviets eventually will come around to making concessions.

Dulles wound up his report, which Eisenhower helped draft, by quoting the President as personally pledging "no setback, no obstacle" will deter the U. S. search for real peace.

CIVIL AIRWAY ROUTES AROUND GETTYSBURG

The CAA has established a new civil airway between Herndon, Virginia, and Harrisburg, via Gettysburg, and a control area extension around the Gettysburg Airport, effective next Friday, according to an announcement today by F. B. Lee, administrator of Civil Aeronautics, U. S. Department of Commerce.

The 10-mile wide airway will serve official aircraft operating between Washington and the temporary White House in Gettysburg, in addition to any other traffic, military or civil, operating in the area. The establishment of the airway will provide traffic control for all aircraft operating under instrument flight rules (IFR). Control will be exercised from the CAA Air Route Traffic Control Center at Washington.

Controllers there will provide such aircraft with standard 1,000-foot vertical and 10-minute longitudinal separation.

Not Allowed To Enter

Aircraft are not permitted to enter the control area during instrument flight rule (IFR) weather conditions without an air traffic control clearance.

The route will be served by already established very high frequency omnidirectional radio ranges (VORs) equipped with distance measuring equipment (DME), located at the terminal points of the new airway at Herndon and Harrisburg. The new airway will be known as Victor Airway 223.

The control area extension will provide control from 700 feet above the terrain to infinity. Aircraft below 700 feet in the control area will be considered as operating outside the control area. Aircraft operating into Gettysburg Airport will "home" on a recently established military terminal very high frequency omnidirectional radio range (TVOR), located on the airport.

HEIRESS PULLS OUT OF PART; WANTS BIG ROLE

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Heiress Gloria Vanderbilt pulled out of a costarring role in Frank Sinatra's first Western because her part wasn't big enough.

Neither Sinatra nor Director Don McGuire would give the reasons for the hasty departure last night of the poor little rich girl, who often has been linked romantically with the singer.

But today a source close to the production gave the real reason why Miss Vanderbilt and her two sons left hastily for New York City. She had come here last weekend, declaring to reporters that she had dreamed since 14 of becoming a movie star. She now is 31.

In a tersely worded statement, Sinatra's company said only that "Miss Vanderbilt had withdrawn from 'Johnny Concho' by mutual agreement."

While Sinatra and McGuire declined comment, the unidentified source said no acting tests were made, only tests for costume and makeup.

"Frank and Doc didn't fire her. She just left," the source said.

In "Johnny Concho," Sinatra plays a swaggering young man who terrorizes a town with the help of a brother who is a gunslinger. Gloria would have played the town storekeeper's daughter.

LOST PLANE MAY BE MYTH

CARLISLE, Pa. (AP) — A searching party trudged through snow today in rugged mountain terrain, checking a report that an airplane may have crashed during a wintry storm.

"It seems to have been a ghost plane," said Dale Murphy, Cumberland County Civil Defense coordinator. "It came out of thin air and vanished into thin air. No one knows where it came from and no one knows where it was going."

Murphy said they received a number of reports last night of the plane having been seen flying low in the mountain area and that it appeared to be in trouble.

A search of the mountain area about 20 miles from Carlisle in South-Central Pennsylvania was started on foot after plans to put planes into the air were abandoned because of low visibility.

Murphy placed the possible scene of the crash nine miles southwest of Mt. Holly Springs, in Cumberland County. The search parties based their line of search from Route 34 into the mountainous, heavily wooded region.

Sees More Women In U. S. Government

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — There will be a lady vice president and three women members of the Supreme Court by the year 2000, says Mrs. Ivy Baker Priest, treasurer of the United States.

She also predicted in a speech yesterday that half of Congress will be female by the turn of the century. Mrs. Priest, addressed the ladies auxiliary of the American Institute of Laundering, holding its 68th annual convention here.

Fall River Children Set For Rainy Days

FALL RIVER, Mass. (AP) — Greater Fall River school children are discounting the belief that you can't save any money these days.

They have $728,477.76 on deposit under the School Saving plan inaugurated eight years ago. Average savings per student is $48.95. Most deposits have been in nickels and dimes.

"We have students graduating from high school who have accounts in four figures," says James Robinson, supervisor of accounts.

MAXIMS MIRROR FEELINGS, IDEAS OF ALL PEOPLE

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Turkish propaganda experts believe that through its proverbs its people can best be understood. Proverbs, they say, are the "wisdom of centuries distilled into every day use" and "reflect the mental make-up of a people and their attitude toward life."

Trying to get us to know the Turkish people better, the Turkish Press, Broadcasting and Tourist Department has mailed out to Washington an amusingly-illustrated little booklet, "A Brief Selection of Turkish Proverbs." The idea, according to the preface is to give an "attentive reader an insight into the wisdom, humor, practical experience, and mentality of the Turkish people."

Here are some selected from among the very best, after carefully sifting about 10,000 proverbs.

Kindness Warns

"A kind word keeps a man warm throughout three winters."

"A knife wound heals, but a tongue wound festers."

"At table keep a short hand, in company keep a short tongue."

"Listen a hundred times, ponder a thousand times, speak once."

"Who speaks evil to you of others will speak evil of you to others."

"A carefree head is to be found only on a scarecrow."

"A wise man remembers his friends at all times, a fool only when he has need of them."

"Never precede a wise man or follow a fool."

"A fool crosses the stream while the sage ponders."

"Who spits into the wind spits into his own face."

"Who gives to the poor gives to God."

Fear, Ignorance

"Trust in God but first tie your camel."

"If God closes one door, He opens a thousand new ones."

"God finds a low branch for the bird that cannot fly."

Other proverbs include:

"Fear an ignorant man more than a lion."

"Even the highest tree has an axe waiting at its foot."

"Be more judicious in the choice of neighbors than of a house."

"You cannot make a stallion out of a donkey by cropping its ears."

"Work as if you were to live for ever, act as if you were to die tomorrow."

Search Leads Woman Into Automotive Trap

CHICAGO (AP) — "Help," said a voice from under the trunk lid of a car, "let me out of here."

Police pried open the lid. Out popped Mrs. Kathleen Keefe. She explained to Sgt. Richard Stahlman that she was looking for something in the trunk and the cover snapped shut.

She didn't say what she was hunting or whether she found it.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

YORK SPRINGS PTA WILL HOLD AUCTION MONDAY

The York Springs PTA will sponsor its second annual Thanksgiving auction Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the York Springs fire hall. The proceeds will be used to purchase raincoats and hats for the safety patrol uniforms for the drum majorettes of the high school band and an attachment for a projector to show slides.

Clair Slaybaugh, Idaville, will serve as auctioneer. A turkey will be given away as a door prize but the winner must be present at the time of drawing. The auction is open to the public.

The auction will feature a rummage and a white elephant table. There will be a fish pond for the children. An award of $5 will be given to the school room having the largest number of family and friends registered at the auction. Refreshments will be on sale.

The fire hall will be open at 1 p.m. to receive donations. Those wanting to make a contribution, who have no means of transportation, are asked to notify Mrs. Paul Midbour, York Springs. Donations may also be left at the Coulson's Garage.

Articles suggested for donation include the following: Live or dressed poultry, pies, cakes, cupcakes, potatoes, apples, pears, handwork, dishes, plants, clothing (new or used), bread, cookies, candy, popcorn, nuts, pumpkins, jellies, jams, canned goods and Christmas gifts.

Bricker, Richmond Furnace, were each sentenced to 30 days in the county jail and ordered to pay the costs and make restitution for bad checks totaling $45 which they had passed at the Arendtsville and Fairfield Banks and Swope's Service Station.

Stanley A. Starnes, Gardners R. 2, was sentenced to 15 days in jail and ordered to pay a fine of $50 and costs on a charge of permitting an intoxicated person to operate his truck.

Glenn H. Hoover, Hanover R. 5, was given a suspended sentence and ordered to pay $150 for the use of the county and costs on a charge of operating after suspension.

Lloyd Mann, Baumans R. D., was ordered to pay $200 for the use of the county and the costs on a charge of aggravated assault and battery. He was charged with striking Joseph Borowick, Manchester, Md., with a hammer during an altercation at a motorcycle race track near McSherrystown.

David B. Wantz, R. 1, was sentenced to 15 days in jail and fined $50 and costs on a hit-and-run charge.

Albert H. Mitchell, Philadelphia, was given a suspended sentence and ordered to pay $150 for the use of the county and costs on a charge of operating after his license had been suspended.

Other Sentences

Kenneth R. Miller, R. 5, was given a suspended sentence and ordered to pay $150 for the use of the county and costs on a charge of operating after suspension. The court, in imposing sentence on Miller, said "There are too many of these cases. We may have to begin imposing jail sentences."

Rev. Willie M. Harts, Shippensburg R. 3, was sentenced to 30 days in jail starting November 12 and ordered to pay a fine of $50 and costs on a charge of driving while intoxicated.

A similar sentence on the same type of charge was given Washington Peter Koonitz, Littlestown R. 1.

John Dell, New Oxford, father of seven children, was sentenced to 30 days in jail and ordered to pay $108.90 lying-in expenses and $5 per week for the support of one of the children on a morals charge.

Healthy Vermonters Upset Pension Plan

MONTPELIER, Vt. (AP) — Vermont state employees are so healthy they're mulling up the state retirement system.

George R. Buck, New York actuarial expert, hired by Vermont to check on retirement programs, didn't exactly criticize state employees for bringing on a situation which may eventually require a whole new set of rates and graphs. But he did say:

"The actual number of deaths and the actual salaries canceled by death were less than expected. This condition is not favorable to the retirement system from a financial viewpoint and tends to offset favorable withdrawal experience."

ATOM-POWER SERVICE

LAS CRUCES, N. M. (AP) — Popularity of a Las Cruces service station grew spectacularly when it offered free service with proper equipment to check samples of uranium, and started posting a bulletin board full of information on the uranium search.

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. (AP) — Lewis Farmer, a V.M.I. football player, suffered a nasty gash on his head during the game with the University of Virginia — and he wasn't even in the lineup. Farmer, on the bench, was hit by a liquor bottle tossed from the stands.

The Willing Helpers and Willing Workers Sunday School Classes of Bender's Lutheran Church, near Biglerville, will hold a food sale in front of Dugan's Barber Shop on Wednesday morning, beginning at 8 o'clock.

The Fiohr's Lutheran Church choir will rehearse at the Cashtown Reformed Church Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

The community Thanksgiving service will be held at Bethlehem Lutheran Church, Bendersville, Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock. The Rev. Eugene R. Steiner, pastor of the Bendersville, Ortanna, and Wernville Methodist Churches, will deliver the sermon.

A Children's Rally will be held at Centenary EUB Church, Biglerville, at 7:30 o'clock Monday evening. The film, "The Master's Face," will be shown. Parents are welcome.

The Good Neighbor Club met Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Louise Clark Biglerville. Arrangements were made for a Christmas party to be held at 8 p.m. on December 8 at the home of Mrs. Glen Slaybaugh, Biglerville. The club decided to distribute small baskets filled with fruit to shut-ins for Christmas.

Gerald Taylor, Biglerville R. 1; Lauren Taylor, Gardners, and Charles Naylor, Fairfield R. 2, have returned from a hunting trip to Renovo. Mr. Naylor shot a bear weighing 250 pounds dressed.

The Ambassador Sunday School Class of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Biglerville, held a hayride Thursday evening following the regular business meeting. The class will donate $10 to the Adams County Welfare Society. A nominating committee of Mr. and Mrs. C. William Settle, chairmen; Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Thomas and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Horst was appointed. Sunday morning was established as the deadline for the receipt of Christmas gifts for the Wentz family, missionaries in Japan. The gifts may be taken to the church Sunday morning or given to Mrs. Clyde Heller. After the hayride, a social with singing and refreshments was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Sandoe Jr. Eighteen members attended.

The hostesses were Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Lawver, chairman, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Sandoe Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Dale Showers.

Mrs. John Minnich, Bedford, spent several days this week with Mr. and Mrs. Benton Fidler, Aspers R. 1. Mrs. Minnich is a daughter of Mr. Fidler.

The executive and program committee meeting of the Upper Adams Young Farmers' Association will not be held Monday evening because of a conflict with another farm meeting. The new date will be announced later.

Accident Victim Reported As "Fair"

The condition of Max Sherman, 29, of 222 Howard Ave., was described as "fair" today at the Warner Hospital where he was admitted Friday after suffering injuries in an auto accident late Thursday night. X-rays were to be taken this morning to determine the extent of his injuries.

Robert L. Schroyer, 29, St. Thomas R. 1, driver of the car in which Sherman was a passenger, was discharged from the hospital Friday afternoon.

The men were injured when the auto ran off the left side of the Gettysburg-Littlestown Road two miles south of here, broke a guard rail and went down a 10-foot embankment.

RECOMMENDS DIVORCE

A master's report in Franklin County Court, Chambersburg, Friday, recommended a divorce for Martha E. Stokes, 42, Franklin County, from Eldon Stokes, 45, Emmitsburg, who is a prisoner at the Maryland State penitentiary.

'COWGIRL' WEDS ENGLISH LORD

BIG HORN, Wyo. (AP) — The 20-year old daughter of a Wyoming cattle rancher is going to marry an English lord, and she admits she's "pretty excited" about it.

But Miss Jean Wallop of Big Horn expressed hope today "there wouldn't be a lot of publicity" about the announcement she will marry Lord Porchester, 31, a socialite who has been a frequent escort of Princess Margaret.

She said she met Lord Porchester, the only son and heir of the Earl of Carnarvon, while she was visiting relatives in England but declined to comment on their romance.

They will be married quietly in New York, an announcement said. It was made in London. No date for the wedding was given.

Miss Wallop said her father was born and reared in Wyoming. She has a younger sister, 16, and two brothers, one of whom is in the Army. She attended school at the University of Colorado and Garrison Forest in Maryland.

Wedding

Miss Roswitha U. Nickey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard I. Nickey, 525 S. Queen St., Littlestown, became the bride of Stanley R. Myers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Myers, 433 Baltimore St., Hanover, Saturday at 4:30 p.m. in Grace Lutheran Church, Westminster. The pastor, the Rev. Dr. Elwood S. Falkenstein, performed the double-ring ceremony. Matron of honor was Mrs. Wilda Swaby. Ernest Swaby served as best man. A reception was held at Schottle's Restaurant, Littlestown, with guests attending from Littlestown, York, Harrisburg and Hanover. Mrs. Myers is employed at Swaby's Beauty Shop, 108 York St., Hanover. Her husband is employed by the Ammon R. Smith Auto Co., York, and is also a part-time beauty culture teacher at the Pen Mar Beauty School, 14 Eichelberger St., Hanover.

DEATH

Mrs. O. N. Myers

Mrs. Martha Marie Myers, 64, wife of Oliver N. Myers, 507 High St., Hanover, died Friday at 8:30 a.m. at her home. A daughter of the late Joseph and Mary (Welsh) Cookson, she is survived by her husband and four children, Raphael K. Myers, Richmond, Va.; Charles Myers, Littlestown R. D.; Allen J. Myers, Hanover R. D.; and Francis M. Myers, Harrisburg; one brother and four sisters, Mrs. Clayton Shansbrook, Littlestown; Mrs. Caroline Kelly, Philadelphia; Mrs. C. E. Ball's, New York City; Mrs. Clarence E. Shelly and Thomas L. Cookson Sr., Littlestown.

Funeral services will be held Monday at 8:30 a.m. from Little's Funeral Home, Littlestown, followed by requiem high mass at 9 o'clock in St. Aloysius Catholic Church, Littlestown. Rev. Fr. Edward J. Shanahan will be the celebrant. Interment will be in St. Aloysius Cemetery. Friends may call Sunday evening at Little's Funeral Home.

Farley Granger To Wed Janice Rule

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Some time before Christmas, the Hollywood bachelor actor Farley Granger will marry the Broadway actress Janice Rule.

Granger's agent announced the 30-year-old film player's engagement last night. Granger and Miss Rule are in New York now, and that's where they plan to be wed in a simple church ceremony. They met last summer in the cast of the Broadway production "Canoe Tree."

SEEK TO INCORPORATE

An application for the incorporation of Shushonman Gun Club, Aspers R. 1, as a non-profit organization has been filed at the Court House. The organization has a tract in Mettallen Township valued at $2,000, furniture and equipment worth $200, and $70 in cash.

General Mark Clark Is Military Diplomat

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Gen. Mark W. Clark made a perfect score in diplomacy on a visit here. The retired military hero, now president of The Citadel in South Carolina, was asked by a reporter which school really ranked as the "West Point of the South" — The Citadel or Virginia Military Institute.

"The Citadel is the West Point of the farther South," Clark replied. "I've served all over the world with VMI men and they are a fine group."

TEN YEARS AGO

Lloyd-Heller: The marriage of Miss Janet Louise Heller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ira W. Heller, Gardner R. 2, and William G. Lloyd, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Lloyd, also of Gardner R. 2, was solemnized Saturday evening in the parsonage of the Mt. Taber United Brethren church. The Rev. Charles R. Miller, pastor, performed the single ring ceremony.

Miller-Brown: Claude Hartman Miller, formerly of Littlestown and Miss Anna Marie Brown, Littlestown, were united in marriage Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock in St. Paul's Lutheran church, Littlestown. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. D. B. Kammerer.

Catholic Veterans Boost Membership: The newly-organized Annunciation Post No. 372, Catholic War Veterans now has a membership of 102. It was announced at a meeting of the post on Wednesday in McSherrystown. Bernard I. Noel, commander, presided.

Elmer Warren Named Head Of County Bankers: Elmer W. Warren, trust officer of The First National Bank of Gettysburg, was elected president of the Adams County Bankers Association at the annual ladies night banquet of the organization Wednesday evening at the Hotel Gettysburg.

Mr. Warren succeeds Theron W. Spangler, assistant cashier and trust officer of the Littlestown National bank to the presidency. Mr. Spangler serves during the coming year as a member of the association's council of administration.

Other officers named at the business session Wednesday evening were: Vice president, Arnold E. Orner, cashier of the Ardenville National bank; treasurer, Robert W. Myers, cashier of the People's State Bank of East Berlin and secretary, Mrs. Helen C. Corbett, of the First National bank here.

Proposed Allied Group Control Production Of Atomic Energy: Washington Nov. 15 (AP)—Creation of a United Nations commission to control the threat of atomic production in the world was proposed by the United States, Great Britain and Canada as the best way to tackle the atomic energy problem.

President Truman and Prime Minister Attlee and Mackenzie King made this known in a joint communique on their three power talk.

County Woman Escapes Nazi Gestapo: Aids Underground, Oslo, Norway: An American girl who worked with the underground in Nazi-garrisoned Oslo, Norway, for six years has returned to the states to visit her mother, Mrs. Maxwell Barach, at The Old Stone House, near Zora. She escaped Nazi torture and life in a concentration camp only through the alertness of the Norwegian government. In return she worked diligently and faithfully with the underground to harass the German occupation force, help patriots escape to England and contributed much to the Allied cause.

Mrs. Jorgen Hartman is her married name. To the underground she was known only as "Grynet" which means, in Norwegian mythology, a "grain of wheat." Her husband's uncle Dr. Nils Bohr, prominent chemist, was spirited out of Oslo by the Allies and helped perfect the atomic bomb in this country.

First To Offer Draft Service Is Discharged: The first selective service draftee to leave local board No. 2, Gettysburg, for the army is back in civilian life after five years, lacking just a few days, of service. He is William Sanford Eskridge, 39, who volunteered for the draft and entered service November 25, 1940.

Mr. Eskridge has returned to Gettysburg and for the present he is making his home at 60 York street.

One of three who boarded the bus for Harrisburg and the only one sent by the local board here, Eskridge was accepted for induction. His two companions from

Today's Talk

GREETINGS
I like the idea of greeting people at various times and on occasions. The morning greeting to the different members of one's family, whose chance ones on the way to work, and then those throughout the day.

While waiting for my friend who has asked me to take luncheon with him at his club, I watch with interest the way the different men greet each other as they arrive for their midday meal. There is such a genuineness to men's handshake and greeting. The greeting is always half the joy of a meeting.

I can never forget my first visit to San Francisco. I walked out of my hotel and the first man I met bowed and wished me a "Good Morning!" That from a perfect stranger pleased me and made me like this beautiful city at once. I soon learned that there is a friendliness in this western part of the country that is inspiring. Many of the formalities are just dismissed. You feel at home in such a city.

It's the greeting that you get from a person whom you have never met that helps at once to form a good opinion of that one. First impressions are very important, and greetings have much to do with them.

Many a hero has returned to his home town to be greeted and honored. Such events prove to be an inspiration to all in that hero's home. Appreciation for fine deeds melts away all too soon — with all heroes.

I like the idea of greeting cards that have become so popular. It gives those who may be a trifle shy about personal writing the opportunity to send to another a sentiment happily suited to the particular occasion.

By greeting everyone else happily and sincerely, we add to our own well-being, as well as to theirs. "Good Morning!" "Good Night!" "Goodbye!" — what meaningful greetings!

Just Folks

JUST A BIT

A bit of the rain and a bit of the sun,
A bit of earth's beauty wherever we go;

A little of leisure when all the work's done,
This is the most that we're ever to know.

A bit of the blue and a bit of the gray,
A touch of the bitter, a taste of the sweet.

Some days to labor and some days to play,
This is the fate that we all have to meet.

A bit of the laughter, a bit of the woe,
A bit of the play till the curtain shall fall.

Life has so much for us mortals to know,
That the most we can get is a bit of it all.

DELINQUENT IN WITHHOLDING

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Internal Revenue Service said yesterday that 1,400 employers in the Philadelphia area were delinquent in turning over withholding deductions for their employees' income tax and social security.

Edgar A. McGinnis, district director of the Internal Revenue Service, said employers who continue not to pay money collected would be prosecuted. He said revenue agents will start calling on the employers next week to demand full payment.

NEW OXFORD HIGH YEARBOOK WINS STATE CONTEST

The New Oxford High School 1954 yearbook, the "Memento," was awarded first prize in a state wide yearbook and newspaper contest. Robert Broome, contest director of the Pennsylvania School Press Association, announced this week. This was the second consecutive year that the school has won first prize. In 1953 it won second prize.

Six hundred fifty books were entered in the contest by Pennsylvania schools. New Oxford won first prize with 975 points of a possible 1,000 in the contest held as part of the Pennsylvania School Press Association convention October 28 and 29 in Uniontown, Pa.

The book was 121 pages long with "Past, Present and Future" as the theme. John Haverstick was editor in chief; Kathryn Castellano, business manager; John Kratzert, class sponsor; Herbert Bryan, yearbook sponsor. Every member of the senior class was part of the production staff. The publisher was the Intercollegiate Press, Kansas City, Mo., and photography was done by Edmund's Studio, Hanover, and Dave's Photo Supply, Gettysburg.

The winning book also won "highest rating" at the annual national yearbook contest sponsored by the Journalism department of Ohio University, July 14.

Flood Reports Are Conflicting

CAMDEN, N.J. (AP)—The U.S. Army Engineers heard conflicting testimony yesterday that an increase in the depth of the Delaware River channel between Philadelphia and Trenton would create a dangerous flood situation and that it would reduce flood hazards.

The channel now is 25 feet in depth, according to the testimony. Harold J. Winkelspecht, chairman of the board of directors of the Delaware River Valley Assn., said an increase to a proposed 40 feet could produce a flood crest one to three feet higher "than we had in the past."

Winkelspecht warned that such a situation would be disastrous to river communities.

Thomas E. Bruder, consulting engineer for the Joint Executive Committee for the Improvement and Development of the Philadelphia Port Area, said a deeper channel would reduce flood hazards from hurricanes.

Bruder said a deeper channel would provide for more rapid discharge of storm waters below Trenton and therefore lower the flood crest rather than raise it.

EXPERTS PROBE PLANE CRASH

SEATTLE (AP)—The experts on sudden death met here today to begin the work of piecing together the broken fragments of a wrecked airliner and the stories of the people who saw it die.

Twenty-seven men died a fiery and horrible death when a big Peninsular Air Transport Co. plane bounced to explosive destruction early yesterday in the backyard of a suburban home. And 47 other persons, including a woman and three small children, survived.

It is upon the stories of the survivors and the few witnesses who watched the plane crack up out of a snowy sky that Civil Aeronautics Board investigators pin their hopes of solving the mystery.

There were some discrepancies in the accounts of eyewitnesses and men who were in the plane—as passengers or pilots. And the only sizable remaining piece of the once large DC4 is its tail surface, still resting in a charred backyard amidst a rubble of melted and twisted metal.

The investigators said they had no preconceived notions what caused the Miami-based plane to falter two miles south of Boeing Field, its takeoff point, hit a tree, a utility pole, and a garage and then break up and burn in the backyard of the Colin Dearing home.

Campbell Soup Co. Foresees Sharp Gains

CAMDEN, N.J. (AP)—Campbell Soup Co. expects sales records in the current fiscal year to be sharply ahead of last year's, its president said yesterday at Campbell's first public stockholders meeting in 85 years.

Campbell stock was privately held until a year ago. It now has more than 19,000 stockholders as the result of first public offering of 1,300,000 common shares last November.

President William B. Murphy, who presided at the meeting, was not as optimistic about profits as sales.

"As to profits," he said, "we do not care to make a prediction as to fiscal 1956, but you can be sure that your management is interested only in improving the company's business including its profits."

EDITORS SCORE WITH HOLDING OF NEWS FACTS

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—A resolution adopted by the Associated Press Managing Editors Assn., condemns governmental secrecy "that is withholding from American citizens facts about their own government that they are entitled to know."

The resolution says the APME 'deplores the fact that Executive Order 10-801, promulgated in 1953 for the handling of material involving military security, still permits civilian agencies not entitled to these powers to exercise classifying authority, allows too large a delegation of power, sets up no adequate system of continuous review of classifying operations and provides no penalties for military or civilian abuse of classifying powers to conceal or withhold information that can be safely released.'

Panel On Freedom
Approval of the resolution by voice vote, with a few dissents, came at the conclusion of a panel on freedom of information yesterday afternoon.

Rep. John E. Moss (D-Calif.) chairman of the House subcommittee on government operations, told the editors that secrecy in government goes beyond the right of a taxpayer to know how his money is spent.

Moss' subcommittee is charged with determining whether federal executive agencies are giving the public and news media "fullest possible information" about their activities.

Norman E. Isaacs of the Louisville Times presented the resolution on behalf of 20 managing editors. The signers included seven men who have served as president of APME. Five of the signers have served as head of Freedom of Information committees for APME, the American Society of Newspaper Editors or Sigma Delta Chi, professional journal fraternity.

Elected Officers
Elected president of the association for the next year was V. M. Newton, Jr., of the Tampa (Fla.) Tribune. The new vice president is Frank Eyerly of the Des Moines (Iowa) Register and Tribune. Coleman Harwell of the Nashville Tennessean was selected for secretary and Roderick Watts of the Houston (Tex) Chronicle was named treasurer.

Chosen general chairman for the 1956 Continuing Study Committee was Michael J. Ogden of the Providence (R.I.) Journal and Bulletin. John Colburn of the Richmond (Va.) Times Dispatch was picked for general vice chairman of the committee.

The directors decided to hold the association's 1956 convention at French Lick Springs, Ind. They had agreed in former years that the 1956 meeting would be held at Philadelphia and the 1957 session at New Orleans.

COLUMBIA PROF DIES
ner Moore, a retired professor of Latin and classics at Columbia University, died yesterday at 90.

A native of West Chester, Pa., Moore had been living here with a daughter, Janet G. Moore, for the past eight years.

SULTAN SEEKS FRENCH PACT

RABAT, French Morocco (AP)—Sultan Mohammed Ben Youssef today began looking for a Cabinet to negotiate a new pact with Paris to replace the 33-year-old protectorate over French Morocco.

In his speech from the throne yesterday, after two years' exile, the Sultan promised to direct the formation of such a government.

Mohammed Bekkai, long the Sultan's representative, said the first step would be to act on the resignation of the four-man council of the throne formed shortly before Ben Youssef's return.

Ben Youssef told 70,000 cheering Moroccans outside his palace during the throne speech that the negotiations would be one of the new government's main jobs. The talks are expected to take place in Paris and may last many months.

Among the main questions is whether Morocco will handle its own foreign and defense affairs or leave them in French hands.

IKE CHANGES NLRB MAKEUP

WASHINGTON (AP)—The National Labor Relations Board appeared headed today down the middle of the road in its administration of the Taft-Hartley labor law.

This emerged as the significance of a change President Eisenhower made yesterday in the board's leadership and in his selection of a fifth member of the panel.

He picked Boyd Leedom, 49, an NLRB member since last April, to be the new chairman. Leedom is a former justice of the South Dakota Supreme Court.

And Eisenhower reached into the ranks of NLRB examiners to pick Stephen S. Bean, 63, to fill a vacancy left when the term of Guy Farmer expired several months ago. Leedom and Bean are Republicans.

Chairman Is Surprise
Leedom's selection as chairman came as a surprise because Eisenhower had passed over Philip Ray Rodgers, senior Republican on the board and acting chairman, since Farmer had resigned.

In addition to Republicans Leedom, Bean and Rodgers, the board includes Abe Murdock, a former Democratic senator from Utah, and Ivar H. Peterson, former assistant to Sen. Morse (D-Ore). Peterson describes himself as a political independent.

Committee To Ask Temporary Service
SCRANTON, Pa. (AP)—A mayor's fact-finding committee on the seven-month-old Scranton transit strike decided yesterday to renew its demand that the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission provide temporary bus service to Scranton and Lackawanna County.

The decision was made after striking workers failed to attend a meeting of the seven-man committee and did not offer a proposal for settlement of the strike. The Scranton Transit Co. previously made a wage increase offer of 12 cents an hour.

Mayor James T. Hanlon's committee said it will visit PUC offices at Harrisburg next week to ask again for bus service.

ARGENTINES GET FREER PRESS UNDER NEW RULE

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—The week-old provisional government of Maj. Gen. Pedro Aramburu apparently is making sweeping moves to revive freedom of the press in Argentina after the tight controls of Peronism.

These are the steps already taken:
By decree, Aramburu yesterday wiped out the presidential press office, the big 1,400-man organization which under former President Juan Peron fed a steady stream of propaganda to newspapers, magazines, radio, television, and movies.

This was followed by a declaration from Subsecretary of the Interior Carlos Manuel Muniz that the government is seeking a "prompt solution" of the La Prensa case. That big, independent newspaper—a strong critic of Peronism—was expropriated in 1951 and turned over to the pro-Peron General Confederation of Labor.

Then the government announced it was lifting immediately its temporary administration intervention from the Socialist newspaper La Vanguardia and that the newspaper El Norte in Salta Province had resumed publication.

El Norte was closed Wednesday by the authorities and its editor, Luis Giacosa, was arrested for supporting an outlawed three-day general strike called by the CGT.

Kefauver Accuses National Body Of Favoring Stevenson

CHICAGO (AP)—Sen. Estes Kefauver says the Democratic National Committee has favored Adlai E. Stevenson's candidacy for the Democratic presidential nomination.

The Tennessee senator's verbal blast came at a news conference yesterday after his arrival for the current three-day meeting of party leaders.

Paul Butler, national committee chairman, denied Kefauver's charges.

Kefauver's accusations, made while other prospective candidates were going around shaking hands,

Reports Pending Strike With PRR
PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The CIO Transport Workers Union says it has refused to accept a presidential emergency board's findings on its dispute with the Pennsylvania Railroad and "there's a definite possibility there will be a strike."

Eugene V. Attree, director of the union's railroad division, said last night: "We are back where we started."

Representatives of the union and the PRR will meet here Tuesday to discuss the board's recommendations on a health and welfare fund, holiday pay and work classifications.

The union will be free to strike after Friday, under provisions of the National (Railroad) Labor Act, which provides for a 60-day "cooling off" period after a board is named. Attree said no strike date has been set.

The union claims to represent 22,560 nonoperating PRR employees.

The statement came after a Houston friend, R. Vernon Whiteside, told the Houston Chronicle that Johnson would enter the race for the Democratic nomination for president.

Kefauver, who reported he will announce his 1956 plans Dec. 16 or 17, spoke with the air of a man who already had made up his mind. And he talked of the possibility of entering specific primaries with an indication, if he runs, he will make a fight of it on a wide battleground.

Two Grid Upsets Today Can Upset Rose Bowl Plans For New Year's; TC Is After Bid

By ED CORRIGAN
The Associated Press

A grim guessing game called "who is going to the Rose Bowl?" was to be resolved today, the final big Saturday of the college football season, and if form followed the answer figured to come out Michigan and UCLA.

Both Michigan State and Oregon State were hopeful of tasting the gold and glory of the big Jan. 2 game in Pasadena, Calif.

Michigan had what appeared to be the more difficult task. That of beating a rough-and-tumble Ohio State. A Wolverine victory would send them West. An Ohio State triumph would give the bid to Michigan State as the Big Ten champion.

UCLA's task was to whip Southern California in the NCAA's television game of the day. The Uclans were without the services of their ace passer, Ronnie Knox who suffered a broken ankle last week. But even so, they rated a touchdown favorite over the Trojans.

Big 10 Race Confused
One other team could cement a bowl bid. That would be Texas Christian, which tangled with five-time-beaten Rice. A TCU victory would assure the Horned Frogs the host spot in the Cotton Bowl.

The Big 10 race has been confused all season and on this, its climax day, Michigan State could do no more than listen hopefully to radio accounts of the Michigan-Ohio State game while it played nonconference Marquette.

The Spartans finished their league season last week with a 5-1 mark. Before the Ohio State game, Michigan's record showed 6-1. Ohio State, which boasts a spotless loop record, is ineligible, having played in the Rose Bowl last year.

May Need Vote
If Southern Cal upended the Uclans and Oregon State scored its expected victory over Oregon, a vote would have to be taken to pick the coast team, for State would show a 6-1 record compared to 5-1 for UCLA.

The ancient Ivy League championship also was scheduled to be decided. The big game was in Princeton, N. J., where Princeton played host to Dartmouth. The Tigers needed the victory to wrap up the crown.

If Princeton faltered, Yale was ready to step in. A combination Yale triumph over Harvard and a Dartmouth victory over Princeton would give the mythical title to the Elis.

Other Grid Clashes
Nebraska met Oklahoma, the top team in the land. The Sooners have won 27 games in a row and haven't been defeated in the Big Seven in 52 games.

Maryland, Oklahoma's Orange Bowl opponent, was 20 points-plus over George Washington.

Four other teams that are in the running for bowl berths moved into action with victories a must. West Virginia, trying to regain some of its lost prestige suffered in the Pitt defeat last week, took on Syracuse Pitt, itself now a candidate, went against Penn State.

Auburn and Tennessee, both nursing Sugar Bowl hopes, tangled with Clemson and Kentucky. Miami scored an expected victory over Alabama, 34-12, in the only important game last night. Fullback Don Bosseler hit the Crimson Tide line for three touchdowns.

LIONS BATTLE BEARS SUNDAY

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Detroit Lions, perking up too late for a title shot, have revived just in time to take a spoiler's role in the Western Conference battle in the National Football League.

Detroit, winning its last two after dropping the first six, is about the only blockade remaining between the resurgent Chicago Bears and their first NFL playoff berth since 1946.

The Lions, who have ruled the West for three years and have dropped only three decisions to the Bears in four seasons, have two shots at the Bruins. The first comes tomorrow in Detroit and a Lion victory could drop Chicago from a first place tie with the Los Angeles Rams.

Rams Vs. Colts
The Rams have two left with the Baltimore Colts, the first one coming tomorrow in Baltimore.

Green Bay plays the fifth place San Francisco 49ers (3-5) at Milwaukee tomorrow.

In the Eastern Conference, where the Cleveland Browns were generally conceded their sixth straight title, the Washington Redskins are breathing down their necks. The Browns are 6-2, the Skins 5-3.

Pittsburgh (4-4) also is in the race and the Steelers take the bull by the horns against the Browns at Cleveland tomorrow. Washington is in Chicago to play the Cards.

Philadelphia is at New York against the Giants, the cellar club with a 3-5 showing.

"THE STILT" IS CALLED FINEST IN CAGE GAME

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP)—"There's no question about it—he's the greatest basketball player alive today."

Dr. Forrest C. Allen, veteran University of Kansas basketball coach didn't hesitate last night in applying that tag to Wilt "The Stilt" Chamberlain.

And the 7-foot Chamberlain is only a freshman.

Allen and 14,000 others watched in amazement as the big but graceful Negro poured in 42 points in leading the Kansas freshmen in a 81-71 victory over the Jayhawk varsity.

Allen, starting his 39th season at Kansas and who celebrated his 70th birthday yesterday, seldom is at a loss for words when it comes to talking about his favorite sport. But he had a hard time finding the superlatives to describe Chamberlain.

Chamberlain, who was "cold" the first few minutes, dropped in 16 of 35 field goal attempts and hit 10 free throws. He came within two points of the all-time Kansas individual single-game scoring record held jointly by Clyde Lovellette, now with the professional Minneapolis Lakers, and B. H. Born. He grabbed 18 defensive rebounds and six under his own basket.

Chamberlain was a little disappointed with his performance early in the game. "It wasn't butterflied," he said. "Heck, I've played lots of basketball. I just couldn't hit."

Allen concedes Chamberlain still has a few rough edges but is quick to learn. Wilt, who scored 2,252 points in three years for Overbrook High School in Philadelphia, literally slams the ball down through the nets when he goes up for a shot under the basket.

Pleads Guilty In Ulster Bank Job

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP)—Twenty-seven-year-old Linwood White of Newark, N. J., pleaded guilty yesterday to attempting to rob the First National Bank of Ulster, Pa., in Bradford County.

Judge John W. Murphy deferred sentencing White, wife, Henrietta, 42, and Philip G. Anthony, 43, await trial on similar charges. White was arrested Sept. 12 several hours after the robbery attempt.

A 200-pound bear was shot by James C. Hoak, Gettysburg, and Paul Dellinger Jr., Gettysburg R. D., in Elk County this week. Other members of the hunting party from "Lucky Ten" camp were: Albert Plank Jr., James Shaffer, Elmer Plank, and Roy Swope, all of Gettysburg R. D.; Raymond Slothour, New Oxford R. D.; Homer Bookwalter, Carlisle R. D.; John H. Gouse, Dillsburg R. D.; Dean Naugle, Orrtanna R. D.; and Thomas Anderson, Mechanicsburg R. D.

CASSADY LONE STAR IN DRAB BUCKEYE SCENE

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio State isn't doing too well, but Howard (Hopalong) Cassidy, the Bucks' classy ball-carrier, is the same sensational All-America he was in 1954.

The Bucks, who won the Western Conference, National and Rose Bowl championships last season with a 10-in-a-row performance, have been beaten in two of six games this campaign.

But without red-haired, freckled Cassidy, Ohio could well have a worse record.

The 176-pound back, in the 28-20 opening win over Nebraska, scored the first three touchdowns and set up the fourth with a 43-yard jaunt to the two-yard line.

Rough On Illini
In the 20-12 victory over Illinois, he matched the entire Illini output with two touchdowns. And in the 20-14 loss to Duke's unbeaten Blue Devils, the redhead scored one touchdown on a 38-yard punt return, recovered a fumble and generally made a nuisance of himself to the southerners.

In the 49-0 rout of Northwestern he ran for two touchdowns. A year ago, in making the All-America, Cassidy scored only six touchdowns in 10 games.

He has surpassed that total already with the season half completed.

Coach Woody Hayes, pilot of the Bucks, said: "Hoppy is the one youngster you never have to worry about. He's an All-America every day, in every way. I don't know what we'd do without him. He's out there game-breaker, and the kid the other fellow has to stop if he wants to beat us."

"Hoppy has a six-stitch cut in his nose, suffered in the Duke game, and a pulled muscle in his leg. But he's a quick-healer and full of desire."

Kickers Shy Away
Opposing kickers don't like to boot the ball into Cassidy's territory, but he's managed to get his hands on four kickoffs for a total return of 133 yards, an average of 33 and he's snagged three punts for a return of 59 yards, an average of 19 2/3.

He was the big pass receiver last year, but he's the decoy this season in a pass attack which just isn't functioning.

BOWL BIDS UP IN PITT-PENN GAME

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP)—The Pitt Panthers and the Nittany Lions of Penn State were ready to meet on the gridiron here today with the possibility of a bowl bid for both teams hanging in the balance.

The Panthers, with a 6-3 season record, will be in quest of their best record since 1938 when the team won eight and lost two.

This will be the 55th time the two teams meet. Pitt has a 20-22 edge over their rivals.

Pitt reportedly is in line for a Sugar or Gator Bowl bid if it wins Penn State might also get a bowl bid if it wins. The record is 5-3.

Lenny Moore, the Penn State halfback who has broken many Penn State records, will be playing his last college game. A capacity crowd of some 33,000 spectators is expected.

HEAVY WINTER SCHEDULE FOR BIGGER TEAMS

A heavy winter sports schedule for Biglerville High School athletic teams was announced today by Arthur M. Gordon, athletic director. The boys' varsity basketball squad will play 22 games, the girls will play seven and the wrestling team will engage in eight dual meets. Eight games, with three open dates, have been arranged for the Junior High dribblers.

The schedule for the boys, who will be coached by Richard Allison, assisted by Donald Sterner, follows: December 2, Shippensburg, home; 6, Delone, away; 9, Musselman, Inwood, Ga., away; 13, Shippensburg, away; 15, Delone, home; 20, Spring Grove, away; 22, Musselman at Inwood; 27, Alumni, home.

KEELTY WILL HEAD ORIOLES

BALTIMORE (AP)—Building contractor James Keelty Jr. was elected president of the Baltimore Orioles yesterday to replace Clarence W. Miles.

Keelty, 43, will serve unpaid in the position for which Miles got $25,000 a year.

The Baltimore builder was promoted from vice president, and the position he vacated was not filled. Neither Keelty nor other Orioles directors would discuss the reason, but speculation is that a suggestion of Miles is back of it.

Miles, who promoted the money to bring the American League franchise to Baltimore from St. Louis two years ago, said when he resigned that the club ought to hire an "experienced baseball executive." It has no such individual presently, and talk was that if one is hired, he might have the title of "executive vice president."

WFBG-TV SALE AWAITS FCC NOD

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Communications Commission was asked by Triangle Publications of Philadelphia yesterday for authorization to purchase radio station WFBG and WFBG-TV at Altoona, Pa. The purchase price given was $1 1/2 million dollars.

Triangle Publications said the stations would be made available to Pennsylvania State University for a daily education broadcast financed by a $10,000 endowment from Triangle during the next five years.

Triangle is publisher of the Philadelphia Inquirer and owner of broadcasting outlets in Philadelphia and elsewhere.

Penn State Broadcast
The Altoona stations now are owned by Gable Broadcasting Co. Triangle's application for the purchase included an agreement between University President Milton Eisenhower and Inquirer Publisher Walter Amberg that the university would produce a live "Home and Farm Life" television program six days a week. Under the agreement, Penn State also would televise its Sunday chapel services.

Amberg said the broadcasts would be made available to other educational institutions and TV stations for re-broadcast.

Nittany onists say that would not be before cooking will wash much of the flavor and food value down the drain.

phones among the chairs for the reporters. A microphone is on the table for White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty.

"Make It Short"

A few reporters had gathered awaiting Hagerty. The official stenographer, who takes full notes on what is said at each conference, was already at the table.

A few minutes after four Hagerty emerged from his office in the press room and walked to the table. There was a scramble of reporters to the chairs and an aide closed the door to the press room.

Hagerty grinned and said: "I'll make this very short. I've nothing to announce. General Alfred Gruenther arrived at the farm about 2:30 o'clock. He and the president and Admiral Lewis Strauss, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, were there. They visited on the enclosed porch at the President's farm. The President conversed with Admiral Strauss on AEC matters about a half hour in his den at the farm. Admiral Strauss is due to leave soon. George Allen is at the farm. And since Gen. Gruenther is staying overnight I imagine there will be a bridge game."

Someone interrupted, "Who will be the fourth?"

Has House Guest
"I don't know. I'll try to find out," said Hagerty.

A reported inquiry about Dulles' visit to the farm in the afternoon and at the office in the post office in the morning. Hagerty observed, "I imagine it was more a matter of convenience."

The press secretary added, "There are no visitors planned for tomorrow. General Gruenther is to be a house guest."

"Does the President plan to watch the Secretary of State on television tonight?" queried another.

Hagerty's response was, "I can't tell you that, but he asked what time the broadcasts were to be and I told him. Of course he is quite familiar with the speech."

At this moment a secretary handed Hagerty a note and he told the press, "Admiral Strauss just left the farm."

Hagerty then added: "There will be no tour of the farm tomorrow. Give me time to work on that."

Message From President

Hagerty was asked about Dulles' meeting with the President.

"After the Secretary of State finished his report last evening (Thursday evening) on the Geneva conference—it was an elaboration on his cables—they spent considerable time discussing Secretary Dulles' speech. The Secretary worked on the speech last night at the Hotel Gettysburg and picked it up again this morning at 8 o'clock with his staff. When he was at the President's office this morning they went over it page by page. The President has given and the Secretary will use a message from the President, a message to the people, when the Secretary makes his speech this evening. It is short."

In response to an inquiry, Hagerty added, "The President told the Secretary the message he wanted him to give the people, and the Secretary took notes. I would say verbatim notes."

Concerning the weekend, Hagerty answered questions by observing, "I hope it will be a quiet one. There will be one press conference tomorrow, at noon, on the same schedule as at Washington."

Hagerty Is Obliging
Queried on Sunday press conferences, Hagerty asked "What do you want? I imagine one I'll be around I'll put a 'nothing doing' on the bulletin board if you want. At noon tomorrow I can tell better. Suppose we decide on Sunday's hour for conference then."

A reporter asked whether, in view of the bridge game, the President will stay up late Friday night, or go to bed at the usual 9 to 9:30 hour. Hagerty grinned and observed, "I imagine it will depend on the interest in the game."

Merriman Smith, dean of White House reporters, said, "Thank you, Sir" and the reporters, the conference concluded, scattered to desks and phones to send the news of the conference to the world.

Smog Damages Car, Glasses, Nerves

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Southern California smog has been blamed for something new.

E. R. Murray, whose home is Kentfield, Calif., near San Francisco, has presented to the Los Angeles City Council a claim for $147.50 damages which he said the smog did to his automobile, his eye glasses and his nerves.

The smog, he said, caused his automobile to change color while he was driving recently between Huntington and Malibu beaches. He blamed it for $30 damages to his glasses, which were broken; $90 for a new auto paint job. The nervous tension, he appraised at $27.50.

The council hasn't acted.

ATHLETIC GROUP AT ST. FRANCIS IS ORGANIZED

Frank Linn was elected president of the Athletic Council at St. Francis Xavier Catholic School at a meeting held in the school Friday evening. The council will provide sponsorship for two basketball teams during the winter months and other sports events during the year.

Joseph Hess was named as vice president and George Evanko secretary-treasurer. G. Noel Flynn was named as coach, with Joseph Hess as assistant coach.

Start Friday
Plans outlined Friday evening call for a team comprising fifth and sixth grade students and a team comprising seventh and eighth grade students to be organized starting Monday evening. Students at the school planning to participate on the teams are to report in the auditorium-gymnasium at 3:30 o'clock — immediately after school closes.

The group plans to purchase a dozen new uniforms for the teams. This will mark the second year a St. Francis Xavier basketball team has been in operation. Last year the team, appearing for the first time, made a creditable showing in a short season.

G. Noel Flynn was named as representative to a league to be comprised of Annunciation School, McSherrytown; St. Joseph's and St. Vincent's schools, Hanover, and St. Francis Xavier School.

BOSTON (AP)—The Boston Daily Record today said it had learned "from a reliable source" that the Boston Red Sox have traded pitcher Mel Parnell and Russ Kemmerer and infielder Ted Lepcio to Chicago for pitcher Virgil Trucks and outfielder Bob Nieman.

The Record said the trade "definitely" has been made and "will be announced as soon as the football weekend is off the sports pages."

PASTRANO WINS DECISION IN GARDEN SCRAP

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP)—Willie Pastrano from New Orleans looks like the best young fighting man to hit the big time since Floyd Patterson came home from the 1952 Olympics.

The nimble dancing master from the bayou land—now transplanted to Miami Beach—may not be able to knock your hat off but he can make all the moves. He made most of them last night at Madison Square Garden while beating Joe Rowan, a plodding aggressor, on a unanimous decision in 10 rounds.

After the match, Harry Markson, managing director of the International Boxing Club, was calling Willie "a big edition of Willie Pep," Markson has in mind a rematch with Chuck Spelner, whom Pastrano beat July 27, or a possible bout with the winner of the Paul Andrews-Bob Satterfield contest at Buffalo, Nov. 29.

Seek Patterson Bout
Those who watched the 19-year-old heavyweight could think of nothing but a match between Pastrano and Patterson, current No. 1 challenger to lightweight Champ Archie Moore. Pastrano weighed 181 1/2, the same as Rowan.

Pastrano convinced all three officials of his class. Referee Ruby Goldstein and Judge Jack Gordon saw it 7-2-1 and Judge Artie Aldida had it 7-3. The AP card was 8-2, also for Pastrano.

Except for the first and ninth round, it was all Pastrano. Pastrano, unbeaten in his last 14 starts, now owns a 34-4-4 lifetime record for 42 pro starts. His last defeat was by Italo Scorticini Nov. 30, 1953.

2 County Hunters Shoot 200-Lb. Bear

A 200-pound bear was shot by James C. Hoak, Gettysburg, and Paul Dellinger Jr., Gettysburg R. D., in Elk County this week. Other members of the hunting party from "Lucky Ten" camp were: Albert Plank Jr., James Shaffer, Elmer Plank, and Roy Swope, all of Gettysburg R. D.; Raymond Siothour, New Oxford R. D.; Homer Bookwalter, Carlisle R. D.; John H. Gause, Dillsburg R. D.; Dean Naugle, Orrtanna R. D., and Thomas Anderson, Mechanicsburg R. D.

CASSADY LONE STAR IN DRAB BUCKEYE SCENE

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio State isn't doing too well, but Howard (Hopalong) Cassady, the Bucks' classy ball-carrier, is the same sensational All-America he was in 1954.

The Bucks, who won the Western Conference, National and Rose Bowl championships last season with a 10-0 record, have been beaten in two of six games this campaign.

But without red-haired, freckled Cassady, Ohio could well have a worse record.

The 176-pound back, in the 28-20 opening win over Nebraska, scored the first three touchdowns and set up the fourth with a 43-yard jaunt to the two-yard line.

Rough On Illini

In the 20-12 victory over Illinois, he matched the entire Illini output with two touchdowns. And in the 20-14 loss to Duke's unbeaten Blue Devils, the redhead scored one touchdown on a 38-yard punt return, recovered a fumble and generally made a nuisance of himself to the southerners.

In the 49-0 rout of Northwestern he ran for two touchdowns.

A year ago, in making the All-America, Cassady scored only six touchdowns in 10 games.

He has surpassed that total already with the season half completed.

Coach Woody Hayes, pilot of the Bucks, said: "Hoppy is the one youngster you never have to worry about. He's an All-America every day, in every way. I don't know what we'd do without him. He's out game-breaker, and the kid the other fellow has to stop if he wants to beat us."

"Hoppy has a six-stitch cut in his nose, suffered in the Duke game, and a pulled muscle in his leg. But he's a quick-healer and full of desire."

Kickers Shy Away

Opposing kickers don't like to boot the ball into Cassady's territory, but he's managed to get his hands on four kickoffs for a total return of 133 yards, an average of 33. And he's snagged three punts for a return of 59 yards, an average of 19.6.

He was the big pass receiver last year, but he's the decoy this season in a pass attack which just isn't functioning.

Pitt reportedly is in line for a Sugar or Gator Bowl bid if it wins. Penn State might also get a bowl bid if it wins. Their record is 5-3.

Lenny Moore, the Penn State halfback who has broken many Penn State records, will be playing his last college game. A capacity crowd of some 33,000 spectators is expected.

BOWL BIDS UP IN PITT-PENN GAME

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP) — The Pitt Panthers and the Nittany Lions of Penn State were ready to meet on the gridiron here today with the possibility of a bowl bid for both teams hanging in the balance.

The Panthers, with a 6-3 season record, will be in quest of their best record since 1938 when the team won eight and lost two.

This will be the 55th time the two teams meet. Pitt has a 30-22-2 edge over their rivals.

Pitt reportedly is in line for a Sugar or Gator Bowl bid if it wins. Penn State might also get a bowl bid if it wins. Their record is 5-3.

HEAVY WINTER SCHEDULE FOR BIGGER TEAMS

A heavy winter sports schedule for Biglerville High School athletic teams was announced today by Arthur M. Gordon, athletic director.

The boys' varsity basketball team will play 22 games, the girls will play seven and the wrestling team will engage in eight dual meets. Eight games, with three open dates, have been arranged for the Junior High dribblers.

The schedule for the boys, who will be coached by Richard Allison, assisted by Donald Sterner, follows: December 2, Shippensburg, home; 6, Delone, away; 9, Musselman, Inwood, Ga., away; 13, Shippensburg, away; 15, Delone, home; 20, Spring Grove, away; 22, Musselman at Inwood; 27, Alumnus, home.

January 3, New Oxford, away; 6, York Springs, home; 10, Bolling Springs, home; 13, East Berlin, away; 17, Fairfield, home; 20, Newville, home; 24, Littlestown, away; 27, New Oxford, home; 31, York Springs, away.

February 3, Bolling Springs, away; 7, East Berlin, home; 10, Fairfield, away; 14, Newville, away; 17, Littlestown, home.

Girls' Games

Janice Lupp's girls will play the following contests:

January 6, York Springs, home; 13, East Berlin, away; 20, Newville, home; 27, New Oxford, home; February 3, Bolling Springs, away; 10, Fairfield, away; 17, Littlestown, home.

Junior High

Bill Coradetti's Junior High team will face the following schedule:

January 3, Hanover, away; 10, Washington Twp., away; 13, Hanover, home; 25, Fairfield, 7th and 8th grades, away; 31, open; February 3, Fairfield, 7th and 8th grades, home; 7, open; 14, Washington Twp., home; 17, open; 21, Bolling Springs, away; March 1, Bolling Springs, home.

Wrestling Matches

KEELTY WILL HEAD ORIOLES

BALTIMORE (AP) — Building contractor James Keelty Jr. was elected president of the Baltimore Orioles yesterday to replace Clarence W. Miles.

Keelty, 43, will serve unpaid in the position for which Miles got $25,000 a year.

The Baltimore builder was promoted from vice president, and the position he vacated was not filled. Neither Keelty nor other Orioles directors would discuss the reason, but speculation is that a suggestion of Miles is back of it.

Miles, who promoted the money to bring the American League franchise to Baltimore from St. Louis two years ago, said when he resigned that the club ought to hire an "experienced baseball executive." It has no such individual presently, and talk was that if one is hired, he might have the title of "executive vice president."

WFBG-TV SALE AWAITS FCC NOD

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Communications Commission was asked by Triangle Publications of Philadelphia yesterday for authorization to purchase radio station WFBG and WFBG-TV at Altoona, Pa. The purchase price given was 3 1/2 million dollars.

Triangle Publications said the stations would be made available to Pennsylvania State University for a daily education broadcast financed by a $10,000 endowment from Triangle during the next five years.

Triangle is publisher of the Philadelphia Inquirer and owner of broadcasting outlets in Philadelphia and elsewhere.

Penn State Broadcast

The Altoona stations now are owned by Gable Broadcasting Co. Triangle's application for the purchase included an agreement between University President Milton Eisenhower and Inquirer Publisher Walter Annenberg that the university would produce a live "Home and Farm Life" television program six days a week. Under the agreement, Penn State also would televise its Sunday chapel services.

Annenberg said the telecasts would be made available to other educational institutions and TV stations for re-broadcast.

phones among the chairs for the reporters. A microphone is on the table for White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty.

"Make It Short"

A few reporters had gathered awaiting Hagerty. The official stenographer, who takes full notes on what is said at each conference, was already at the table.

A few minutes after four Hagerty emerged from his office in the press room and walked to the table. There was a scramble of reporters to the chairs and an aide closed the door to the press room.

Hagerty grinned and said: "I'll make this very short. I've nothing to announce. General Alfred Gruenther arrived at the farm about 2:30 o'clock. He and the president and Admiral Lewis Strauss, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, were there. They visited on the enclosed porch at the President's farm. The President conversed with Admiral Strauss on AEC matters about a half hour in his den at the farm. Admiral Strauss is due to leave soon. George Allen is at the farm. And since Gen. Gruenther is staying overnight I imagine there will be a bridge game."

Someone interrupted. "Who will be the fourth?"

Has House Guest

"I don't know. I'll try to find out," said Hagerty.

A reporter inquired about Dulles' visit to the farm in the afternoon and at the office in the post office in the morning. Hagerty observed, "I imagine it was more a matter of convenience."

The press secretary added, "There are no visitors planned for tomorrow. General Gruenther is to be a house guest."

"Does the President plan to watch the Secretary of State on television tonight?" queried another.

Hagerty's response was, "I can't tell you that, but he asked what time the broadcasts were to be and I told him. Of course he is quite familiar with the speech."

At this moment a secretary handed Hagerty a note and he told the press, "Admiral Strauss just left the farm."

Hagerty then added: "There will be no tour of the farm tomorrow. Give me time to work on that."

Message From President

Hagerty was asked about Dulles' meeting with the President.

"After the Secretary of State finished his report last evening (Thursday evening) on the Geneva conference—it was an elaboration on his cables—they spent considerable time discussing Secretary Dulles' speech. The Secretary worked on the speech last night at the Hotel Gettysburg and picked it up again this morning at 8 o'clock with his staff. When he was at the President's office this morning they went over it page by page. The President has given and the Secretary will use a message from the people, when the Secretary makes his speech this evening. It is short."

In response to an inquiry, Hagerty added, "The President told the Secretary the message he wanted him to give the people, and the Secretary took notes. I would say verbatim notes."

Concerning the weekend, Hagerty answered questions by observing, "I hope it will be a quiet one. There will be one press conference tomorrow, at noon, on the same schedule as at Washington."

Hagerty Is Obliging

Queried on Sunday press conferences, Hagerty asked "What do you want? I imagine one. I'll be around. I'll put a 'nothing doing' on the bulletin board if you want. At noon tomorrow I can tell better. Suppose we decide on Sunday's hour for conference then."

A reporter asked whether, in view of the bridge game, the President will stay up late Friday night, or go to bed at the usual 9 to 9:30 hour. Hagerty grinned and observed, "I imagine it will depend on the interest in the game."

Merriman Smith, dean of White House reporters, said, "Thank you, Sir," and the reporters, the conference concluded, scattered to desks and phones to send the news of the conference to the world.

Smog Damages Car, Glasses, Nerves

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Southern California smog has been blamed for something new.

E. R. Murray, whose home is Kentfield, Calif., near San Francisco, has presented to the Los Angeles City Council a claim for $147.50 damages which he said the smog did to his automobile, his eye glasses and his nerves.

The smog, he said, caused his automobile to change color while he was driving recently between Huntington and Malibu beaches. He blamed it for $30 damages to his glasses, which were broken; $90 for a new auto paint job. The nervous tension he appraised at $27.50.

The council hasn't acted.

ATHLETIC GROUP AT ST. FRANCIS IS ORGANIZED

Frank Linn was elected president of the Athletic Council at St. Francis Xavier Catholic School at a meeting held in the school Friday evening. The council will provide sponsorship for two basketball teams during the winter months and other sports events during the year.

Joseph Hess was named as vice president and George Evanko secretary-treasurer. G. Noel Flynn was named as coach, with Joseph Hess as assistant coach.

Start Monday

Plans outlined Friday evening call for a team comprising fifth and sixth grade students and a team comprising seventh and eighth grade students to be organized starting Monday evening.

Students at the school planning to participate on the teams are to report in the auditorium-gymnasium at 3:30 o'clock — immediately after school closes.

The group plans to purchase a dozen new uniforms for the teams. This will mark the second year a St. Francis Xavier basketball team has been in operation. Last year the team, appearing for the first time, made a creditable showing in a short season.

G. Noel Flynn was named as representative to a league to be comprised of Annunciation School, McSherrytown; St. Joseph's and St. Vincent's schools, Hanover, and St. Francis Xavier School.

Paper Reports Trade By Boston Red Sox

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Daily Record today said it had learned "from a reliable source" that the Boston Red Sox have traded pitchers Mel Parnell and Russ Kemmerer and infielder Ted Lepcio to Chicago for pitcher Virgil Trucks and outfielder Bob Nieman.

The Record said the trade "definitely" has been made and "will be announced as soon as the football weekend is off the sports pages."

General Manager Joe Cronin of the Red Sox was not available for comment.

PASTRANO WINS DECISION IN GARDEN SCRAP

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP) — Willie Pastrano from New Orleans looks like the best young fighting man to hit the big time since Floyd Patterson came home from the 1952 Olympics.

The nimble dancing master from the bayou land—now transplanted to Miami Beach—may not be able to knock your hat off but he can make all the moves. He made most of them last night at Madison Square Garden while beating Joe Rowan, a plodding aggressor, on a unanimous decision in 10 rounds.

After the match, Harry Markson, managing director of the International Boxing Club, was calling Willie "a big edition of Willie Pep." Markson has in mind a rematch with Chuck Spieser, whom Pastrano beat July 27, or a possible bout with the winner of the Paul Andrews-Bob Satterfield contest at Buffalo, Nov. 29.

Seek Patterson Bout

Those who watched the 19-year-old heavyweight could think of nothing but a match between Pastrano and Patterson, current No. 1 challenger to lightweight Champ Archie Moore. Pastrano weighed 181 1/2, the same as Rowan.

Pastrano convinced all three officials of his class, Referee Ruby Goldstein and Judge Jack Gordon saw it 7-2-1 and Judge Artie Aldida had it 7-3. The AP card was 8-2, also for Pastrano.

Except for the first and ninth round, it was all Pastrano. Pastrano, unbeaten in his last 14 starts, now owns a 34-4 lifetime record for 42 pro starts. His last defeat was by Italo Scorticini Nov. 30, 1953.

Today's Talk

GREETINGS

I like the idea of greeting people at various times and on occasions. The morning greeting to the different members of one's family, those chance ones on the way to work, and then those throughout the day.

While waiting for my friend who has asked me to take luncheon with him at his club, I watch with interest the way the different men greet each other as they arrive for their midday meal. There is such a genuineness to men's handshake and greeting. The greeting is always half the joy of a meeting.

I can never forget my first visit to San Francisco. I walked out of my hotel and the first man I met bowed and wished me a "Good Morning." That from a perfect stranger pleased me and made me like this beautiful city at once. I soon learned that there is a friendliness in this western part of the country that is inspiring. Many of the formalities are just dismissed. You feel at home in such a city.

It's the greeting that you get from a person whom you have never met that helps at once to form a good opinion of that one. First impressions are very important, and greetings have much to do with them.

Many a hero has returned to his home town to be greeted and honored. Such events prove to be an inspiration to all in that hero's home. Appreciation for fine deeds melts away all too soon — with all heroes.

I like the idea of greeting cards that have become so popular. It gives those who may be a trifle shy about personal writing the opportunity to send to another a sentiment happily suited to the particular occasion.

By greeting everyone else happily and sincerely, we add to our own well-being, as well as to theirs. "Good Morning!" "Good Night!" "Goodbye!" — what meaningful greetings!

Just Folks

JUST A BIT

A bit of the rain and a bit of the sun,

A bit of earth's beauty wherever we go;

A little of leisure when all the work's done,

This is the most that we're ever to know.

A bit of the blue and a bit of the gray,

A touch of the bitter, a taste of the sweet,

Some days to labor and some days to play,

This is the fate that we all have to meet.

A bit of the laughter, a bit of the woe,

A bit of the play till the curtain shall fall,

Life has so much for us mortals to know,

That the most we can get is a bit of it all.

DELINQUENT IN WITHHOLDING

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Internal Revenue Service said yesterday that 1,400 employers in the Philadelphia area were delinquent in withholding deductions for their employees' income tax and social security.

Felix A. McGinness, district director of the Internal Revenue Service, said employers who continue not to pay money collected would be prosecuted. He said revenue agents will start calling on the employers next week to demand full payment.

NEW OXFORD HIGH SCHOOL YEARBOOK WINS STATE CONTEST

The New Oxford High School 1954 yearbook "Memento," was awarded first prize in a state wide yearbook and newspaper contest. Robert Broome, contest director of the Pennsylvania School Press Association, announced this week. This was the second consecutive year that the school has won first prize. In 1953 it won second prize.

Six hundred fifty books were entered in the contest by Pennsylvania schools. New Oxford won first prize with 975 points of a possible 1,000 in the overall yearbook division in the contest held as part of the Pennsylvania School Press Association convention October 28 and 29 in Uniontown, Pa.

The book was 121 pages long with "Past, Present and Future" as the theme. John Haverstick was editor in chief, Kathryn Castellano, business manager; John Kratzert, class sponsor; Herbert Bryan, yearbook sponsor. Every member of the senior class was part of the production staff. The publisher was the Intercollegiate Press, Kansas City, Mo., and photography was done by Edmund's Studio, Hanover, and Dave's Photo Supply, Gettysburg.

The winning book also won "highest rating" at the annual national yearbook contest sponsored by the Journalism department of Ohio University, July 14.

Flood Reports Are Conflicting

CAMDEN, N.J. (AP)—The U.S. Army Engineers heard conflicting testimony yesterday that an increase in the depth of the Delaware River channel between Philadelphia and Trenton would create a dangerous flood situation and that it would reduce flood hazards. The channel now is 25 feet in depth, according to the testimony.

Harold J. Winkelspecht, chairman of the board of directors of the Delaware River Valley Assn., said an increase to a proposed 40 feet could produce a flood crest one to three feet higher "than we had in the past."

Winkelspecht warned that such a situation would be disastrous to river communities.

Thomas E. Bruder, consulting engineer for the Joint Executive Committee for the Improvement and Development of the Philadelphia Port Area, said a deeper channel would reduce flood hazards from hurricanes.

Bruder said a deeper channel would provide for more rapid discharge of storm waters below Trenton and therefore lower the flood crest rather than raise it.

EXPERTS PROBE PLANE CRASH

SEATTLE (AP)—The experts on sudden death met here today to begin the work of piecing together the broken fragments of a wrecked airliner and the stories of the people who saw it die.

Twenty-seven men died a fiery and horrible death when a big Penninsular Air Transport Co. plane bounced to explosive destruction early yesterday in the backyard of a suburban home. And 47 other persons, including a woman and three small children, survived.

It is upon the stories of the survivors and the few witnesses who watched the plane crash up out of a snowy sky that Civil Aeronautics Board investigators pin their hopes of solving the mystery.

There were some discrepancies in the accounts of eyewitnesses and men who were in the plane—as passengers or pilots. And the oblique surviving piece of the once large DC4 is its tail surface, still resting in a charred backyard amidst a rubble of melted and twisted metal.

The investigators said they had no preconceived notions of what caused the Miami-based plane to faller two miles south of Boeing Field its takeoff point, hit a tree, a utility pole, and a garage and then break up and burn in the backyard of the Colin Dearing home.

Campbell Soup Co. Foresees Sharp Gains

CAMDEN, N.J. (AP)—Campbell Soup Co. expects sales records in the current fiscal year to be sharp. In ahead of last year's its president said yesterday at Campbell's first public stockholders meeting in 85 years.

Campbell stock was privately held until a year ago. It now has more than 19,000 stockholders as the result of the first public offering of 1,300,000 common shares last November.

President William B. Murphy, who presided at the meeting, was not as optimistic about profits as sales.

As to profits, he said "we do not care to make a prediction as to fiscal 1955 but you can be sure that our management is interested only in improving the company's business including its profits."

When President and Mrs. Eisenhower drove to Gettysburg on Monday to spend several weeks following the President's recent heart attack they were greeted by the above self-explanatory welcome which had been erected along the Emmitsburg Rd.

EDITORS SCORE WITH HOLDING OF NEWS FACTS

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—A resolution adopted by the Associated Press Managing Editors Assn., condemns governmental secrecy "that is withholding from American citizens facts about their own government that they are entitled to know."

The resolution says the APME "deplores the fact that Executive Order 10-501, promulgated in 1953 for the handling of material involving military security, still permits civilian agencies not entitled to these powers to exercise classifying authority, allows too large a delegation of power, sets up no adequate system of continuous review of classifying operations and provides no penalties for military or civilian abuse of classifying powers to conceal or withhold information that can be safely released."

Panel On Freedom

Approval of the resolution by voice vote, with a few dissenters came at the conclusion of a panel on freedom of information yesterday afternoon.

Rep. John E. Moss (D-Calif.) chairman of the House subcommittee on government operations, told the editors that secrecy in government goes beyond the right of a taxpayer to know how his money is spent.

Moss' subcommittee is charged with determining whether federal executive agencies are giving the public and news media "fullest possible information" about their activities.

Norman E. Isaacs of the Louisville Times presented the resolution on behalf of 20 managing editors. The signers included seven men who have served as president of APME. Five of the signers have served as head of Freedom of Information committees for APME, the American Society of Newspaper Editors or Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism fraternity.

Elected Officers

Elected president of the association for the next year was V. M. Newton, Jr. of the Tampa (Fla.) Tribune. The new vice president is Frank Everly of the Des Moines (Iowa) Register and Tribune. Coleman Harwell of the Nashville Tennessee was selected for secretary and Roderick Watts of the Houston (Tex.) Chronicle was named treasurer.

Chosen general chairman for the 1956 Continuation Study Committee was Michael J. O'Leary of the Providence (R.I.) Journal and Bulletin. John Colburn of the Richmond (Va.) Times Dispatch was picked for general vice chairman of the committee.

The directors decided to hold the association's 1955 convention at a French Lick Springs, Ind. They had agreed in former years that the 1955 meeting would be held at Philadelphia and the 1957 session at New Orleans.

SULTAN SEEKS FRENCH PACT

RABAT, French Morocco (AP)—Sultan Mohammed Ben Youssef today began looking for a Cabinet to negotiate a new pact with Paris to replace the 33-year-old protectorate over French Morocco.

In his speech from the throne yesterday, after two years' exile, the Sultan promised to direct the formation of such a government.

Mohammed Bekkai, long the Sultan's representative, said the first step would be to act on the resignation of the four-man council of the throne formed shortly before Ben Youssef's return.

Ben Youssef told 70,000 cheering Moroccans outside his palace during the throne speech that the negotiations would be one of the new government's main jobs. The talks are expected to take place in Paris and may last many months.

Among the main questions is whether Morocco will handle its own foreign and defense affairs or leave them in French hands.

IKE CHANGES NLRB MAKEUP

WASHINGTON (AP)—The National Labor Relations Board appeared headed today down the middle of the road in its administration of the Taft-Hartley labor law.

This emerged as the significance of a change President Eisenhower made yesterday in the board's leadership and in his selection of a fifth member of the panel.

He picked Boyd Leedom, 49, an NLRB member since last April, to be the new chairman. Leedom is a former justice of the South Dakota Supreme Court.

And Eisenhower reached into the ranks of NLRB examiners to pick Stephen S. Benn, 63, to fill a vacancy, left when the team of Guy Farmer expired several months ago. Leedom and Benn are Republicans.

Chairman Is Surprise
Leedom's selection as chairman came as a surprise because Eisenhower had passed over Philip Ray Rodgers, senior Republican on the board and acting chairman since Farmer had resigned.

In addition to Republicans Leedom, Benn and Rodgers, the board includes Abe Murdock, a former Democratic senator from Utah and Ira H. Peterson, former assistant U.S. attorney general and a Democrat. Peterson developed himself as a political independent.

Committee To Ask Temporary Service

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP)—A newly formed ad hoc committee on the part-time work of the Scranton Transit strike decided yesterday to renew its demand that the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission provide temporary bus service to Scranton and Luzerne County.

The decision was made after striking workers failed to attend a meeting of the seven-man committee and did not offer a proposal for settlement of the strike. The Scranton Transit Co. previously made a wage increase offer of 12 cents an hour.

Mayor James T. Hinton's committee said it will visit PUC offices in Harrisburg next week to ask for bus service.

ARGENTINES GET FREER PRESS UNDER NEW RULE

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—The week-old provisional government of Maj. Gen. Pedro Aramburu apparently is making sweeping moves to revive freedom of the press in Argentina after the tight controls of Peronism.

These are the steps already taken.

By decree, Aramburu yesterday wiped out the presidential press office, the big 1,400-man organization which under former President Juan Peron fed a steady stream of propaganda to newspapers, magazines, radio, television, and movies.

This was followed by a declaration from Subsecretary of the Interior Carlos Manuel Muniz that the government is seeking a "prompt solution" of the La Prensa case. That big, independent newspaper—a strong critic of Peronism—was expropriated in 1951 and turned over to the pro-Peron General Confederation of Labor.

Then the government announced it was lifting immediately its temporary administration intervention from the Socialist newspaper La Vanguardia and that the newspaper El Norte in Salta Province had resumed publication.

El Norte was closed Wednesday by the authorities and its editor, Luis Guacosa, was arrested for supporting an outlawed three-day general strike called by the CGT.

Kefauver Accuses National Body Of Favoring Stevenson

CHICAGO (AP)—Sen. Estes Kefauver says the Democratic National Committee has favored Adlai E. Stevenson's candidacy for the Democratic presidential nomination.

The Tennessee senator's verbal blast came at a news conference yesterday after his arrival for the current three-day meeting of party leaders.

Paul Butler, national committee chairman, denied Kefauver's charges.

Kefauver's accusations, made while other prospective candidates were going around shaking hands, held chief attention temporarily. But he will share the spotlight tonight with Stevenson and Gov. Averell Harriman of New York at a $100-a-plate dinner.

Former President Harry S. Truman, who could have much to say about the selection of a nominee at the Democratic National Convention next August, also will address the diners.

Reports Pending Strike With PRR

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The CIO Transport Workers Union says it has refused to accept a presidential emergency board's findings on its dispute with the Pennsylvania Railroad and "there's a definite possibility there will be a strike."

Eugene V. Attreed, director of the union's railroad division, said last night: "We are back where we started."

Representatives of the union and the PRR will meet here Tuesday to discuss the board's recommendations on a health and welfare fund, holiday pay and work classifications.

The union will be free to strike after Friday, under provisions of the National (Railroad) Labor Act, which provides for a 60-day "cooling off" period after a board is named. Attreed said no strike date has been set.

The union claims to represent 22,500 nonoperating PRR employees.

Expert Says Bulky Parts Of Auto Will Be Smaller

By FREDERICK C. RUSSELL

Don't let those neglected headlights on your car be another one of those glaring mistakes.

Your automobile may be a great package of transportation but some of its parts are becoming smaller, and the prediction is that within a few years many bulky units will be reduced to midsize proportions.

Use of transistors instead of tubes for the car's radio make this unit more compact and lighter. For several years we have had a much lighter radiator core due to changes in engine design and use of better cooling system controls. Wheels have been growing smaller as roads have improved and the need for clearance lessened.

Newest is the nickel-cadmium battery which takes up much less space than the conventional battery. Some important changes are said to lie ahead in carburetion, and it is a foregone conclusion that the bulky air cleaner will have to be cut down to size. Once it was considered highly important to have an extremely heavy flywheel, otherwise the engine's shaft could not be smoothly rotated. But multicylinder design provided extra impulses on the crankshaft, and a light flywheel resulted.

Invites Cooling Trouble

All that bouncing over rough roads on your autumn trip may be one reason why the cooling system will need considerable attention before cold weather comes along. Shake up the engine block and you are certain to disturb accumulated scale and sediment. This gets into circulation and, passing into the radiator, promptly clogs the core. All of this effect is greatly aggravated by high speed. Owners of cars with automatic drives will also find that such scale will be stirred up and driven into circulation not merely at higher speeds but also at low speeds if acceleration is overdone.

What to do if ethylene glycol antifreeze should lead into the engine has been greatly simplified by use of butyl cellosolve as a means of freeing sticking parts. Mechanics use a 50 per cent solution of this chemical with light engine oil. About a half pint of the solution is put into each cylinder through the spark plug holes and allowed to remain over night. The engine is then run for several hours with the car out in the open. If, however, the engine is too badly gummed up it may be necessary to remove parts and soak them in the solution.

Mechanic Joe Speaking:

"Not one motorist out of a thousand ever stops to consider that the modern pressure cap atop the radiator may need attention, so it isn't any wonder that many engines are not enjoying the benefit of pressure cooling or are even being handicapped by the system because of faulty operation of the valves in this little cap. Dirt is the main reason for such valve failure. Occasionally the cap should be given a careful washing to remove all dirt and scum. Purpose of one valve in the cap is to relieve pressure when the cooling system heats up and is being activated by the water pump. The other valve takes care of the vacuum effect within the system when the engine cools off."

Among the many trends in motordom currently changing the picture few are more interesting than the introduction of controls to help the driver gain mastery over his car when there is absence of light. While there are guide lights to help operators find various positions of the selector lever for automatic transmission, for instance, many drivers rely on the feel of the lever as it passes through notches. There is clicking of the directional signals to advise the driver that his signalling is functioning so that he need not consider the flasher. And now we have a key case which automatically pops out the right key when he merely touches Braille-like releasing tabs on its cover. Signal seeking radios are also an aid to easier operation.

Nostalgia By Gasoline

Old timers, and new blood that has taken an active interest in antique automobiles, may also recently have seen advertised some very fine cars of yesterday. Among those that caught my eye were Velle, Anderson, Moline-Knight, Mercer, McIntyre (a 2 cylinder job), Liberty, Silver Ghost, Stearns-Knight, Alco and the Raunch-Long — a 1912 electric job which now sells for $1,000.

In your efforts to keep the car looking presentable you may be interested in the method used by a friend of mine with notable success. He likes to keep shiny parts looking shiny, of course, but he tries to concentrate on making them look less glaring. That section of the rear bumper nearest the tail pipe is a case in point. Exhaust gases are likely to darken the bumper and damage its chrome plating. After every long drive he is careful to wipe off this section of the bumper. He keeps it polished and well waxed. Then there are the window sills. He knows that they can become worn with constant rubbing of coat sleeves. These sills he waxed heavily. He is careful, too, to clean around the fenders near the wheels. Fender edges here often become rusty. They should be polished, waxed, and touched up with paint if rust begins.

I haven't tried it as yet but the trade is talking about a simple way to get rid of static shock in some cars. The trick is to paint a fairly narrow strip of gasket forming material on the car side of one of the tires running from the rim to a point near the center of the tread. Then you blow some powdered graphite on the strip. This forms a simple ground for the static.

With such efficient braking and everything to favor good visibility owners of newer cars find it no special problem to stop when the occasion demands. But the question always is what will happen to the rear of the car. Will the fellow behind be able to stop as quickly? Experienced drivers find it desirable to make the first phase of the slow-down rather abrupt. This puts the driver behind on his guard. Then complete the stop more gradually so that he has time to act and try to leave a margin of safety ahead so that you can pull up a bit if he is really pressed.

Q. A test shows that the fuel pump pressure is a little under five pounds on my car. Is this too high? The service manual recommends 4½ pounds, N. T.

A. The five pound figure is all right but pressure must not exceed this on the particular type engine.

Q. When cold weather arrives should the oil-bath type air cleaner have heavier or light oil? R. R. L.

A. We are coming into the season when lighter oil is needed in the cleaner. Do not overfill. After cleaning the mesh and drying it do not apply oil to the mesh itself.

Q. There is quite a rattling noise in the engine of my car. I have been told that it is due to a loose manifold heat control valve. Can't anything be done about this? G. H. W.

A. When carbon accumulates around the valve it will tighten. In fact, you may need to put penetrating oil on it later on to keep it from binding. Meanwhile you may be able to check the rattling by providing temporary tightening of the shaft. Mechanics know some simple and effective tricks for this.

Q. I have been troubled with a thumping sound in my car. All tires have been balanced. I got the noise even on a smooth road. N. L.

A. This could be due to an eccentric wheel. But the chances are that this is a tire thump. The fact that you say you notice an increase in the thumping, and sometimes a decrease, without the car changing speed, further hints of this.

Q. For some time I have been trying to check a noisy hydraulic valve lifter in the engine of my car. Have used special oils and have made sure to give the car a good work-out on the open road. The next step seems to be to replace the lifters. Have you any suggestions? G. McB.

A. It might be a good idea to check other parts of the valve mechanism. Lifters often are blamed for defects in other parts. In a recent case it was found that the clicking was caused by a valve spring. The valves themselves are capable of quite a variety of noises.

Q. What is wrong when a power-operated window is slow going down? The system on my car is a combination of electric and hydraulic power. The pump seems to be working hard when the window is going up but the up speed is much faster than the down. J. J. D.

A. On this system the down travel of the window is by spring tension. I think you will find that the slow travel up as well as down is due to the glass binding in the window channels. Remedy is a matter of freeing the glass.

PAPER CLAIMS YOUTH DENIES PLANE BLAST

DENVER (AP) — John Gilbert Graham flatly denies planting a bomb on the airliner that crashed and killed his mother and 43 other passengers, the Rocky Mountain News said Friday.

Federal authorities announced Monday that Graham, 23, had signed a "written admission." But the newspaper in a copyrighted interview quoted Graham as saying:

"Yes, I signed a statement. But it's not true. They told me they were going to put my wife in jail, and I'd better get it straightened out myself."

Asked by reporter Al Nakula if he meant FBI agents had used duress—kept questioning him until he confessed—Graham answered:

"Well, they started about noon

Postpone Arraignment

Graham appeared briefly in court yesterday. His arraignment was postponed until Nov. 28 to allow him to retain counsel. He is charged with murder in the death of his mother, Mrs. Daisie King, 54.

She was among passengers of a United Air Lines DC6B that crashed Nov. 1 near Longmont, Colo., killing all aboard.

In the Rocky Mountain News interview Graham was asked if he put either a present or a bundle of dynamite in his mother's luggage.

"I didn't put anything in her luggage," Graham replied. "I only bought some straps to put around the luggage. The hinges on the suitcase were breaking. I don't want to discuss the present."

Graham said he doesn't "have any theories as to the cause of the crash or what happened."

RISE SAYS OPERA IS TOUGH BUT SHE LOVES IT

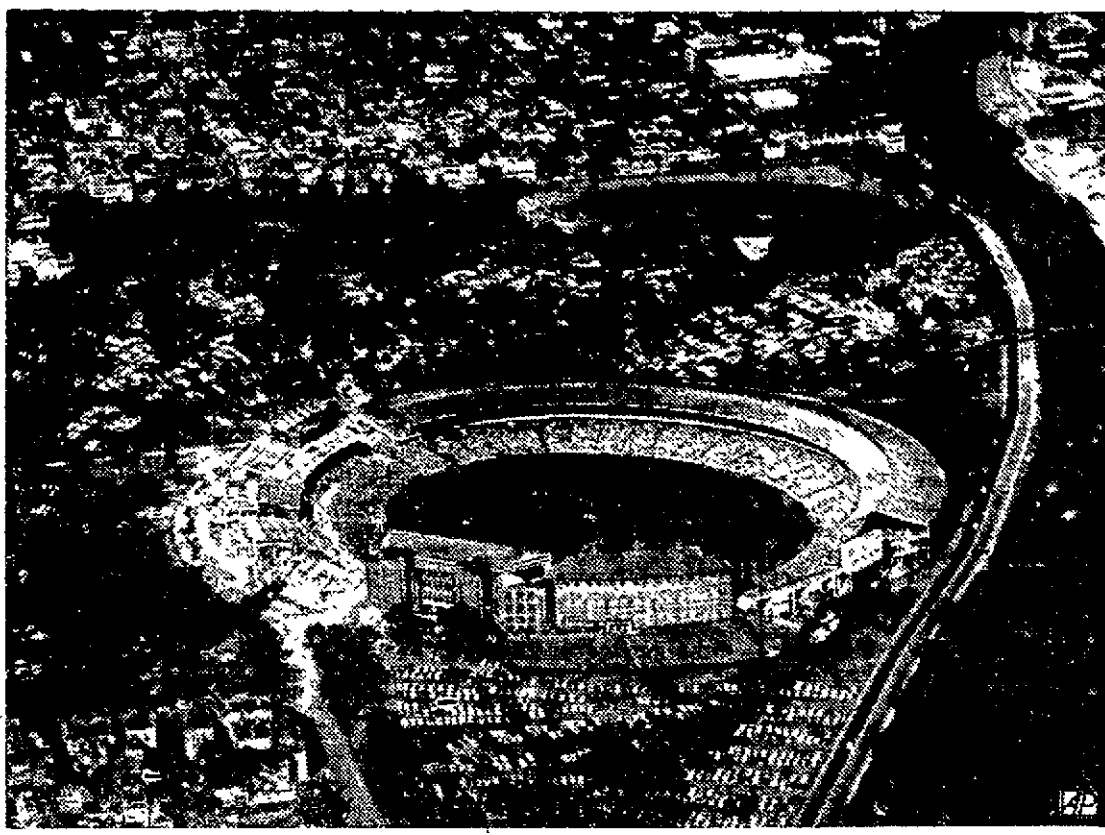

NEW YORK (AP)—Father pumped the player piano, squeak-squeak-squeak, and pretty daughter stood up and sang for him—thus was launched right here in the family parlor the career of the Metropolitan Opera's glamorous redhead Rise Stevens.

"Then mother took over," Miss Stevens says, with a crinkly-eyed wide smile and a waggle of her long slim fingers.

It was mother who, after 10-year-old Rise (two syllables, Rees-suh) had practiced "When Irish Eyes are Smiling" tucked the child's hand in hers and led her off to an audition for Milton Cross' "Children's Hour," a radio program on which the young miss was heard solo for two or three years.

Did Modeling Stint
Then Miss Stevens was graduated from high school. Next for a year she was a model—it isn't only Met audiences that think the Stevens mezzo comes in an irresistible packaging job. Now it was the mother's turn, and she really wanted her daughter to go on the stage.

"I wanted it, too," says Miss Stevens. "I used to daydream about the theater in high school."

ARENA FOR 1956 OLYMPIAD—This is an aerial view of stadium in Melbourne, Australia, where 1956 summer Olympic Games will be held. Arena, known as Melbourne Cricket Ground, construction at left will enlarge seating capacity to 110,000 from present 85,000. Athletes will assemble in football grounds, rear, for opening and closing ceremonies.

But the next move committed her to opera. An advertisement called for candidates for the New York Opera Company; Miss Stevens tried for it, made it, graduated from chorus to small roles in light opera like "The Bartered Bride" and "Fledermaus."

Julliard Hears Voice
Now for the first time Miss Stevens, who had been seen by people who could see, was heard by people who could hear, in particular by Mme. Schoen-Rene, a teacher at the Julliard, who took Miss Stevens on as a private pupil and then transferred her to the school. The rest of the story is operatic history—study in Europe, triumphs there, and then the Met contract, which dates from 1939.

So the old player piano paid off, and Miss Stevens has progressed from "Irish eyes are smiling" to Carmen, Rosenkavalier, Mignon, Delilah, Hansel, Orfeo in this country and abroad; to film successes like "The Chocolate Soldier" and "Going My Way" and to radio and TV. The days of singing for free on "Children's Hour" or any other program are gone for good.

No complaints?
"I love it," Miss Stevens exclaims. "I love it all!"
But it's a lot of work?

Plays New Role

To prepare for a new role, that of Juliette in Offenbach's "Les Contes d'Hoffman" for the Met's gala opening a couple of weeks ago, Miss Stevens had to learn her part before the three-week rehearsal period began. In the summer while she was theoretically on vacation she did some research—it was painful but still it was research—in Venice on fashions in costumes and in gondolas. Back in New York in October and November, she had fittings for shoes and for costumes, and sittings for photos; she has rehearsed couple of times a day; and she really had a job done on her hair; it was bleached and then re-dyed "a pink, a red, almost a carotene red," as she describes it.

This season in the Met where she first went as a standee she will appear almost 40 times, and will be speeding in and out of town all winter for shorter and longer tours.

Loves The Panic
"But I love it all," she reiterates—even when the tenor has a cold and passes it around the company, even when there's all the bother about hair, even though it isn't the stage for which her mother planned. She doesn't forget her love for it even in the panicky hours she endured this summer when she, and her husband, in Athens, where she was singing in the festival, had no

Morocco Nears End Of 43-Year French Rule

RABAT, French Morocco (AP)—Sultan Mohammed Ben Youssef announced Friday the approaching end of the French protectorate in Morocco.

He told a wildly cheering crowd before his palace he had reached agreement with the French government on "essential principles" which would open a new era of freedom for Morocco.

His eldest son Prince Hassan, who acts as his political adviser, quoted him as saying:

"We are glad to announce the end of the period of protectorate and guardianship."

There were differences of interpretation about what the Sultan meant by this statement. The protectorate, established in 1912, cannot be ended except in agreement with France.

The Sultan spoke to about 70,000 during celebrations of the 28th anniversary of his accession to the throne. He returned to Morocco only two days ago after more than two years of exile.

word for hours and hours from their young son, off too long and out of reach on a skin-diving expedition on a friend's yacht. He was perfectly safe all the time, but Miss Stevens had to wait desperately long, indeed till an hour before curtain time, to learn it.

Thanksgiving Proclamation

"Since the Pilgrim Fathers celebrated the first Thanksgiving Day at Plymouth in 1621, a deep sense of gratitude to Almighty God for His endless gifts to us has been a basic and abiding influence on our lives.

"Those early settlers at harvest time offered their thanks for God's gifts to them, the simple gifts of food, shelter, and safety. Today at harvest time we acknowledge much more. We see the fruition of their hopes for freedom—to live, to work, to worship, in a land of opportunity for all. At harvest time let us come with humble grateful hearts to give thanks to the Giver of these gifts.

"In this time of tension and strife, it is more than ever necessary to remember the myriad blessings given us and render fervent thanks to God. It is from Him that we receive the strength we need to face the day and the hope we must have to meet the future.

"In keeping with the heart-warming spirit of Thanksgiving, November has been chosen as RELIGION IN AMERICAN LIFE month, a time for us to seek out God anew in personal, community, and national life. In a like spirit our four great religious faiths have put special emphasis on the need to provide our fellow men overseas with the clothing, food, and funds for reconstruction and rehabilitation which they need so much. Let us give generously at Thanksgiving, grateful that we have so much to give.

"NOW, THEREFORE, I, George M. Leader, Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, do hereby proclaim Thursday, November 24, as a legal holiday and as a day of thanksgiving in this Commonwealth. I urge my fellow citizens to observe this day in their homes, communities, and churches in a spirit of reverent thankfulness for the countless blessings that Divine Mercy has granted us.

"FURTHERMORE, I request that the Flag of the United States and the Flag of Pennsylvania be displayed from all appropriate places as symbols of our loyalty and devotion to the ideals of liberty, justice, and equal opportunity as exemplified by our nation and our commonwealth."

ARGENTINE MEAT PACKERS FOREGO GENERAL STRIKE

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—Thousands of Argentine workers returned to their jobs Friday after their union leaders called off a faltering general strike, giving the five-day-old government a victory in the first major challenge to its authority.

The meatpacking industry—long a stronghold of the labor followers of exiled President Peron, and the industry chiefly affected by the strike—reported plants fully operating again after three days of partial or complete shutdown. Absenteeism at the packing plants had ranged from 80 to 100 per cent during the strike, but was negligible Friday on early shifts.

Announcement that the General Confederation of Labor (CGT) Peronista leaders "resolved unanimously to cease immediately" the three-day walkout came after they met with Labor Minister Raul Miguere. These leaders were deposed by the government when they ordered the strike.

Attempted A Discredit
CGT, mainstay of the toppled dictator Juan D. Peron, called the strike in an obvious attempt to discredit the provisional government headed by Maj. Gen. Pedro Aramburu while it was new and untried. The strike knocked out some key industries such as meat packing but "free laborers" in the transportation and communications industries defied the strike call.

Trichon Will Filed In Probate Court

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Members of the family of the late Herman A. Trichon, founder and head of the Clearfield (Pa.) Sportswear Co. for 42 years until his retirement recently, will share his estate estimated at $200,200 in a will filed for probate here yesterday.

Trichon, who lived in Philadelphia at the time of his death, died here Nov. 6 at the age of 65. Trichon's widow, the former Clara Kaplan, will receive at least $30,000 annually from a trust fund and the right to dispose of the principal at the time of her death.

The residue was left in trust with $50 weekly going to a sister, Mrs. Ida Nusbaum, and the rest divided in four equal parts. One part goes to a son, Edward, another part to grandchildren, Donalene and Ronald J. Trichon, a third part to a daughter, Sonia, and the fourth to a granddaughter, Barbara Wortel.

THAT'S THE RUB
LOS ANGELES (AP)—A message parlor has this slogan posted over its door: "We rub you the right way."

NO TRESPASSING

All persons are warned not to trespass on the premises of the undersigned with dog, gun or trap for the purpose of taking game in any manner or for fishing or any way injuring or destroying property. All persons violating the laws of the Commonwealth with regard to trespassing on land of the undersigned will be dealt with under the provision of the Act of June 24, 1939, P.L. 872, Section 854.

RISE SAYS OPERA IS TOUGH BUT SHE LOVES IT

NEW YORK (AP)—Father pumped the player piano, squeak-squeak-squeak, and pretty daughter stood up and sang for him—thus was launched right here in the family parlor the career of the Metropolitan Opera's glamorous redhead Rise Stevens.

"Then mother took over," Miss Stevens says, with a crinkly-eyed wide smile and a waggle of her long slim fingers.

It was mother who, after 10-year-old Rise (two syllables, Rees-suh) had practiced "When Irish Eyes are Smilin'," tucked the child's hand in hers and led her off to an audition for Milton Cross' "Children's Hour," a radio program on which the young miss was heard solo for two or three years.

Did Modeling Stint
Then Miss Stevens was graduated from high school. Next for a year she was a model—it isn't only Met audiences that think the Stevens mezzo comes in an irresistible packaging job. Now it was the mother's turn, and she really wanted her daughter to go on the stage.

"I wanted it, too," says Miss Stevens. "I used to daydream about the theater in high school."

ARENA FOR 1956 OLYMPIAD—This is an aerial view of stadium in Melbourne, Australia, where 1956 summer Olympic Games will be held. Arena is known as Melbourne Cricket Ground. Construction at left will enlarge seating capacity to 110,000 from present 85,000. Athletics will assemble in football grounds, rear, for opening and closing ceremonies.

But the next move committed her to opera. An advertisement called for candidates for the New York Opera Comique; Miss Stevens tried for it, made it, graduated from chorus to small roles in light opera like "The Bartered Bride" and "Fledermaus."

Juilliard Hears Voice
Now for the first time Miss Stevens, who had been seen by people who could see, was heard by people who could hear, in particular by Mme. Schoen-Rene, a teacher at the Juilliard, who took Miss Stevens on as a private pupil and then transferred her to the school. The rest of the story is operatic history—study in Europe, triumphs there, and then the Met contract, which dates from 1939.

So the old player piano paid off, and Miss Stevens has progressed from "Irish eyes are smilin'" to Carmen, Rosenkavalier, Mignon, Delilah, Hansel, Orfeo in this country and abroad; to film successes like "The Chocolate Soldier" and "Going My Way" and to radio and TV. The days of singing for free on "Children's Hour" or any other program are gone for good.

No complaints?
"I love it," Miss Stevens exclaims. "I love it all!"
But it's a lot of work?

Plays New Role
To prepare for a new role, that of Juliette in Offenbach's "Les Contes d'Hoffman" for the Met's gala opening a couple of weeks ago, Miss Stevens had to learn her part before the three-week rehearsal period began. In the summer while she was theoretically on vacation she did some research—it was painful but still it was research—in Venice on fashions in costumes and in gondolas. Back in New York in October and November, she had fittings for shoes and for costumes, and settings for photos; she has rehearsed a couple of times a day; and she really had a job done on her hair; it was bleached and then re-dyed "a pink, red, almost a carrot red," as she describes it.

This season in the Met where she first went as a standee she will appear almost 40 times, and will be speeding in and out of town all winter for shorter and longer tours.

Loves The Part
"But I love it all," she reiterates—even when the tenor has a cold and passes it around the company, even when there's all the bother about hair, even though it isn't the stage for which her mother planned. She doesn't forget her love for it even in the panicky hours she endured this summer when she, and her husband, in Athens, where she was singing in the festival, had no

Trichon Will Filed In Probate Court
PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Members of the family of the late Herman A. Trichon, founder and head of the Clearfield (Pa.) Sportswear Co. for 42 years until his retirement recently, will share his estate estimated at $200,000 in a will filed for probate here yesterday.

Trichon, who lived in Philadelphia at the time of his death, died here Nov. 6 at the age of 65.

Trichon's widow, the former Clara Kaplan, will receive at least $30,000 annually from a trust fund and the right to dispose of the principal at the time of her death.

The residue was left in trust with $50 weekly going to a sister, Mrs. Ida Nusbaum, and the rest divided in four equal parts. One part goes to a son, Edward, another part to grandchildren, Donald and Ronald J. Trichon, a third part to a daughter, Sonia, and the fourth to a granddaughter, Barbara Wortel.

Expert Says Bulky Parts Of Auto Will Be Smaller

By FREDERICK C. RUSSELL

Don't let those neglected headlights on your car be another one of those glaring mistakes.

Your automobile may be a great package of transportation but some of its parts are becoming smaller, and the prediction is that within a few years many bulky units will be reduced to midget proportions.

Use of transistors instead of tubes for the car's radio make this unit more compact and lighter. For several years we have had a much lighter radiator core due to changes in engine design and use of better cooling system controls. Wheels have been growing smaller as roads have improved and the need for clearance lessened.

Newest is the nickel-cadmium battery which takes up much less space than the conventional battery. Some important changes are said to lie ahead in carburetion, and it is a foregone conclusion that the bulky air cleaner will have to be cut down to size. Once it was considered highly important to have an extremely heavy flywheel, otherwise the engine's shaft could not be smoothly rotated. But multicylinder design provided extra impulses on the crankshaft, and a light flywheel resulted.

Invites Cooling Trouble
All that bouncing over rough roads on your autumn trip may be one reason why the cooling system will need considerable attention before cold weather comes along. Shake up the engine block and you are certain to disturb accumulated scale and sediment. This gets into circulation and, passing into the radiator, promptly clogs the core. All of this effect is greatly aggravated by high speed. Owners of cars with automatic drives will also find that such scale will be stirred up and driven into circulation not merely at higher speeds but also at low speeds if acceleration is overdone.

What to do if ethylene glycol antifreeze should lead into the engine has been greatly simplified by use of butyl cellosolve as a means of freeing sticking parts. Mechanics use a 50 per cent solution of this chemical with light engine oil. About a half pint of the solution is put into each cylinder through the spark plug holes and allowed to remain overnight. The engine is then run for several hours with the car out in the open. If, however, the engine is too badly gummed up it may be necessary to remove parts and soak them in the solution.

Mechanic Joe Speaking:
"Not one motorist out of a thousand ever stops to consider that the modern pressure cap atop the radiator may need attention, so it isn't any wonder that many engines are not enjoying the benefit of pressure cooling or are even being handicapped by the system because of faulty operation of the valves in this little cap. Dirt is the main reason for such valve failure. Occasionally the cap should be given a careful washing to remove all dirt and scum. Purpose of one valve in the cap is to relieve pressure when the cooling system heats up and is being activated by the water pump. The other valve takes care of the vacuum effect within the system when the engine cools off."

Among the many trends in motorism currently changing the picture few are more interesting than the introduction of controls to help the driver gain mastery over his car when there is absence of light. While there are guide lights to help operators find various positions of the selector lever for automatic transmission, for instance, many drivers rely on the feel of the lever as it passes through notches. There is clicking of the directional signals to advise the driver that his signalling is functioning so that he need not consider the flasher. And now we have a key case which automatically pops out the right key when he merely touches Braille-like releasing tabs on its cover. Signal seeking radios are also an aid to easier operation.

Nostalgia By Gasoline
Old timers, and new blood that has taken an active interest in antique automobiles, may also recently have seen advertised some very fine cars of yesterday. Among those that caught my eye were Velle, Anderson, Moline-Knight, Mercer, McIntyre (a 2 cylinder job), Liberty, Silver Ghost, Stearns-Knight, Alco and the Raunch-Long—a 1912 electric job which now sells for $1,000. In your efforts to keep the car looking presentable you may be interested in the method used by a friend of mine with notable success. He likes to keep shiny parts looking shiny, of course, but he tries to concentrate on making them look less glaring. That section of the rear bumper nearest the tail pipe is a case in point. Exhaust gases are likely to darken the bumper and damage its chrome plating. After every long drive he is careful to wipe off this section of the bumper. He keeps it polished and well waxed. Then there are the window sills. He knows that they can become worn with constant rubbing of coat sleeves. These sills he waxed heavily. He is careful, too, to clean around the fenders near the wheels. Fender edges here often become rusty. They should be polished, waxed, and touched up with paint if rust begins.

I haven't tried it as yet but the trade is talking about a simple way to get rid of static shock in some cars. The trick is to paint a fairly narrow strip of gasket forming material on the car side of one of the tires running from the rim to a point near the center of the tread. Then you blow some powdered graphite on the strip. This forms a simple ground for the static.

With such efficient braking and everything to favor good visibility owners of newer cars find it no special problem to stop when the occasion demands. But the question always is what will happen to the rear of the car. Will the fellow behind be able to stop as quickly? Experienced drivers find it desirable to make the first phase of the slow-down rather abrupt. This puts the driver behind on his guard. Then complete the stop more gradually so that he has time to act and try to leave a margin of safety ahead so that you can pull up a bit if he is really pressed.

Q. A test shows that the fuel pump pressure is a little under five pounds on my car. Is this too high? The service manual recommends 4½ pounds, N. T.
A. The five pound figure is all right but pressure must not exceed this on the particular type engine.

Q. When cold weather arrives should the oil-bath type air cleaner have heavier or light oil? R. R. L.

A. We are coming into the season when lighter oil is needed in the cleaner. Do not overfill. After cleaning the mesh and drying it do not apply oil to the mesh itself.

Q. There is quite a rattling noise in the engine of my car. I have been told that it is due to a loose manifold heat control valve. Can't anything be done about this? G. H. W.

A. When carbon accumulates around the valve it will tighten. In fact, you may need to put penetrating oil on it later on to keep it from binding. Meanwhile you may be able to check the rattling by providing temporary tightening of the shaft. Mechanics know some simple and effective tricks for this.

Q. I have been troubled with a thumping sound in my car. All tires have been balanced. I got the noise even on a smooth road. N. L.

A. This could be due to an eccentric wheel. But the chances are that this is a tire thump. The fact that you say you notice an increase in the thumping, and sometimes a decrease, without the car changing speed, further hints of this.

Q. For some time I have been trying to check a noisy hydraulic valve lifter in the engine of my car. Have used special oils and have made sure to give the car a good work-out on the open road. The next step seems to be to replace the lifters. Have you any suggestions? G. McB.

A. It might be a good idea to check other parts of the valve mechanism. Lifters often are blamed for defects in other parts. In a recent case it was found that the clicking was caused by a valve spring. The valves themselves are capable of quite a variety of noises.

Q. What is wrong when a power-operated window is slow going down? The system on my car is a combination of electric and hydraulic power. The pump seems to be working hard when the window is going up but the up speed is much faster than the down. J. J. D.

A. On this system the down travel of the window is by spring tension. I think you will find that the slow travel up as well as down is due to the glass binding in the window channels. Remedy is a matter of freeing the glass.

PAPER CLAIMS YOUTH DENIES PLANE BLAST

DENVER (AP)—John Gilbert Graham flatly denies planting a bomb on the airliner that crashed and killed his mother and 43 other passengers, the Rocky Mountain News said Friday.

Federal authorities announced Monday that Graham, 23, had signed a "written admission." But the newspaper in a copyrighted interview quoted Graham as saying:

"Yes, I signed a statement. But it's not true. They told me they were going to put my wife in jail, and I'd better get it straightened out myself."

Asked by reporter Al Nakkula if he meant FBI agents had used duress—kept questioning him until he confessed—Graham answered:

"Well, they started about noon

Q. If the brakes fail and the pedal goes to the floor is there any point in trying to stop by pumping on the pedal? H. R. McV.
A. Yes. If the trouble is loss of brake fluid you can build up some air pressure by rapid pumping. It is always worth trying.

Mr. Russell will answer questions regarding the safe care and operation of your car. Just address him at 254 Fern St., West Hartford 7, Conn., and enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope for a personal reply. There is no charge.

that Sunday and didn't stop until I signed a confession about 4 a.m. the next morning. Oh, they took me out for dinner once and gave me drinks of water and such. . . ."

Postpone Arraignment
Graham appeared briefly in court yesterday. His arraignment was postponed until Nov. 28 to allow him to retain counsel. He is charged with murder in the death of his mother, Mrs. Daisie King, 54.

She was among passengers of a United Air Lines DC6B that crashed Nov. 1 near Longmont, Colo., killing all aboard.

In the Rocky Mountain News interview Graham was asked if he put either a present or a bundle of dynamite in his mother's luggage.

"I didn't put anything in her luggage," Graham replied. "I only bought some straps to put around the luggage. The hinges on the suitcase were breaking. I don't want to discuss the present."

Graham said he doesn't "have any theories as to the cause of the crash or what happened."

DRAFTEES TO BE SCREENED TO WEED RISKS

WASHINGTON (AP)—A new military policy aims at weeding out security risks before they are drafted into the Army, thus sparing them the stigma of a less than honorable discharge.

The new directive from Secretary of Defense Wilson came yesterday in the midst of a sharply critical Senate investigation of the Army security program for uniformed personnel.

Sen. Hennings (D-Mo) said the inquiry by his Senate subcommittee on constitutional rights "probably had something to do" with the new procedure.

Hails New Plan
Though Hennings said the directive might not go quite far enough, he hailed it as a move to "restore constitutional rights to large numbers who under present regulations would receive security risk discharges."

Wilson has been invited to testify before the subcommittee Monday.

The new directive orders the armed services to make security investigations of draftees before their induction, instead of afterward as at present. It directs that a man shall be taken into service unless this would be clearly inconsistent with national security.

Such a draftee would have the right to an honorable discharge if his conduct in two years of active duty merits one.

In the past, the United States often has been without a president for brief periods, notably when inauguration day was March 4 and fell on a Sunday which sometimes meant that one president went out of office at midnight March 3 and another was not sworn in until March 5.

BIG REDS TOUR HISTORIC SPOTS

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Russia's Premier Nikolai Bulganin and Communist party boss Nikita S. Khrushchev viewed New Delhi's famous historic spots today.

A sightseeing tour on the second day of their 18-day state visit to India also gave the Soviet leaders an opportunity to pay homage to Mahatma Gandhi, whom the Soviet Union once termed "reactionary."

Today's crowds were more modest than the throngs on hand to greet the Russian visitors yesterday. Prime Minister Nehru did not accompany them on their three-hour tour.

Front pages in all New Delhi newspapers today were filled with reports of the "unprecedented" welcome given the Soviet leaders.

The Russian delegation will go from India to Burma and Afghanistan on their 5,000-mile tour of Southeast Asia.

Navy Will Ask For More Atomic Subs

WASHINGTON (AP)—A prediction the Navy soon will ask Congress to authorize construction of nine more atomic powered submarines came today from Sen. Jackson (D-Wash.).

Two such underwater craft—the Nautilus and the Sea Wolf—have been built. Two others are under construction and four more have been authorized.

Jackson, chairman of the Senate House Atomic Energy subcommittee on military applications, said in an interview his forecast was based on something he had learned, plus the "impressive showing" of the Nautilus, Jackson did not go into detail on what he had learned.

Suomi College in Michigan claims to be the only Finnish-American institution of higher learning in the United States.

G-BURG COLLEGE THESPIANS GIVE OLD THRILLER

The Owl and Nightingale Players of Gettysburg College closed its second showing of "Ladies In Retirement" by Edward Percy and Reginald Denham before a full house in Brua Hall Thursday evening. It was the first production of the dramatic season under the direction of Dr. Richard A. Arms.

A credible Leonora Fiske was enacted by Sylvia Fenstermacher, a senior, who caught every nuance of the role, from the raising of an eyebrow to the excited anticipation of opening a bottle of champagne.

Miss Fiske, described as a superstitiously religious old maid, lives alone in her home on the marshes of the Thames estuary about ten miles from Gravesend. The time is 1885.

Miss Fiske's past is laid bare by the introduction of Albert Feather, her nephew, who is shiftless and irresponsible. A shady Feather is played by Barry Lane who has played in the college productions of "Ten Minute Alibi" and "Born Yesterday." Lane was the only member of the cast who attempted an English accent.

Joanne Banks played a dramatic, scheming Ellen Creed. Her two sisters were played by Barbara Leibhodi and Pat Cross. Lynn Bonney played the role of Lucy Gilham, the maid. Marjorie Clayton played Sister Theresa, a nun from the priory.

Other members of the production were: Phelps Pennington, stage manager; James Krum, business manager; Eunice Owens, property chairman; Betsy Elwood, publicity chairman; Carolyn Clausen, costume chairman; Phyllis Hicks, makeup.

Other productions now under consideration for the coming year are:

"For Love Or Money" by F. Hugh Herbert, "The Caine Mutiny Court Martial," "Sabrina Fair" and "Dial M For Murder."

Two Grid Upsets Today Can Upset Rose Bowl Plans For New Year's; TC Is After Bid

By ED CORRIGAN
The Associated Press

A grim guessing game called "who is going to the Rose Bowl?" was to be resolved today, the final big Saturday of the college football season, and if form followed the answer figured to come out Michigan and UCLA.

Both Michigan State and Oregon State were hopeful of tasting the gold and glory of the big Jan. 2 game in Pasadena, Calif.

Michigan had what appeared to be the more difficult task. That of beating rough-and-tumble Ohio State. A Wolverine victory would send them West. An Ohio State triumph would give the bid to Michigan State as the Big Ten challenger.

UCLA's task was to whip Southern California in the NCAA's television game of the day. The Uclans were without the services of their ace passer, Ronnie Knox who suffered a broken ankle last week. But even so, they rated a touchdown favorite over the Trojans.

Big 10 Race Confused
One other team could cement a bowl bid. That would be Texas Christian, which tangled with five-time-beaten Rice. A TCU victory would assure the Horned Frogs the host spot in the Cotton Bowl.

The Big 10 race has been confused all season and on this, its climax day, Michigan State could do no more than listen hopefully to radio accounts of the Michigan-Ohio State game while it played nonconference Marquette.

The Spartans finished their league season last week with a 5-1 mark. Before the Ohio State game, Michigan's record showed 6-1. Ohio State, which boasts a spotless loop record, is ineligible, having played in the Rose Bowl last year.

May Need Vote
If Southern Cal upended the Uclans and Oregon State scored its expected victory over Oregon, a vote would have to be taken to pick the coast team, for State would show a 6-1 record compared to 5-1 for UCLA.

The ancient Ivy League championship also was scheduled to be decided. The big game was in Princeton, N. J., where Princeton played host to Dartmouth. The Tigers needed the victory to wrap up the crown.

If Princeton faltered, Yale was ready to step in. A combination Yale triumph over Harvard and a Dartmouth victory over Princeton would give the mythical title to the Elis.

Other Grid Clashes
Nebraska met Oklahoma, the top team in the land. The Sooners have won 27 games in a row and haven't been defeated in the Big Seven in 52 games.

Maryland, Oklahoma's Orange Bowl opponent, was 20 points-plus over George Washington.

Four other teams that are in the running for bowl berths moved into action with victories a must. West Virginia, trying to regain some of its lost prestige suffered in the Pitt defeat last week, took on Syracuse. Pitt, itself now a candidate, went against Penn State.

Auburn and Tennessee, both nursing Sugar Bowl hopes, tangled with Clemson and Kentucky.

Miami scored an expected victory over Alabama, 34-12, in the only important game last night.

LIONS BATTLE BEARS SUNDAY

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Detroit Lions, perking up too late for a title shot, have revived just in time to take a spoiler's role in the Western Conference battle in the National Football League.

Detroit, winning its last two after dropping the first six, is about the only blockade remaining between the resurgent Chicago Bears and their first NFL playoff berth since 1946.

The Lions, who have ruled the West for three years and have dropped only three decisions to the Bears in four seasons, have two shots at the Bruins. The first comes tomorrow in Detroit, and a Lion victory could drop Chicago from a first place tie with the Los Angeles Rams.

Rams Vs. Colts
The Rams have two left with the Baltimore Colts, the first one coming tomorrow in Baltimore.

Green Bay plays the fifth place San Francisco 49ers (3-5) at Milwaukee tomorrow.

In the Eastern Conference, where the Cleveland Browns were generally conceded their sixth straight title, the Washington Redskins are breathing down their necks. The Browns are 6-2, and the Redskins 5-3.

Pittsburgh (4-4) also is still in the race and the Steelers take the bull by the horns against the Browns at Cleveland tomorrow. Washington is in Chicago to play the Cards.

Philadelphia is at New York against the Giants, the cellar club with a 3-5 showing.

"THE STILT" IS CALLED FINEST IN CAGE GAME

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP)—"There's no question about it—he's the greatest basketball player alive today."

Dr. Forrest C. Allen, veteran University of Kansas basketball coach didn't hesitate last night in applying that tag to Wilt "The Stilt" Chamberlain.

And the 7-foot Chamberlain is only a freshman.

Allen — and 14,000 others — watched in amazement as the big but graceful Negro poured in 42 points in leading the Kansas freshmen to an 81-71 victory over the Jayhawk varsity.

Allen, starting his 39th season at Kansas and who celebrated his 70th birthday yesterday, seldom is at a loss for words when it comes to talking about his favorite sport. But he had a hard time finding the superlatives to describe Chamberlain.

Chamberlain, who was "cold" the first few minutes, dropped in 16 of 35 field goal attempts and hit 10 free throws. He came within two points of the all-time Kansas individual single-game scoring record held jointly by Clyde Lovellette, now with the professional Minneapolis Lakers, and B. H. Born. He grabbed 16 defensive rebounds and six under his own basket.

Chamberlain was a little disappointed with his performance early in the game. "It wasn't butter-flies," he said. "Heck, I've played lots of basketball. I just couldn't hit."

Allen concedes Chamberlain still has a few rough edges but is quick to learn. Wilt, who scored 2,252 points in three years for Overbrook High School in Philadelphia, literally slams the ball down through the nets when he goes up for a shot under the basket.

Pleads Guilty In Ulster Bank Job

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP)—Twenty-seven-year-old Linwood White of Newark, N. J., pleaded guilty yesterday to attempting to rob the First National Bank of Ulster, Pa., in Bradford County.

Judge John W. Murphy deferred sentencing White's wife, Henrietta, 42, and Philip G. Anthony, 43, await trial on similar charges. White was arrested Sept. 12 several hours after the robbery attempt.

2 County Hunters Shoot 200-Lb. Bear

CASSADY LONE STAR IN DRAB BUCKEYE SCENE

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio State isn't doing too well, but Howard (Hopalong) Cassidy, the Bucks' classy ball-carrier, is the same sensational All-America he was in 1954.

The Bucks, who won the Western Conference, National and Rose Bowl championships last season with a 10-in-a-row performance, have been beaten in two of six games this campaign.

But without red-haired, freckled Cassidy, Ohio could well have a worse record.

The 176-pound back, in the 28-20 opening win over Nebraska, scored the first three touchdowns and set up the fourth with a 43-yard jaunt to the two-yard line.

Rough On Illini
In the 20-12 victory over Illinois, he matched the entire Illini output with two touchdowns. And in the 20-14 loss to Duke's unbeaten Blue Devils, the redhead scored one touchdown on a 38-yard punt return, recovered a fumble and generally made a nuisance of himself to the southerners.

In the 49-0 rout of Northwestern he ran for two touchdowns.

A year ago, in making the All-America, Cassidy scored only six touchdowns in 10 games.

He has surpassed that total already with the season half completed.

Coach Woody Hayes, pilot of the Bucks, said:

"Hoppy is the one youngster you never have to worry about. He's an All-America every day, in every way. I don't know what we'd do without him. He's out there game-breaker, and the kid the other fellow has to stop if he wants to beat us."

Hoppy has a six-stitch cut in his nose, suffered in the Duke game, and a pulled muscle in his leg. But he's a quick-healer and full of desire.

Kickers Shy Away
Opposing kickers don't like to boot the ball into Cassidy's territory, but he's managed to get his hands on four kickoffs for a total return of 133 yards, an average of 33. And he's snagged three punts for a return of 59 yards, an average of 19 2/3.

He was the big pass receiver last year, but he's the decoy this season in a pass attack which just isn't functioning.

BOWL BIDS UP IN PITT-PENN GAME

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP)—The Pitt Panthers and the Nittany Lions of Penn State were ready to meet on the gridiron here today with the possibility of a bowl bid for both teams hanging in the balance.

The Panthers, with a 6-3 season record, will be in quest of their best record since 1938 when the team won eight and lost two.

This will be the 55th time the two teams meet. Pitt has a 30-22-2 edge over their rivals.

Pitt reportedly is in line for a Sugar or Gator Bowl bid if it wins. Penn State might also get a bowl bid if it wins. Their record is 5-3.

Lenny Moore, the Penn State halfback who has broken many Penn State records, will be playing his last college game. A capacity crowd of some 33,000 spectators is expected.

HEAVY WINTER SCHEDULE FOR BIGLER TEAMS

A heavy winter sports schedule for Biglerville High School athletic teams was announced today by Arthur M. Gordon, athletic director. The boys' varsity basketball squad will play 22 games, the girls will play seven and the wrestling team will engage in eight dual meets. Eight games, with three open dates, have been arranged for the Junior High dribblers.

The schedule for the boys, who will be coached by Richard Allison, assisted by Donald Sterner, follows: December 2, Shippensburg, home; 6, Delone, away; 9, Musselman, Inwood, Ga., away; 13, Shippensburg, away; 15, Delone, home; 20, Spring Grove, away; 22, Musselman at Inwood; 27, Alumni, home.

January 3, New Oxford, away; 6, York Springs, home; 10, Bolling Springs, home; 13, East Berlin, away; 17, Fairfield, home; 20, Newville, home; 24, Littlestown, away; 27, New Oxford, home; 31, York Springs, away.

February 3, Bolling Springs, away; 7, East Berlin, home; 10, Fairfield, away; 14, Newville, away; 17, Littlestown, home.

Girls' Games
Janice Lupp's girls will play the following contests:

January 6, York Springs, home; 13, East Berlin, away; 20, Newville, home; 27, New Oxford, home; February 3, Bolling Springs, away; 10, Fairfield, away; 17, Littlestown, home.

Junior High
Bill Cradett's Junior High team will face the following schedule:

January 3, Hanover, away; 10, Washington Twp., away; 13, Hanover, home; 25, Fairfield, 7th and 8th grades, away; 31, open; February 3, Fairfield, 7th and 8th grades, home; 7, open; 14, Washington Twp., away; 17, open; 21, Bolling Springs, away; March 1, Bolling Springs, home.

Wrestling Matches
December 16, Hanover home; January 6, Carlisle, away; 14, Bolling Springs, home; 19, Central Dauphin, home; 25, Susquehanna Twp., away; February 2, Big Spring, home; 8, Mechanicsburg, away; 16, Shippensburg, home. Bill Krebs will coach the Canier squad.

KEELTY WILL HEAD ORIOLES

BALTIMORE (AP)—Building contractor James Keilty Jr. was elected president of the Baltimore Orioles yesterday to replace Clarence W. Miles.

Keilty, 43, will serve unpaid in the position for which Miles got $25,000 a year.

The Baltimore builder was promoted from vice president, and the position he vacated was not filled. Neither Keilty nor other Orioles directors would discuss the reason, but speculation is that a suggestion of Miles is back of it.

Miles, who promoted the money to bring the American League franchise to Baltimore from St. Louis two years ago, said when he resigned that the club ought to hire an "experienced baseball executive." It has no such individual presently, and talk was that if one is hired, he might have the title of "executive vice president."

WFBG-TV SALE AWAITS FCC NOD

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Communications Commission was asked by Triangle Publications of Philadelphia yesterday for authorization to purchase radio station WFBG and WFBG-TV at Altoona, Pa. The purchase price given was $1 1/2 million dollars.

Triangle Publications said the stations would be made available to Pennsylvania State University for a daily education broadcast, financed by a $10,000 endowment from Triangle during the next five years.

Triangle is publisher of the Philadelphia Inquirer and owner of broadcasting outlets in Philadelphia and elsewhere.

Penn State Broadcast
The Altoona stations now are owned by Gable Broadcasting Co. Triangle's application for the purchase included an agreement between University President Milton Eisenhower and Inquirer Publisher Walter Annenberg that the university would produce a live "Home and Farm Life" television program six days a week. Under the agreement, Penn State also would televise its Sunday chapel services.

Annenberg said the broadcasts would be made available to other educational institutions and TV stations for re-broadcast.

Nutritionists say that washing rice before cooking will wash much of the flavor and food value down the drain.

Gettysburg

"Make It Short"

A few reporters had gathered awaiting Hagerty. The official stenographer, who takes full notes on what is said at each conference, was already at the table.

A few minutes after four Hagerty emerged from his office in the press room and walked to the table. There was a scramble of reporters to the chairs and an aide closed the door to the press room.

Hagerty grinned and said: "I'll make this very short. I've nothing to announce. General Alfred Gruenther arrived at the farm about 2:30 o'clock. He and the president and Admiral Lewis Strauss, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, were there. They visited on the enclosed porch at the President's farm. The President conversed with Admiral Strauss on AEC matters about a half hour in his den at the farm. Admiral Strauss is due to leave soon. George Allen is at the farm. And since Gen. Gruenther is staying overnight I imagine there will be a bridge game."

Someone interrupted, "Who will be the fourth?"

Has House Guest
"I don't know. I'll try to find out," said Hagerty.

A reported inquiry about Dulles' visit to the farm in the afternoon and at the office in the post office in the morning, Hagerty observed, "I imagine it was more a matter of convenience."

The press secretary added, "There are no visitors planned for tomorrow. General Gruenther is to be a house guest."

"Does the President plan to watch the Secretary of State on television tonight?" queried another.

Hagerty's response was, "I can't tell you that, but he asked what time the broadcasts were to be and I told him. Of course he is quite familiar with the speech."

At this moment a secretary handed Hagerty a note and he told the press, "Admiral Strauss just left the farm."

Hagerty then added: "There will be no tour of the farm tomorrow. Give me time to work on that."

Message From President
Hagerty was asked about Dulles' meeting with the President.

"After the Secretary of State finished his report last evening (Thursday evening) on the Geneva conference—it was an elaboration on his cables—they spent considerable time discussing Secretary Dulles' speech. The Secretary worked on the speech last night at the Hotel Gettysburg and picked it up again this morning at 8 o'clock with his staff. When he was at the President's office this morning they went over it page by page. The President has given and the Secretary will use a message to the people, when the Secretary makes his speech this evening. It is short."

In response to an inquiry, Hagerty added, "The President told the Secretary the message he wanted him to give the people, and the Secretary took notes, I would say verbatim notes."

Concerning the weekend, Hagerty answered questions by observing, "I hope it will be a quiet one. There will be one press conference tomorrow, at noon, on the same schedule as at Washington."

Hagerty Is Obliging
Queried on Sunday press conferences, Hagerty asked "What do you want? I imagine one. I'll be around. I'll put a 'nothing doing' on the bulletin board if you want. At noon tomorrow I can tell better. Suppose we decide on Sunday's hour for conference then."

A reporter asked whether, in view of the bridge game, the President will stay up late Friday night, or go to bed at the usual 9 to 9:30 hour, Hagerty grinned and observed, "I imagine it will depend on the interest in the game."

Merriman Smith, dean of White House reporters, said, "Thank you, Sir," and the reporters, the conference concluded, scattered to desks and phones to send the news of the conference to the world.

Smog Damages Car, Glasses, Nerves

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Southern California smog has been blamed for something new.

E. R. Murray, whose home is Kentfield, Calif., near San Francisco, has presented to the Los Angeles City Council a claim for $147.50 damages which he said the smog did to his automobile, his eye glasses and his nerves.

The smog, he said, caused his automobile to change color while he was driving recently between Huntington and Malibu beaches. He blamed it for $30 damages to his glasses, which were broken; $90 for a new auto paint job. The nervous tension he appraised at $27.50.

The council hasn't acted.

ATHLETIC GROUP AT ST. FRANCIS IS ORGANIZED

Frank Linn was elected president of the Athletic Council at St. Francis Xavier Catholic School at a meeting held in the school Friday evening. The council will provide sponsorship for two basketball teams during the winter months and other sports events during the year.

Joseph Hess was named as vice president and George Evanko secretary-treasurer. G. Noel Flynn was named as coach, with Joseph Hess as assistant coach.

Start Monday

Plans outlined Friday evening call for a team comprising fifth and sixth grade students and a team comprising seventh and eighth grade students to be organized starting Monday evening. Students at the school planning to participate on the teams are to report in the auditorium-gymnasium at 3:30 o'clock — immediately after school closes.

The group plans to purchase a dozen new uniforms for the teams. This will mark the second year a St. Francis Xavier basketball team has been in operation. Last year the team, appearing for the first time, made a creditable showing in a short season.

G. Noel Flynn was named as representative to a league to be comprised of Annunciation School, McSherrytown; St. Joseph's and St. Vincent's schools, Hanover, and St. Francis Xavier School.

GAME IS CANCELLED

SLEEPY ROCK, Pa. (AP)—Slippery Rock and West Liberty today cancelled permanently their season finale football game on account of snow. Slippery Rock wound up the season with a 3-4 mark, and West Liberty showed a 3-4-1 log.

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and The Gettysburg Times

TEN YEARS AGO

Lloyd-Heller: The marriage of Miss Janet Louise Heller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ira W. Heller, Gardeners R. 2, and William G. Lloyd, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Lloyd, also of Gardeners R. 2, was solemnized Saturday evening in the parsonage of the Mt. Tabor United Brethren church. The Rev. Charles R. Miller, pastor, performed the single ring ceremony.

Miller-Brown: Claude Hartman Miller, formerly of Littlestown and Miss Anna Marie Brown, Littlestown, were united in marriage Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock in St. Paul's Lutheran church, Littlestown. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. D. S. Kammerer.

Catholic Veterans Boost Membership: The newly-organized Annunciation Post No. 372, Catholic War Veterans now has a membership of 102. It was announced at a meeting of the post on Wednesday in McSherrystown. Bernard I. Noel, commander, presided.

Elmer Warren Named Head Of County Bankers: Elmer W. Warren, trust officer of The First National Bank of Gettysburg, was elected president of the Adams County Bankers Association at the annual ladies night banquet of the organization Wednesday evening at the Hotel Gettysburg.

Mr. Warren succeeds Theron W. Spangler, assistant cashier and trust officer of the Littlestown National bank to the presidency. Mr. Spangler serves during the coming year as a member of the association's council of administration.

Other officers named at the business session Wednesday evening were: Vice president, Arnold E. Orner, cashier of the Ardenville National bank; treasurer, Robert W. Myers, cashier of the People's State Bank of East Berlin and secretary, Mrs. Helen C. Corbett, of the First National bank here.

Proposed Allied Group Control Production Of Atomic Energy: Washington Nov. 15 (AP)—Creation of a United Nations commission to control the threat of atomic production in the world was proposed by the United States, Great Britain and Canada as the best way to tackle the atomic energy problem.

President Truman and Prime ministers Attlee and Mackenzie King made this known in a joint communique on their three power talk.

County Woman Escapes Nazi Gestapo: Aids Underground, Oslo, Norway: An American girl who worked with the underground in Nazi-garrisoned Oslo, Norway, for six years has returned to the states to visit her mother. Mrs. Maxwell Barach, at The Old Stone House, near Zola. She escaped Nazi torture and life in a concentration camp only through the alertness of the Norwegian government. In return she worked diligently and faithfully with the underground to harass the German occupation force, help patriots escape to England and contributed much to the Allied cause.

Mrs. Jorgen Hartman is her married name. To the underground she was known only as "Grynet" which means, in Egyptian mythology, a "grain of wheat." Her husband's uncle Dr. Nils Bohr, prominent chemist, was spirited out of Oslo by the Allies and helped perfect the atomic bomb in this country.

First To Offer Draft Service Is Discharged: The first selective service draftee to leave local board No. 2, Gettysburg, for the army is back in civilian life after five years, lacking just a few days of service. He is William Sanford Eskridge, 39, who volunteered for the draft and entered service November 23, 1940.

Mr. Eskridge has returned to Gettysburg and for the present he is making his home at 60 York street.

One of three who boarded the bus for Harrisburg and the only one sent by the local board here, Eskridge was accepted for induction. His two companions from

Today's Talk

GREETINGS
I like the idea of greeting people at various times and on occasions. The morning greeting to the different members of one's family, those chance ones on the way to work, and then those throughout the day.

While waiting for my friend who has asked me to take luncheon with him at his club, I watch with interest the way the different men greet each other as they arrive for their midday meal. There is such a genuineness to men's handshake and greeting. The greeting is always half the joy of a meeting.

I can never forget my first visit to San Francisco. I walked out of my hotel and the first man I met bowed and wished me a "Good Morning!" That from a perfect stranger pleased me and made me like this beautiful city at once. I soon learned that there is a friendliness in this western part of the country that is inspiring. Many of the formalities are just dismissed. You feel at home in such a city.

It's the greeting that you get from a person whom you have never met that helps at once to form a good opinion of that one. First impressions are very important, and greetings have much to do with them.

Many a hero has returned to his home town to be greeted and honored. Such events prove to be an inspiration to all in that hero's home. Appreciation for fine deeds melts away all too soon — with all heroes.

I like the idea of greeting cards that have become so popular. It gives those who may be a trifle shy about personal writing the opportunity to send to another a sentiment happily suited to the particular occasion.

By greeting everyone else happily and sincerely, we add to our own well-being, as well as to theirs. "Good Morning!" "Good Night!" "Goodbye!" — what meaningful greetings!

Just Folks

JUST A BIT

A bit o' the rain and a bit o' the sun,
A bit o' earth's beauty wherever we go;
A little of leisure when all the work's done.

This is the most that we're ever to know.

A bit o' the blue and a bit o' the gray,
A touch o' the blither, a taste o' the sweet.

Some days to labor and some days to play.

This is the fate that we all have to meet.

A bit o' the laughter, a bit o' the woe,

A bit o' the play till the curtain shall fall.

Life has so much for us mortals to know.

That the most we can get is a bit of it all.

After being outfitted at Ft. Meade and training for four months at Carlisle Barracks, Eskridge spent most of his army career at Camp Carson, in the military police. He was not sent overseas. He says he spent most of his time in guarding prisoners.

Will Move Store: J. Calvin Shank, proprietor of the Gettysburg Hardware store, has leased the former People's Cash store room and will move his store to that location early in January. Mr. Shank is vacating his present quarters to make way for a remodeling and expansion program of the Legion Post.

Personal: Mr. and Mrs. Carl Martz, East Water street, were visitors in York Friday.

Capt and Miss James D. Fiscus, Baltimore, are spending the week end with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Johnston, Springs Avenue. Captain Fiscus is now on terminal leave from the army.

Mrs. Dunning Idle Sr. was elected vice president of the Central Pennsylvania conference of the Women's Society of Christian Service at a meeting held at Altoona last week.

Mrs. C. Harold Johnson entertained the members of the Bandwagon Club Friday evening at her home on East Broadway.

Dr. and Mrs. Carl C. Rasmussen are entertaining over the weekend at their home on Seminary Avenue. Mrs. Rasmussen's mother, Mrs. J. T. Sieber and her sister, Mrs. W. D. Saybolt, Drexel Hill; sister, Mrs. C. H. Yoder, Westfield N. J. and her brother, Hayes, Sieber, Lubbock, Texas.

DELINQUENT IN WITHHOLDING: PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Internal Revenue Service said yesterday that 1,400 employers in the Philadelphia area were delinquent in turning over withholding deductions for their employees' income tax and social security.

Federal A. McGinnis, district director of the Internal Revenue Service, said employers who continue not to pay money collected would be prosecuted. He said revenue agents will start calling on the employers next week to demand full payment.

NEW OXFORD HIGH YEARBOOK WINS STATE CONTEST

The New Oxford High School 1954 yearbook, the "Memento," was awarded first prize in a state wide yearbook and newspaper contest. Robert Broome, contest director of the Pennsylvania School Press Association, announced this week. This was the second consecutive year that the school has won first prize. In 1953 it won second prize.

Six hundred fifty books were entered in the contest by Pennsylvania schools. New Oxford won first prize with 976 points of a possible 1,000 in the contest held as part of the Pennsylvania School Press Association convention October 28 and 29 in Uniontown, Pa.

The book was 121 pages long with "Past, Present and Future" as the theme. John Haverstick was editor in chief; Kathryn Castellano, business manager; John Kratzert, class sponsor; Herbert Bryan, yearbook sponsor. Every member of the senior class was part of the production staff. The publisher was the Intercollegiate Press, Kansas City, Mo., and photography was done by Edmund's Studio, Hanover, and Dave's Photo Supply, Gettysburg.

The winning book also won "highest rating" at the annual national yearbook contest sponsored by the Journalism department of Ohio University, July 14.

Flood Reports Are Conflicting

CAMDEN, N. J. (AP)—The U.S. Army Engineers heard conflicting testimony yesterday that an increase in the depth of the Delaware River channel between Philadelphia and Trenton would create a dangerous flood situation and that it would reduce flood hazards.

The channel now is 25 feet in depth, according to the testimony. Harold J. Winkelspecht, chairman of the board of directors of the Delaware River Valley Assn., said an increase to a proposed 40 feet could produce a flood crest one to three feet higher "than we had in the past."

Winkelspecht warned that such a situation would be disastrous to river communities.

Thomas E. Bruder, consulting engineer for the Joint Executive Committee for the Improvement and Development of the Philadelphia Port Area, said a deeper channel would reduce flood hazards from hurricanes.

Bruder said a deeper channel would provide for more rapid discharge of storm waters below Trenton and therefore lower the flood crest rather than raise it.

EXPERTS PROBE PLANE CRASH

SEATTLE (AP)—The experts on sudden death met here today to begin the work of piecing together the broken fragments of a wrecked airliner and the stories of the people who saw it die.

Twenty-seven men died a fiery and horrible death when a big Penninsular Air Transport Co. plane bounced to explosive destruction early yesterday in the backyard of a suburban home. And 47 other persons, including a woman and three small children, survived.

It is upon the stories of the survivors and the few witnesses who watched the plane crack up out of a snowy sky that Civil Aeronautics Board investigators pin their hopes of solving the mystery.

There were some discrepancies in the accounts of eyewitnesses and men who were in the plane—as passengers or pilots. And the only sizable remaining piece of the once large DC4 is its tail surface, still resting in a charred backyard amidst a rubble of melted and twisted metal.

The investigators said they had no preconceived notions what caused the Miami-based plane to falter two miles south of Boeing Field, its takeoff point, hit a tree, a utility pole, and a garage and then break up and burn in the backyard of the Colin Dearing home.

Campbell Soup Co. Foresees Sharp Gains

CAMDEN, N. J. (AP)—Campbell Soup Co. expects sales records in the current fiscal year to be sharp. It ahead of last year's, its president said yesterday at Campbell's first public stockholders meeting in 35 years.

Campbell stock was privately held until a year ago. It now has more than 19,000 stockholders as the result of the first public offering of 1,300,000 common shares last November.

President William B. Murphy, who presided at the meeting, was not as optimistic about profits as sales.

"As to profits, he said, 'we do not care to make a prediction as to fiscal 1956, but you can be sure that your management is interested only in improving the company's business including its profits.'"

When President and Mrs. Eisenhower drove to Gettysburg on Monday to spend several weeks following the President's recent heart attack they were greeted by the above self-explanatory welcome which had been erected along the Emmitsburg Rd.

EDITORS SCORE WITH HOLDING OF NEWS FACTS

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—A resolution adopted by the Associated Press Managing Editors Assn., condemns governmental secrecy "that is withholding from American citizens facts about their own government that they are entitled to know."

The resolution says the APME "deplores the fact that Executive Order 10-501, promulgated in 1953 for the handling of material involving military security, still permits civilian agencies not entitled to these powers to exercise classifying authority, allows too large a delegation of power, sets up no adequate system of continuous review of classifying operations and provides no penalties for military or civilian abuse of classifying powers to conceal or withhold information that can be safely released."

Panel On Freedom

Approval of the resolution by voice vote, with a few dissents, came at the conclusion of a panel on freedom of information yesterday afternoon.

Rep. John E. Moss (D-Calif.) chairman of the House subcommittee on government operations, told the editors that secrecy in government goes beyond the right of a taxpayer to know how his money is spent.

Moss' subcommittee is charged with determining whether federal executive agencies are giving the public and news media "fullest possible information" about their activities.

Norman E. Isaacs of the Louisville Times presented the resolution on behalf of 20 managing editors. The signers included seven men who have served as president of APME. Five of the signers have served as head of Freedom of Information committees for APME, the American Society of Newspaper Editors or Sigma Delta Chi, professional journal fraternity.

Elected Officers

Elected president of the association for the next year was V. M. Newton, Jr., of the Tampa (Fla.) Tribune. The new vice president is Frank Eyerly of the Des Moines (Iowa) Register and Tribune. Coleman Harwell of the Nashville Tennessee was selected for secretary and Roderick Watts of the Houston (Tex.) Chronicle was named treasurer.

Chosen general chairman for the 1956 Continuing Study Committee was Michael J. O'Quinn of the Providence (R.I.) Journal and Bulletin. John Colburn of the Richmond (Va.) Times Dispatch was picked for general vice chairman of the committee.

The directors decided to hold the association's 1955 convention at French Lick, Spang, Ind. They had agreed in former years that the 1956 meeting would be held at Philadelphia and the 1957 session at New Orleans.

COLUMBIA PROF DIES

SULTAN SEEKS FRENCH PACT

RABAT, French Morocco (AP)—Sultan Mohammed Ben Youssef today began looking for a Cabinet to negotiate a new pact with Paris to replace the 33-year-old protectorate over French Morocco.

In his speech from the throne yesterday, after two years' exile, the Sultan promised to direct the formation of such a government.

Mohammed Bekkai, long the Sultan's representative, said the first step would be to act on the resignation of the four-man council of the throne formed shortly before Ben Youssef's return.

Ben Youssef told 70,000 cheering Moroccans outside his palace during the throne speech that the negotiations would be one of the new government's main jobs. The talks are expected to take place in Paris and may last many months.

Among the main questions is whether Morocco will handle its own foreign and defense affairs or leave them in French hands.

IKE CHANGES NLRB MAKEUP

WASHINGTON (AP)—The National Labor Relations Board appeared headed today down the middle of the road in its administration of the Taft-Hartley labor law.

This emerged as the significance of a change President Eisenhower made yesterday in the board's leadership and in his selection of a fifth member of the panel.

He picked Boyd Leedom, 49, an NLRB member since last April, to be the new chairman. Leedom is a former justice of the South Dakota Supreme Court.

And Eisenhower reached into the ranks of NLRB examiners to pick Stephen S. Bean, 63, to fill a vacancy left when the term of Guy Farmer expired several months ago. Leedom and Bean are Republicans.

Chairman Is Surprise

Leedom's selection as chairman came as a surprise because Eisenhower had passed over Philip Ray Roderick, senior Republican on the board and acting chairman since Farmer had resigned.

In addition to Republicans Leedom, Bean and Koza, the board includes Abe Mardock, a former Democratic senator from Utah, and Ivar H. Peterson, former assistant to Sen. Morse (D-Ore.) Peterson describes himself as a political independent.

Committee To Ask Temporary Service

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP)—A mayor's fact-finding committee on the seven-month-old Scranton transit strike decided yesterday to renew its demand that the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission provide temporary bus service to Scranton and Lackawanna County.

The decision was made after striking workers failed to attend a meeting of the seven-man committee and did not offer a proposal for settlement of the strike. The Scranton Transit Co. previously made a wage increase offer of 12 cents an hour.

Mayor James T. Hulton's committee said it will visit PUC officers at Harrisburg next week to ask again for bus service.

ARGENTINES GET FREER PRESS UNDER NEW RULE

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—The week-old provisional government of Maj. Gen. Pedro Aramburu apparently is making sweeping moves to revive freedom of the press in Argentina after the tight controls of Peronism.

These are the steps already taken:

By decree, Aramburu yesterday wiped out the presidential press office, the big 1,400-man organization which under former President Juan Peron fed a steady stream of propaganda to newspapers, magazines, radio, television, and movies.

This was followed by a declaration from Subsecretary of the Interior Carlos Manuel Muniz that the government is seeking a "prompt solution" of the La Prensa case. That big, independent newspaper—a strong critic of Peronism—was expropriated in 1951 and turned over to the pro-Peron General Confederation of Labor.

Then the government announced it was lifting immediately its temporary administration intervention from the Socialist newspaper La Vanguardia and that the newspaper El Norte in Salta Province had resumed publication.

El Norte was closed Wednesday by the authorities and its editor, Luis Giacosa, was arrested for supporting an outlawed three-day general strike called by the CGT.

All Brotherhood Officers Re-elected

HARRISBURG (AP)—All officers of the Harrisburg Diocesan Assembly of the Brotherhood of Saint Andrew were re-elected at the annual meeting of the group here last night.

Renamed to office and installed by the Rev. Allen R. Day, pastor of Mt. Calvary Episcopal Church, Camp Hill, were:

Kefauver Accuses National Body Of Favoring Stevenson

CHICAGO (AP)—Sen. Estes Kefauver says the Democratic National Committee has favored Adlai E. Stevenson's candidacy for the Democratic presidential nomination.

The Tennessee senator's verbal blast came at a news conference yesterday after his arrival for the current three-day meeting of party leaders.

Paul Butler, national committee chairman, denied Kefauver's charges.

Kefauver's accusations, made while other prospective candidates were going around shaking hands,

Reports Pending Strike With PRR

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The CIO Transport Workers Union says it has refused to accept a presidential emergency board's findings on its dispute with the Pennsylvania Railroad and "there's a definite possibility there will be a strike."

Eugene V. Attreed, director of the union's railroad division, said last night: "We are back where we started."

Representatives of the union and the PRR will meet here Tuesday to discuss the board's recommendations on a health and welfare fund, holiday pay and work classifications.

The union will be free to strike after Friday, under provisions of the National (Railroad) Labor Act, which provides for a 60-day "cooling off" period after a board is named. Attreed said no strike date has been set.

The union claims to represent 22,560 nonoperating PRR employees.

NEW YORK (AP)—A three-cent-a-pound drop in the wholesale price of Chock Full O'Nuts Coffee will go into effect Monday in southern New Jersey, New England, Pennsylvania and Delaware.

The announcement was made by the firm yesterday.

president; the Rev. Clarence C. Reimer, Bellefonte, chaplain; Andrew Hays, Camp Hill, vice-president; and Hubert Elwyn Thornber, Harrisburg, secretary-treasurer.

held chief attention temporarily. But he will share the spotlight tonight with Stevenson and Gov. Averell Harriman of New York at a $100-a-plate dinner.

Former President Harry S. Truman, who could have much to say about the selection of a nominee at the Democratic National Convention next August, also will address the diners.

2,500 Reservations
Stevenson, the only declared candidate for the nomination, is scheduled to speak at 11:15 p.m. EST. His address will be carried by NBC and ABC radio and television networks.

More than 2,500 reservations, spokesman said, have been made for the dinner winding up a three-day party rally.

Kefauver's remarks at the news conference overshadowed most other political talk yesterday. He stated that telegrams of greetings to local Democratic meetings, signed off with Stevenson's name, had been sent from national committee headquarters in Washington.

"It's not proper for the national committee to espouse the candidacy of any one person," Kefauver said. "In times past there is evidence that they have been trying to help Mr. Stevenson."

Not A Candidate

Harriman insisted to newsmen he is not a candidate, although he is expected to be the "favorite son" of the big New York delegation to the convention.

At Austin, Tex., the office of Sen. Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex.) said the senator has "absolutely no plans to make any announcement as a presidential candidate." The statement came after a Houston friend, R. Vernon Whiteside, told the Houston Chronicle that Johnson would enter the race for the Democratic nomination for president today.

Kefauver, who reported he will announce his 1956 plans Dec. 16 or 17, spoke with the air of a man who already had made up his mind. And he talked of the possibility of entering specific primaries with an indication, if he runs, he will make a fight of it on a wide battleground.

GOP MAY BACK LEADER'S NEW TAX MEASURE

HARRISBURG (P)—Sen. Mahany, Senate Republican floor leader, said Friday the GOP may provide the necessary votes to pass Gov. Leader's proposed manufacturers' excise levy.

"This hidden sales tax is a face-saving device on the part of the governor who has always said he opposed a sales tax," he said in an interview. "At this point, however, we might be able to support it."

Mahany said he was withholding complete endorsement until he had an opportunity to examine the details of the tax bill which the governor said will be submitted to the House next Monday.

Leader disclosed to his news conference Thursday that the administration is limiting its new tax program to the manufacturers' levy, possibly at a 3 or 4 per cent rate.

Income Tax Abandoned
A tentative proposal for a personal net income tax, subject to exemptions and deductions as allowed under federal law was abandoned for the time being, Leader said.

He said the income tax could not be ruled out completely as could no other tax while the legislature continued its long tax impasse.

The governor's previous proposal for a classified income tax was defeated by Republican senators in August. In its place, the GOP has suggested a 2 per cent sales tax.

Sen. Pechan (R-Armstrong) also said he could see himself in the position of voting for a manufacturers' excise levy but wouldn't commit himself finally until he saw the bill.

If the GOP went along with the manufacturers' levy, it would knock down speculation that Democrats were seeking to use opposition to that type of levy to obtain Republican backing for an income tax.

Rep. Smith, House Republican floor leader, said the proposed manufacturers excise tax "is nothing but a hidden sales tax."

"The governor," Smith said in a statement, "seems ready to do almost anything to avoid admitting he made a mistake when he campaigned last year on a pledge of 'death to the sales tax and death to any wage tax.'"

BURGOYNE, GOP OFFICIAL, DIES

HARRISBURG (P)—Arthur G. Burgoyne, former deputy secretary of revenue, and long-time Republican political figure in Pennsylvania, died Friday at Harrisburg Hospital of a heart ailment. He was 71.

Burgoyne, a native of Pittsburgh, worked on Pittsburgh newspapers for a number of years before entering state service in 1939 as public relations director in the Revenue Department during the administration of former Gov. Arthur H. James. He was later advanced to deputy secretary of the department with expanded duties.

Assisted Horst
Since the Leader administration assumed office in January, Burgoyne had been assistant to Miles Horst, Republican state chairman. Burgoyne, who was a graduate of the University of Pittsburgh Law School, served as adviser in Republican party strategy during successive GOP campaigns during his period of service in Harrisburg.

He is survived by his widow and one son, Arthur G. Burgoyne Jr., Lancaster.

RISE SAYS OPERA IS TOUGH BUT SHE LOVES IT

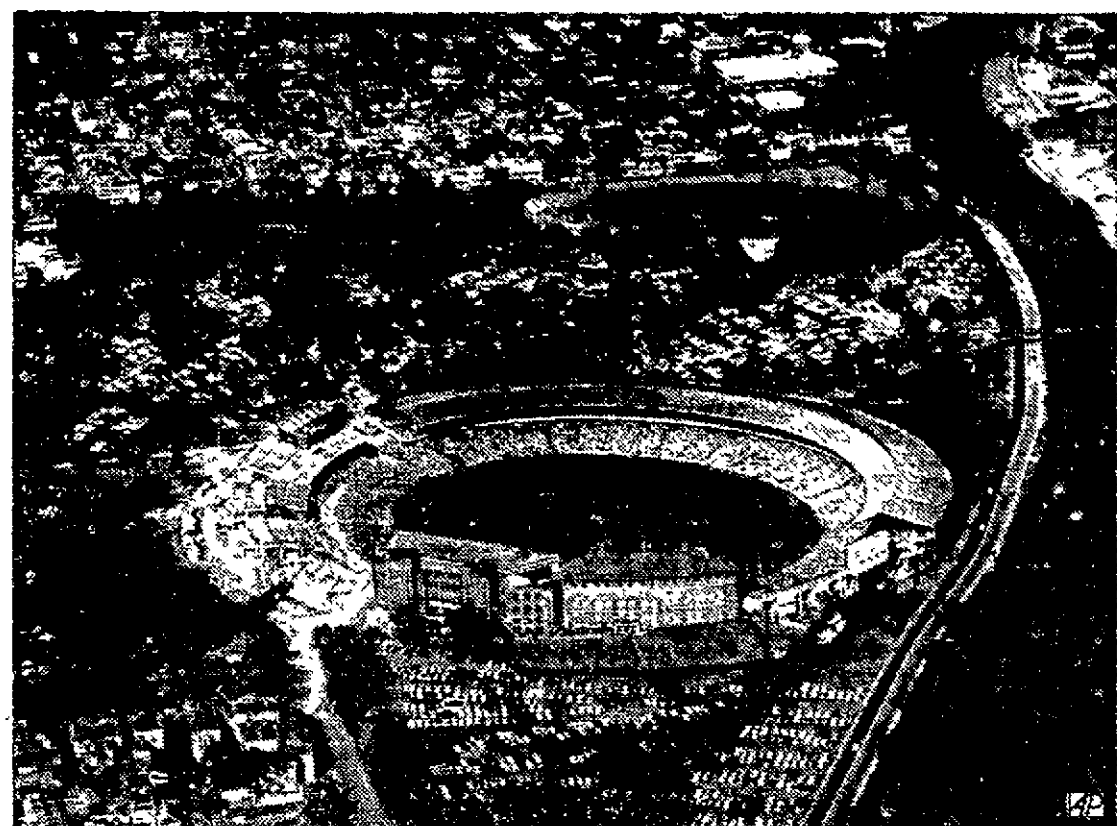

NEW YORK (AP)—Father pumped the player piano, squeak-squeak-squeak, and pretty daughter stood up and sang for him—thus was launched right here in the family parlor the career of the Metropolitan Opera's glamorous redhead Rise Stevens.

"Then mother took over," Miss Stevens says, with a crinkly-eyed wide smile and a waggle of her long slim fingers.

It was mother who, after 10-year-old Rise (two syllables, Rees-suh) had practiced "When Irish Eyes are Smilin'" tucked the child's hand in hers and led her off to an audition for Milton Cross' "Children's Hour," a radio program on which the young miss was heard solo for two or three years.

Did Modeling Stint
Then Miss Stevens was graduated from high school. Next for a year she was a model—it isn't only Met audiences that think the Stevens mezzo comes in an irresistible packaging job. Now it was the mother's turn, and she really wanted her daughter to go on the stage.

"I wanted it, too," says Miss Stevens. "I used to daydream about the theater in high school."

ARENA FOR 1956 OLYMPIAD—This is an aerial view of stadium in Melbourne, Australia, where 1956 summer Olympic Games will be held. Arena is known as Melbourne Cricket Ground. Construction at left will enlarge seating capacity to 110,000 from present 85,000. Athletes will assemble in football grounds, rear, for opening and closing ceremonies.

But the next move committed her to opera. An advertisement called for candidates for the New York Opera Comique; Miss Stevens tried for it, made it, graduated from chorus to small roles in light opera like "The Bartered Bride" and "Fledermaus."

Juilliard Hears Voice
Now for the first time Miss Stevens, who had been seen by people who could see, was heard by people who could hear, in particular by Mme. Schoen-Rene, a teacher at the Juilliard, who took Miss Stevens on as a private pupil and then transferred her to the school. The rest of the story is operatic history—study in Europe, triumphs there, and then the Met contract, which dates from 1939.

So the old player piano paid off, and Miss Stevens has progressed from "Irish eyes are smilin'" to Carmen, Rosenkavalier, Mignon, Delilah, Hansel, Orfeo in this country and abroad; to film successes like "The Chocolate Soldier" and "Going My Way" and to radio and TV. The days of singing for free on "Children's Hour" or any other program are gone for good.

No complaints?
"I love it," Miss Stevens exclaims. "I love it all!"

But it's a lot of work?

Plays New Role

To prepare for a new role, that of Juliette in Offenbach's "Les Contes d'Hoffman" for the Met's gala opening a couple of weeks ago, Miss Stevens had to learn her part before the three-week rehearsal period began. In the summer while she was theoretically on vacation she did some research—it was painful but still it was research—in Venice on fashions in costumes and in gondolas. Back in New York in October and November, she had fittings for shoes and for costumes, and sittings for photos; she has rehearsed a couple of times a day; and she really had a job done on her hair; it was bleached and then re-dyed "a pink, a red, almost a carrot red," as she describes it.

This season in the Met where she first went as a standee she will appear almost 40 times, and will be speeding in and out of town all winter for shorter and longer tours.

Loves The Panic

"But I love it all," she reiterates—even when the tenor has a cold and passes it around the company, even when there's all the bother about hair, even though it isn't the stage for which her mother planned. She doesn't forget her love for it even in the panicky hours she endured this summer when she, and her husband, in Athens, where she was singing in the festival, had no

Morocco Nears End Of 43-Year French Rule

RABAT, French Morocco (AP)—Sultan Mohammed Ben Youssef announced Friday the approaching end of the French protectorate in Morocco.

He told a wildly cheering crowd before his palace he had reached agreement with the French government on "essential principles," which would open a new era of freedom for Morocco.

His eldest son Prince Hassan, who acts as his political adviser, quoted him as saying: "We are glad to announce the end of the period of protectorate and guardianship."

There were differences of interpretation about what the Sultan meant by this statement. The protectorate, established in 1912, cannot be ended except in agreement with France.

The Sultan spoke to about 70,000 during celebrations of the 28th anniversary of his accession to the throne. He returned to Morocco only two days ago after more than two years of exile.

word for hours and hours from their young son, off too long and out of reach on a skin-diving expedition on a friend's yacht. He was perfectly safe all the time, but Miss Stevens had to wait desperately long, indeed till an hour before curtain time, to learn it.

Thanksgiving Proclamation

"Since the Pilgrim Fathers celebrated the first Thanksgiving Day at Plymouth in 1621, a deep sense of gratitude to Almighty God for His endless gifts to us has been a basic and abiding influence on our lives.

"Those early settlers at harvest time offered their thanks for God's gifts to them, the simple gifts of food, shelter, and safety. Today at harvest time we acknowledge much more. We see the fruition of their hopes for freedom—to live, to work, to worship, in a land of opportunity for all. At harvest time let us come with humble grateful hearts to give thanks to the Giver of these gifts.

"In this time of tension and strife, it is more than ever necessary to remember the myriad blessings given us and render fervent thanks to God. It is from Him that we receive the strength we need to face the day and the hope we must have to meet the future.

"In keeping with the heart-warming spirit of Thanksgiving, November has been chosen as RELIGION IN AMERICAN LIFE month, a time for us to seek our God anew in personal, community, and national life. In a like spirit our four great religious faiths have put special emphasis on the need to provide our fellow men overseas with the clothing, food, and funds for reconstruction and rehabilitation which they need so much.

Let us give generously at Thanksgiving, grateful that we have so much to give.

"NOW, THEREFORE, I, George M. Leaddy, Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, do hereby proclaim Thursday, November 24, as a legal holiday and as a day of thanksgiving in this Commonwealth. I urge my fellow citizens to observe this day in their homes, communities, and churches in a spirit of reverent thankfulness for the countless blessings that Divine Mercy has granted us.

"FURTHERMORE, I request that the Flag of the United States and the Flag of Pennsylvania be displayed from all appropriate places as symbols of our loyalty and devotion to the ideals of liberty, justice, and equal opportunity as exemplified by our nation and our commonwealth."

ARGENTINE MEAT PACKERS FOREGO GENERAL STRIKE

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—Thousands of Argentine workers returned to their jobs Friday after their union leaders called off a faltering general strike, giving the five-day-old government a victory in the first major challenge to its authority.

The meatpacking industry—long a stronghold of the labor followers of exiled President Peron, and the industry chiefly affected by the strike—reported plants fully operating again after three days of partial or complete shutdown. Absenteeism at the packing plants had ranged from 80 to 100 per cent during the strike, but was negligible Friday on early shifts.

Announcement that the General Confederation of Labor (CGT) Peronista leaders "resolved unanimously to cease immediately" the three-day walkout came after they met with Labor Minister Raul Milgone. These leaders were deposed by the government when they ordered the strike.

Attempted A Discredit

CGT, mainstay of the toppled dictator Juan D. Peron, called the strike in an obvious attempt to discredit the provisional government headed by Maj. Gen. Pedro Aramburu while it was new and untitled. The strike knocked out some key industries such as meat packing but "free laborers" in the transportation and communications industries defied the strike call.

Weather Forecast

Extended forecast for Saturday, Nov. 19, through Wednesday, Nov. 23:

Eastern Pennsylvania, eastern New York and Midatlantic states: Temperature will average 3-5 degrees below normal south and 5-10 degrees below normal north, rather cold over weekend, warmer Monday and Tuesday, colder Wednesday, rain or snow south Sunday, ending early Sunday, snow north Saturday night and Sunday, rain south and rain or snow north Tuesday or Wednesday, total precipitation around 1 inch.

Western Pennsylvania, western New York, Ohio and West Virginia: Temperature will average 3-5 degrees below normal south and 5-10 degrees below normal north, rather cold Saturday and Sunday, warmer Monday, turning colder late Tuesday and Wednesday, snow beginning south Saturday and north Saturday night or Sunday, rain or snow about Tuesday, total precipitation 1-2 inch.

When the Mackinac Straits Bridge between Michigan's upper and lower peninsulas is completed in 1957, it will have a suspension span rated as the longest in the world.

Trichon Will Filed In Probate Court

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Members of the family of the late Herman A. Trichon, founder and head of the Clearfield (Pa.) Sportswear Co. for 42 years until his retirement recently, will share his estate estimated at $200,000 in a will filed for probate here yesterday.

Trichon, who lived in Philadelphia at the time of his death, died here Nov. 6 at the age of 65.

Trichon's widow, the former Clara Kaplan, will receive at least $30,000 annually from a trust fund and the right to dispose of the principal at the time of her death.

The residue was left in trust with $50 weekly going to a sister, Mrs. Ida Nusbaum, and the rest divided in four equal parts. One part goes to a son, Edward, another part to grandchildren, Donalene and Ronald J. Trichon, a third part to a daughter, Sonia, and the fourth to a granddaughter, Barbara Wortel.

Expert Says Bulky Parts Of Auto Will Be Smaller

By FREDERICK C. RUSSELL

Don't let those neglected headlights on your car be another one of those glaring mistakes.

Your automobile may be a great package of transportation but some of its parts are becoming smaller, and the prediction is that within a few years many bulky units will be reduced to midget proportions.

Use of transistors instead of tubes for the car's radio make this unit more compact and lighter. For several years we have had a much lighter radiator core due to changes in engine design and use of better cooling system controls. Wheels have been growing smaller as roads have improved and the need for clearance lessened.

Newest is the nickel-cadmium battery which takes up much less space than the conventional battery. Some important changes are said to lie ahead in carburetion, and it is a foregone conclusion that the bulky air cleaner will have to be cut down to size. Once it was considered highly important to have an extremely heavy flywheel, otherwise the engine's shaft could not be smoothly rotated. But multicylinder design provided extra impulses on the crankshaft, and a light flywheel resulted.

Invites Cooling Trouble

All that bouncing over rough roads on your autumn trip may be one reason why the cooling system will need considerable attention before cold weather comes along. Shake up the engine block and you are certain to disturb accumulated scale and sediment. This gets into circulation and, passing into the radiator, promptly clogs the core. All of this effect is greatly aggravated by high speed. Owners of cars with automatic drives will also find that such scale will be stirred up and driven into circulation not merely at higher speeds but also at low speeds if acceleration is overdone.

What to do if ethylene glycol antifreeze should lead into the engine has been greatly simplified by use of butyl cellosolve as a means of freeing sticking parts. Mechanics use a 50 per cent solution of this chemical with light engine oil. About a half pint of the solution is put into each cylinder through the spark plug holes and allowed to remain overnight. The engine is then run for several hours with the car out in the open. If, however, the engine is too badly gummed up it may be necessary to remove parts and soak them in the solution.

Mechanic Joe Speaking:

"Not one motorist out of a thousand ever stops to consider that the modern pressure cap atop the radiator may need attention, so it isn't any wonder that many engines are not enjoying the benefit of pressure cooling or are even being handicapped by the system because of faulty operation of the valves in this little cap. Dirt is the main reason for such valve failure. Occasionally the cap should be given a careful washing to remove all dirt and scum. Purpose of one valve in the cap is to relieve pressure when the cooling system heats up and is being activated by the water pump. The other valve takes care of the vacuum effect within the system when the engine cools off."

Among the many trends in motordom currently changing the picture few are more interesting than the introduction of controls to help the driver gain mastery over his car when there is absence of light. While there are guide lights to help operators find various positions of the selector lever for automatic transmission, for instance, many drivers rely on the feel of the lever as it passes through notches. There is clicking of the directional signals to advise the driver that his signalling is functioning so that he need not consider the flasher. And now we have a key case which automatically pops out the right key when he merely touches Braille-like releasing tabs on its cover. Signal seeking radios are also an aid to easier operation.

Nostalgia By Gasoline

Old timers, and new blood that has taken an active interest in antique automobiles, may also recently have seen advertised some very fine cars of yesterday. Among those that caught my eye were Velle, Anderson, Moline-Knight, Mercer, McIntyre (a 2 cylinder job), Liberty, Silver Ghost, Stearns-Knight, Alco and the Raunch-Long—a 1912 electric job which now sells for $1,000.

In your efforts to keep the car looking presentable you may be interested in the method used by a friend of mine with notable success. He likes to keep shiny parts looking shiny, of course, but he tries to concentrate on making them look less glaring. That section of the rear bumper nearest the tail pipe is a case in point. Exhaust gases are likely to darken the bumper and damage its chrome plating. After every long drive he is careful to wipe off this section of the bumper. He keeps it polished and well waxed. Then there are the window sills. He knows that they can become worn with constant rubbing of coat sleeves. These sills he waxes heavily. He is careful, too, to clean around the fenders near the wheels. Fender edges here often become rusty. They should be polished, waxed, and touched up with paint if rust begins.

I haven't tried it as yet but the trade is talking about a simple way to get rid of static shock in some cars. The trick is to paint a fairly narrow strip of gasket forming material on the car side of one of the tires running from the rim to a point near the center of the tread. Then you blow some powdered graphite on the strip. This forms a simple ground for the static.

With such efficient braking and everything to favor good visibility owners of newer cars find it no special problem to stop when the occasion demands. But the question always is what will happen to the rear of the car. Will the fellow behind be able to stop as quickly? Experienced drivers find it desirable to make the first phase of the slow-down rather abrupt. This puts the driver behind on his guard. Then complete the stop more gradually so that he has time to act and try to leave a margin of safety ahead so that you can pull up a bit if he is really pressed.

A test shows that the fuel pump pressure is a little under five pounds on my car. Is this too high? The service manual recommends 4½ pounds, N. T.

A. The five pound figure is all right but pressure must not exceed this on the particular type engine.

Q. When cold weather arrives should the oil-bath type air cleaner have heavier or light oil? R. R. L.

A. We are coming into the season when lighter oil is needed in the cleaner. Do not overfill. After cleaning the mesh and drying it do not apply oil to the mesh itself.

Q. There is quite a rattling noise in the engine of my car. I have been told that it is due to a loose manifold heat control valve. Can't anything be done about this? G. H. W.

A. When carbon accumulates around the valve it will tighten. In fact, you may need to put penetrating oil on it later on to keep it from binding. Meanwhile you may be able to check the rattling by providing temporary tightening of the shaft. Mechanics know some simple and effective tricks for this.

Q. I have been troubled with a thumping sound in my car. All tires have been balanced. I got the noise even on a smooth road. N. L.

A. This could be due to an eccentric wheel. But the chances are that this is a tire thump. The fact that you say you notice an increase in the thumping, and sometimes a decrease, without the car changing speed, further hints of this.

Q. For some time I have been trying to check a noisy hydraulic valve lifter in the engine of my car. Have used special oils and have made sure to give the car a good work-out on the open road. The next step seems to be to replace the lifters. Have you any suggestions? G. McB.

A. It might be a good idea to check other parts of the valve mechanism. Lifters often are blamed for defects in other parts. In a recent case it was found that the clicking was caused by a valve spring. The valves themselves are capable of quite a variety of noises.

Q. What is wrong when a power-operated window is slow going down? The system on my car is a combination of electric and hydraulic power. The pump seems to be working hard when the window is going up but the up speed is much faster than the down. J. J. D.

A. On this system the down travel of the window is by spring tension. I think you will find that the slow travel up as well as down is due to the glass binding in the window channels. Remedy is a matter of freeing the glass.

PAPER CLAIMS YOUTH DENIES PLANE BLAST

DENVER (AP)—John Gilbert Graham flatly denies planting a bomb on the airliner that crashed and killed his mother and 43 other passengers, the Rocky Mountain News said Friday.

Federal authorities announced Monday that Graham, 23, had signed a "written admission." But the newspaper in a copyrighted interview quoted Graham as saying:

"Yes, I signed a statement. But it's not true. They told me they were going to put my wife in jail, and I'd better get it straightened out myself."

Asked by reporter Al Nakkula if he meant FBI agents had used duress—kept questioning him until he confessed—Graham answered:

"Well, they started about noon. Q. If the brakes fail and the pedal goes to the floor is there any point in trying to stop by pumping on the pedal? H. R. McV.

A. Yes. If the trouble is loss of brake fluid you can build up some air pressure by rapid pumping. It is always worth trying.

Mr. Russell will answer questions regarding the safe care and operation of your car. Just address him at 254 Fern St., West Hartford 7, Conn., and enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope for a personal reply. There is no charge.

that Sunday and didn't stop until I signed a confession about 4 a.m. the next morning. Oh, they took me out for dinner once and gave me drinks of water and such. . . .

Postpone Arraignment

Graham appeared briefly in court yesterday. His arraignment was postponed until Nov. 28 to allow him to retain counsel. He is charged with murder in the death of his mother, Mrs. Daisie King, 54.

She was among passengers of a United Air Lines DC6B that crashed Nov. 1 near Longmont, Colo., killing all aboard.

In the Rocky Mountain News interview Graham was asked if he put either a present or a bundle of dynamite in his mother's luggage.

"I didn't put anything in her luggage," Graham replied. "I only bought some straps to put around the luggage. The hinges on the suitcase were breaking. I don't want to discuss the present."

Graham said he doesn't "have any theories as to the cause of the crash or what happened."

DEATHS

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

NEW YORK—James Price Johnson, 61, one of the pioneers of modern jazz piano playing and composer whose best hit songs included "Old Fashioned Love," "Don't Cry, Baby," "Charleston," and "If I Could Be With You," died for probate here Thursday.

Virginia has 4,091 miles of railroad.

State Liquor Board Suspends 4 Licenses

HARRISBURG (AP)—The State Liquor Control Board Thursday suspended these licenses effective Dec. 13, for the reasons it cited:

Mauch Chunk Lodge 1045, Loyal Order of Moose, Inc., Jim Thorpe, 10 days; sales to non members. Joseph and Rose McCarthy, Gilberton, 15 days; Sunday sales and sales during prohibited hours. Mary Fullis, Fullis Cafe, Girardville, 15 days; sales to minors. George Laconis, Girardville, 15 days; permitted minors to frequent and sales to minors.

Ed Mathews of Milwaukee has 153 home runs in four seasons in the National League. It took Mel Ott six seasons to reach that figure.

DRAFTEES TO BE SCREENED TO WEED RISKS

WASHINGTON (AP)—A new military policy aims at weeding out security risks before they are drafted into the Army, thus sparing them the stigma of a less than honorable discharge.

The new directive from Secretary of Defense Wilson came yesterday in the midst of a sharply critical Senate investigation of the Army security program for uniformed personnel.

Sen. Hennings (D-Mo) said the inquiry by his Senate subcommittee on constitutional rights "probably had something to do" with the new procedure.

Hails New Plan
Though Hennings said the directive might not go quite far enough, he hailed it as a move to "restore constitutional rights to large numbers who under present regulations would receive security risk discharges."

Wilson has been invited to testify before the subcommittee Monday.

The new directive orders the armed services to make security investigations of draftees before their induction, instead of afterward as at present. It directs that a man shall be taken into service unless this would be clearly inconsistent with national security.

Such a draftee would have the right to an honorable discharge if his conduct in two years of active duty merits one.

In the past, the United States often has been without a president for brief periods, notably when inauguration day was March 4 and fell on a Sunday which sometimes meant that one president went out of office at midnight March 3 and another was not sworn in until March 5.

BIG REDS TOUR HISTORIC SPOTS

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Russia's Premier Nikolai Bulganin and Communist party boss Nikita S. Khrushchev viewed New Delhi's famous historic spots today.

A sightseeing tour on the second day of their 18-day state visit to India also gave the Soviet leaders an opportunity to pay homage to Mahatma Gandhi, whom the Soviet Union once termed "reactionary."

Today's crowds were more modest than the throngs on hand to greet the Russian visitors yesterday. Prime Minister Nehru did not accompany them on their three-hour tour.

Front pages in all New Delhi newspapers today were filled with reports of the "unprecedented" welcome given the Soviet leaders.

Navy Will Ask For More Atomic Subs

WASHINGTON (AP)—A prediction the Navy soon will ask Congress to authorize construction of nine more atomic powered submarines came today from Sen. Jackson (D-Wash.).

Two such underwater craft—the Nautilus and the Sea Wolf—have been built. Two others are under construction and four more have been authorized.

Jackson, chairman of the Senate House Atomic Energy subcommittee on military applications, said in an interview his forecast was based on something he had learned, plus the "impressive showing" of the Nautilus. Jackson did not go into detail on what he had learned.

Suomi College in Michigan claims to be the only Finnish-American institution of higher learning in the United States.

G-BURG COLLEGE THESPIANS GIVE OLD THRILLER

The Owl and Nightingale Players of Gettysburg College closed its second showing of "Ladies In Retirement" by Edward Percy and Reginald Denham before a full house in Brua Hall Thursday evening. It was the first production of the dramatic season under the direction of Dr. Richard A. Arms.

A credible Leonora Fiske was enacted by Sylvia Fenstermacher, a senior, who caught every nuance of the role, from the raising of an eyebrow to the excited anticipation of opening a bottle of champagne.

Miss Fiske, described as a superstitiously religious old maid, lives alone in her home on the marshes of the Thames estuary about ten miles from Gravesend. The time is 1885. Miss Fiske's past is laid bare by the introduction of Albert Feather, her nephew, who is shiftless and irresponsible. A shady Feather is played by Barry Lane who has played in the college productions of "Ten Minute Alibi" and "Born Yesterday." Lane was the only member of the cast who attempted an English accent.

Joanne Banks played a dramatic, scheming Ellen Creed. Her two sisters were played by Barbara Leibholt and Pat Cross. Lynn Bonney played the role of Lucy Gilham, the maid. Marjorie Clayton played Sister Theresa, a nun from the priory.

Other members of the production were: Phelps Pennington, stage manager; James Krum, business manager; Betsy Owens, property chairman; Eunice Elwood, publicity chairman; Carolyn Clausen, costume chairman; Phyllis Hicks, makeup.

Other productions now under consideration for the coming year are:

Dealers To Support Driver-Training

Dave Oyler, president of Dave Oyler Motors, has returned from a meeting of the Safety Committee of the Pennsylvania Automotive Association held at the West Shore Country Club, near Harrisburg.

At the meeting Pennsylvania's new car dealers renewed their support of the driver-training program in the state's high schools, Oyler said. The pledge by the dealers followed a report by Ivan J. Stehman, chief of highway safety education for the state Department of Public Instruction. Stehman said there are 450 cars loaned by new car dealers to 517 of the 820 high schools in the state for driver training this year. Approximately 50,000 students are receiving the training.

"For Love Or Money" by F. Hugh Herbert, "The Caine Mutiny Court Martial," "Sabrina Fair" and "Dial M For Murder."

Gardners Girl Will Appear In Recital

Miss Shirley Heller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Heller, Gardners, will be the organist in a piano-voice-organ recital to be presented by Elizabethtown College students, Elizabethtown, Pa., at 8 p.m. Monday in Rider Memorial Chapel.

Miss Heller, a junior majoring in elementary education, is a member of the 250-voice chorus presenting Handel's "Messiah" at 2:30 p.m. Sunday, December 4, in the college auditorium.

Miss Heller receives her instruction in organ from Reginald Lunt.
